Thomas Doyle Working the Coxy Army Scheme Supposedly to Boom His Saloon Trade.

Columbia Club Adopts a Constitution and By-laws and Will Give a Ball Very Soon.

Good Templars Lodge Will Not Lose Its Charter, So L. E. Olson, of Minneapolis, Thinks.

An enterprising saloonkeeper and a half-dozen bar drummers have conspired to circulate the report that a branch detachment of Coxy's army is being recruited in West Duluth. The only portion of the story which is true is the sign which is posted on Thomas Doyle's saloon stating that recruits are wanted for the Coxy army. It is pretty generally believed that Thomas is emulating the example set by "Uncle" Hollman, of Duluth, and expects to work a revival of his bar trade through the medium of the Coxy army fad.

Columbia Club Meeting. The Columbia club held an important meeting last evening at Hurley's hall. The committee on constitution and by-laws made a report which was adopted. The committee on rooms have not yet secured permanent quarters and Hurley's hall will be used temporarily by the club. Arrangements are being made for a ball to be given in the near future. The regular meetings of the club will be held Friday evenings.

Will Not Lose the Charter. L. E. Olson, of Minneapolis, delivered an address at Good Templars hall on Saturday evening exonerating the lodge here from any blame through the Eck-and-ler letter and stating that he did not think there was any danger of the lodge losing its charter in connection with the matter. He will report the result of his investigations to the grand council for its decision.

CURES OTHERS. M. W. Scott, Esq., of the U. S. Marshall's Office, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "For many years my wife has been a constant sufferer from indigestion, etc. I have tried every treatment and all other complaints that the female sex is heir to, and after trying many remedies and doctors with but little or no relief, I persuaded her to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Remedy, and she was cured. I got one bottle each; and before she had used half of a bottle she felt that it was benefiting her, and she has continued to improve ever since, and now thinks it the most wonderful remedy on earth for her case, and recommends it to all suffering females. She has not been so well in ten years."

WHEAT WAS DULL TODAY.

The Usual Uninteresting Market Preceding Delivery Day.

There was a very dull and uninteresting wheat market here today, as usual before delivery day. There was hardly anything done in May, July or cash stuff. Only two trades in May were reported, the first late at 5c above Saturday's close, and the other at Saturday's last figure. The market grew firmer in the last hour and the close was 1/2c higher all round than Saturday. May deliveries were well aggregated 55,000 bu., less than was expected some time ago, large quantities having been changed over to July. Following were the close prices:

SEVENTY-FIFTH YEAR.

Odd Fellows Celebrated the Diamond Anniversary of Their Order at the Temple Last Evening.

Dr. Forbes Delivered an Earnest and Thoughtful Address on the Objects of Odd Fellowship.

He Had Something to Say of the Millionaires Who Indirectly Caused C. C. Merritt's Death.

The Odd Fellows of Duluth celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of the establishment of their order in America at the Temple last evening. The theater was packed to the doors. Odd Fellows and their families occupied the lower floor and city officials and men of prominence were scattered through the house.

The exercises opened with the singing of the ode "Brethren of Our Friendly Order" by the Odd Fellows. Rev. F. C. Southworth said the prayer. Mrs. Aspinwall and Miss Moak sang Faure's "Crucifixus."

T. W. Hugo, grand representative, welcomed the guests. It was hardly, he said, to tell the occasion for the celebration more than to say that it is the diamond anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America. Seventy-five years ago five Englishmen conceived the idea of starting the order in America; today it influences the lives of a million and a half of people. No progress or advancement has been made in the nation's welfare in the Odd Fellowship has not been in the van and exerted its influence. He referred to its attitude on the liquor question, it being the first order to entirely banish intoxicating liquors from the lodge rooms. It has raised the standard of woman, who only a few years ago was considered as a little better than an animal, but far inferior to the lord of creation, by admitting them to fellowship. It believes in God, but holds that he has no agent on earth, that nobody has got a "pull," but believes rather in a sensible religion. It has been the unwavering friend of the poor man and of all enterprise that would build up the lowly and elevate their lives as men. It wastes no time trying to make impossible men and women, but rather to make manly men and womanly women. It has never sought to make angels dwell here on earth for they would be of no use anyway. It thanked those present for their attendance.

Miss Mackey and Sydney Brown were heard in a piano and violin duet. Dr. Berio's "Norma" which was highly appreciated. They responded to an encore later by rendering in a magnificent manner Rossini's "William Tell." Miss Geraldine Moak sang "O Savior Hear Me" with fine effect.

Dr. Forbes' Address. Dr. Forbes delivered the address of the evening on "Odd Fellowship." "Odd Fellowship" was organized seventy-five years ago, said he. It is dedicated to friendship, love and truth. To visit the sick, to bury the dead, to care for the widows and the orphans, to make manly men and in general, to advance the physical, moral and intellectual welfare of men are its objects. It does not deal with the past or go into the future but only with the present. We are here, matters of when we came. We are going somewhere but for the present we are here. Odd Fellowship aims at touching life here and now. That which elevates man now, interweaves his life with the chances in the great hereafter. It aims at the development of manhood and womanhood and satisfaction in the life of the present. This feature is going on now. Theologians are taking a different tone in the pulpit today from what they did fifty years ago. Many of our men are afflicted with his physical blemish. That fact is recognized in the churches today and Odd Fellowship has done much toward curing the blemish in the mind in that direction. "If I were to go into one of our great cities as a missionary—and I can conceive of no higher calling among the poor and ignorant people I would not begin by praying, I would feed them. Physiologists say that man is born nineteen-twentieths stomach. Many men keep up the percentage, too, [Laughter].

Something Radically Wrong. "Be a friend to man rather than give him alms. Give him work and lift him up. Ordinarily this can be done but in times like these—the worst America has ever known—it is different, of course. I tell you there is something radically wrong when one man can live on $1,000.00 or more and another man not know where to get his breakfast. There is something radically wrong, I say and it must be remedied. The American people will remedy it I believe and do it right and Odd Fellowship will have a share in it. The way to train men is to cultivate their brains, that is the surest way out of the difficulty. Above all there is the moral nature and here where Odd Fellowship is doing a great work. What is the character of the manly man? He is honest, pays his bills and tells the truth—except about the population of his town. [Laughter] Beyond commercial integrity there are also elements that go to make the manly man. We cannot all be perfect. There never was but one and he was murdered before he was three years before the people.

FOR LESTER PARK HATCHERY.

Spawn Being Gathered at the Mouth of Pike River.

W. H. Morgan, of the United States fish commission, with several assistants, arrived in Tower the latter part of last week and immediately went up to the mouth of Pike river for the purpose of gathering spawn for the Lester Park hatchery. The gentlemen went up in boat from the mouth of East Two Rivers. Pike and pickerel are now on their way up streams and large numbers of boys and men have been along the river every day since the ice went out trying to spear a few. But no fish came up and the unlucky fishermen could not account for the scarcity until they went down to the mouth of the stream and discovered a net stretched across.

The state fish laws, says the Iron Journal, "are very strict in regard to netting fish and those who indulge in sport of this character are liable to arrest and fine. The state appropriates about $15,000 annually to the hatchery and the game and fish wardens appointed. So far in the history of unlawful fishing hunting in these parts no one has as yet been convicted. Why, with the large amount of territory adjacent to Tower we cannot have a game warden whose business it would be to watch for law breakers, we are at a loss to understand. There is no earthly reason why the wardens should all be located in St. Paul."

C. C. Merritt's Death. Dr. Forbes then spoke feelingly of the death of C. C. Merritt and his dying request to him to take up and forward a reception in the temperance cause, church, which he had planned to do himself. "Now I am going to say something to you, calmly and after reflection, not in heat or without consideration," he continued. "Had one of those New York millionaires met Cassius C. Merritt on the Mesaba range two years ago and shot him down in cold blood it would have been merciful compared to the manner in which his death was brought about. Cassius C. Merritt, Leonard Merritt, Alfred Merritt, any of that honored family, if chopping cordwood at $1 a day would be worth more to society and the world than any one of the millionaires who ruthlessly planned and carried through the scheme which brought him to his death."

In closing Dr. Forbes counseled the cultivation of friendship, love and truth. "He good, true and kindly to your fellow-men," he said.

Mrs. J. J. Aspinwall sang "Fear Ye Not O Israel" and was in excellent voice. The closing ode "Brethren We Thank You All" was sung by the Odd Fellows and Dr. Salter pronounced the benediction.

AMUSEMENTS.

Ellen Beach Yaw.

Miss Ellen Beach Yaw, who sings at the Temple tonight, arrived in the city this morning. Tonight she will be given a reception at the Spaulding at 10:30 o'clock, after the concert.

Miss Yaw's voice has been the wonder of the musical critics of the country. She is but 22 years of age, and yet she has attained a distinction never before attained by any of the present age. As Mozart went into a transport of joy over Lucie's Ariadne in 1770, because that talented prima donna sang a range of twenty-four notes with purity and sweetness, he would discover in Miss Yaw the prodigy of the present age. With a deeper and lower register than that of Ajajugi, Miss Yaw sings from below G below middle C to E flat above the sixth ledger line upon the same scale of purity of tone that is astounding.

Eight Bells. This well known pantomime comedy will be produced at the Temple Tuesday and Wednesday evenings with special reception of the present age. It is a famous Brothers Byrne. Everything new this season and Brothers Byrne have made an outlay of over $15,000 in production. The production is a splendid sample of stage mechanism, and there is a little bit of everything in the show.

LAKE VERMILION IS OPEN. Now Prepare for the Rush to Rainy Lake Gold Fields. The past week of sunshine has been a disastrous one for the remaining ice on Lake Vermilion, and by May 1 boats will be able to ply its waters with ease. All other lakes on the gold fields route are reported to be in a fair way for the running of boats about the first of this week. Parties contemplating an early visit to the Rainy Lake country should reach Tower not later than this week, as from all indications the rush after that date will be large. Many consequences opening in business in the near order, and they are the ones who will come early. Many others, from all over the Union, are anxious to reach the lake of gold to satisfy themselves of the truth of the statements made in regard to that country and look up chances for investment.

The trip can be attempted in less than ten days. At present boats are plying in the waters of Pike bay.

National Educational Meeting. The state committee on arrangements for the meeting of the Educational association met at the office of Superintendent Pendergast in St. Paul Saturday. Mr. Shepard was appointed to select headquarters for the Minnesota delegation at Ashbury park, where the meeting of the association will be held in July. Mr. Denfeld was appointed state manager and empowered to appoint local managers to arrange for parties for the trip. The Grand Trunk and Duluth railroads were selected as the official route for those wishing to go to the association by way of Chicago.

May. This month, the fifth in our calendar, was the third with the Romans. The origin of the name is somewhat doubtful, but the best etymology seems to show that it is derived from the goddess Maia, the mother of Mercury, that swift messenger of Jove. Though the Romans held many festivals in this month, in respect they deemed it to be unlucky to contract marriages in May. In our mother-in-law's England, from time immemorial, the first day of May has been a time for floral festivities, and innocent out-door jollity. During Cromwell's times the seven secretaries rejoicing the May-pole dance, and rejoicing, doing all they could to turn the world into what they declared it to be—a place of tears. Happily that day of prejudice and bigotry has passed, and we welcome the gift of flowers, as we should, a charming gift from the Creator. Travel in the North-west is never pleasanter than in this month, and no part of this section is more attractive than the beautiful valley of the Upper Mississippi. A journey along the east bank of this picturesque river, if taken in the elegant fast trains of the Burlington route, will always be a pleasant memory. For ticket maps and any information, apply to your local agent, or write to W. J. Kenyon, general passenger agent, St. Paul.

In our mother-in-law's England, from time immemorial, the first day of May has been a time for floral festivities, and innocent out-door jollity. During Cromwell's times the seven secretaries rejoicing the May-pole dance, and rejoicing, doing all they could to turn the world into what they declared it to be—a place of tears. Happily that day of prejudice and bigotry has passed, and we welcome the gift of flowers, as we should, a charming gift from the Creator. Travel in the North-west is never pleasanter than in this month, and no part of this section is more attractive than the beautiful valley of the Upper Mississippi. A journey along the east bank of this picturesque river, if taken in the elegant fast trains of the Burlington route, will always be a pleasant memory. For ticket maps and any information, apply to your local agent, or write to W. J. Kenyon, general passenger agent, St. Paul.

FOR LESTER PARK HATCHERY.

Spawn Being Gathered at the Mouth of Pike River.

W. H. Morgan, of the United States fish commission, with several assistants, arrived in Tower the latter part of last week and immediately went up to the mouth of Pike river for the purpose of gathering spawn for the Lester Park hatchery. The gentlemen went up in boat from the mouth of East Two Rivers. Pike and pickerel are now on their way up streams and large numbers of boys and men have been along the river every day since the ice went out trying to spear a few. But no fish came up and the unlucky fishermen could not account for the scarcity until they went down to the mouth of the stream and discovered a net stretched across.

The state fish laws, says the Iron Journal, "are very strict in regard to netting fish and those who indulge in sport of this character are liable to arrest and fine. The state appropriates about $15,000 annually to the hatchery and the game and fish wardens appointed. So far in the history of unlawful fishing hunting in these parts no one has as yet been convicted. Why, with the large amount of territory adjacent to Tower we cannot have a game warden whose business it would be to watch for law breakers, we are at a loss to understand. There is no earthly reason why the wardens should all be located in St. Paul."

C. C. Merritt's Death. Dr. Forbes then spoke feelingly of the death of C. C. Merritt and his dying request to him to take up and forward a reception in the temperance cause, church, which he had planned to do himself. "Now I am going to say something to you, calmly and after reflection, not in heat or without consideration," he continued. "Had one of those New York millionaires met Cassius C. Merritt on the Mesaba range two years ago and shot him down in cold blood it would have been merciful compared to the manner in which his death was brought about. Cassius C. Merritt, Leonard Merritt, Alfred Merritt, any of that honored family, if chopping cordwood at $1 a day would be worth more to society and the world than any one of the millionaires who ruthlessly planned and carried through the scheme which brought him to his death."

In closing Dr. Forbes counseled the cultivation of friendship, love and truth. "He good, true and kindly to your fellow-men," he said.

Mrs. J. J. Aspinwall sang "Fear Ye Not O Israel" and was in excellent voice. The closing ode "Brethren We Thank You All" was sung by the Odd Fellows and Dr. Salter pronounced the benediction.

AMUSEMENTS.

Ellen Beach Yaw.

Miss Ellen Beach Yaw, who sings at the Temple tonight, arrived in the city this morning. Tonight she will be given a reception at the Spaulding at 10:30 o'clock, after the concert.

Miss Yaw's voice has been the wonder of the musical critics of the country. She is but 22 years of age, and yet she has attained a distinction never before attained by any of the present age. As Mozart went into a transport of joy over Lucie's Ariadne in 1770, because that talented prima donna sang a range of twenty-four notes with purity and sweetness, he would discover in Miss Yaw the prodigy of the present age. With a deeper and lower register than that of Ajajugi, Miss Yaw sings from below G below middle C to E flat above the sixth ledger line upon the same scale of purity of tone that is astounding.

Eight Bells. This well known pantomime comedy will be produced at the Temple Tuesday and Wednesday evenings with special reception of the present age. It is a famous Brothers Byrne. Everything new this season and Brothers Byrne have made an outlay of over $15,000 in production. The production is a splendid sample of stage mechanism, and there is a little bit of everything in the show.

LAKE VERMILION IS OPEN. Now Prepare for the Rush to Rainy Lake Gold Fields. The past week of sunshine has been a disastrous one for the remaining ice on Lake Vermilion, and by May 1 boats will be able to ply its waters with ease. All other lakes on the gold fields route are reported to be in a fair way for the running of boats about the first of this week. Parties contemplating an early visit to the Rainy Lake country should reach Tower not later than this week, as from all indications the rush after that date will be large. Many consequences opening in business in the near order, and they are the ones who will come early. Many others, from all over the Union, are anxious to reach the lake of gold to satisfy themselves of the truth of the statements made in regard to that country and look up chances for investment.

The trip can be attempted in less than ten days. At present boats are plying in the waters of Pike bay.

National Educational Meeting. The state committee on arrangements for the meeting of the Educational association met at the office of Superintendent Pendergast in St. Paul Saturday. Mr. Shepard was appointed to select headquarters for the Minnesota delegation at Ashbury park, where the meeting of the association will be held in July. Mr. Denfeld was appointed state manager and empowered to appoint local managers to arrange for parties for the trip. The Grand Trunk and Duluth railroads were selected as the official route for those wishing to go to the association by way of Chicago.

NOT DEAD BROKE YET

City Treasurer Voss Testifies in the Norris Injunction Case That the City Has Money.

City Engineer Reed Thinks the New Main Will Not Pass Through a Dense Wilderness.

William Craig Seems to Be Pushing the Prosecution More Particularly Than Anyone Else.

The Norris injunction case was taken up again before Judge Lewis this morning. Mr. Norris himself has not been taking any great interest in the proceedings, leaving it all to his counsel and William Craig. City Treasurer Voss was first put upon the stand to show that the city's finances had depreciated a good deal since the bond elections. His testimony was not at all what Mr. Waehburn expected. Asked if it was not a fact that there is no money in the city treasury at present, he said that it is not, and that there are ample funds to meet expenses. There is over $200,000 in city orders. Bonds were issued in 1892 for $100,000 and for $150,000 in 1893.

In reply to a question by the city attorney he said that the bonds were only issued because of failure to pay city assessments. There is a balance now of $70,000 to the credit of the city. Engineer Reed was introduced to show that the proposed main will pass through an almost uninhabited country, so that it could not be a nuisance, creating, as required by the statute, allowing the issue of water bonds. Mr. Reed, however, did not seem to regard Lakeside as so very densely unpopulated as would appear from the pleadings.

The plaintiff then rested, and City Attorney Morris opened his case. In proof of the election the printed council proceedings giving the result of the election was introduced. It was objected on behalf of the defendant that the proceedings were not a true and correct copy of the proceedings, and that the same had been approved by the mayor. The objection was overruled.

John Jenswold, Jr., was placed upon the stand testifying to the sentiment of the people in 1891 as to the issuance of the bonds. He offered to show that the people were convinced that the city water was impure and the rates were exorbitant. An objection was sustained and Mr. Jenswold was excused. Judge Morris said that he could prove by this witness and by others, that no one could have been elected in February, 1894, who was opposed to the issue. Judge Lewis remarked that that would be an interesting and intricate study in politics, but it could hardly be material to the case.

Engineer Reed was called for the city to show the condition of the plant in 1891 compared with 1894. After much argument he was allowed to testify that the gas and water company had a pumping station at Fifteenth avenue east and that there were sewer outlets at Fourteenth and Eighteenth avenues. He could not remember the number of house connections to the sewer, and was requested to return after dinner primed with the necessary statistics.

The trial will probably take a day or two yet, as so much time is spent in argument over the admissibility of evidence.

Judge Lewis denied a motion for a new trial for W. S. Norton the land shark Saturday afternoon. He was to have sentenced his prisoners, but the stenographer had escaped and the sentencing was postponed until this morning. Norton was sentenced to two years at hard labor. A motion to give bail during the institution of an appeal was denied.

Daniel Carney and James Miller for burglary in the third degree, were sentenced to three years at hard labor. John McCune, for grand larceny in the second degree, was sentenced to hard labor for two years and six months.

Judge Moe sentenced John Wick for assault in the second degree, to two years and four months at hard labor. John Jones withdrew a plea of guilty to grand larceny in the second degree and pleaded guilty to petit larceny, receiving a sentence of forty days in the county jail. Joseph Baker pleaded guilty to petit larceny and was fined $51, in default of which he will stay in jail ninety days.

Judge Moe was hearing the case of Terrence Mourne against Felix Trainor this morning. Judge Ensign was occupied by the case of Heinrich Ruonela et al. against Henry Sorbela et al.

Alderman Ben Howard says that so far as any fire protection is afforded, all the hydrants at Lakeside might as well not be there. He sees use in the city paying hydrant rental out there.

The other evening the firemen had to hold the hose nozzle nearly to the ground to get enough water to run out to fill a pail. A stand pipe is what Mr. Howard considers necessary to afford a fire protection pressure.

Several Italians Arrested for Assaulting a Red Hot Man.

The Sabbath was broken all to pieces yesterday afternoon at No. 112 First avenue west and as a result, the "hurry up wagon" appeared on the scene and carted four men to jail.

In the tumble down bed house on the alley resides Mrs. Nellie Kenlock, a woman who has a drunken husband and who is compelled to support herself and babe at the wash tub. In the same house, resides a villainous and dirty nest of Daggoes as the eye of man is ever called to look upon. Mrs. Kenlock has had considerable trouble with these specimens of Italian production and it reports are true, she has been compelled to stand some vile insults. Not long ago, she threw some hot water upon "Old John" Foleno, in return for some molestation and he returned for a policeman suggested that mode of protection. The Italians dragged Mrs. Kenlock into the police court, but the authorities declined to prosecute her.

Last Saturday Mrs. Kenlock had her husband arrested for assault, "esterday H. Brisson, the "red hot" vendor, who has his stand on Second avenue west and Superior street, went up to Mrs. Kenlock's to pay her a neighborly call.

Brisson claims that John Foleno, Dominick Foleno and Mike Cally were waiting in the hallway for him with clubs. He secured from Mrs. Kenlock an empty 32-calibre revolver and sailed in. He did effective execution and left some decided marks on his opponents. A large crowd was attracted and an officer, with much difficulty arrested the whole lot and saw them locked up.

In police court this morning, both Brisson, who is also known as "Reddy" and the Italians, pleaded not guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct. Their trial was set for May 2, Wednesday, at 2 p. m. In default of $15 bail each, all hands except John were committed to jail. His wife bailed him out.

Robert Kenlock was arraigned on the charge of assaulting Nellie Kenlock, his wife. He entered a plea of not guilty and tomorrow afternoon he will be given a chance to prove his innocence. Kenlock was arrested some months ago for beating and biting his wife, but her heart softened and she refused to prosecute.

C. Krennee and John Enland paid $7 each for visiting a house of ill-fame. John Johnson and James Gregg, drunks, received suspended sentences. W. H. Frost, Charles Anderson and Lewis Oleson went up ten days each for over-indulgence in the cup that cheers.

The Unity Club will meet this evening at the Unitarian church, corner Eighth avenue east and First street. Subject for discussion, "James Russell Lowell." There will be six 15-minute papers as follows:

"Lowell as a Critic," Mrs. C. H. Fletcher.
"Lowell as a Poet," Mrs. C. L. Lewis.
"Lowell as a Dramatist," Mrs. P. L. Stone.
"Lowell as a Diplomat," W. H. Hubbard.
"Lowell as a Man of Letters," Mrs. W. H. Hubbard.

Not long ago, she threw some hot water upon "Old John" Foleno, in return for some molestation and he returned for a policeman suggested that mode of protection. The Italians dragged Mrs. Kenlock into the police court, but the authorities declined to prosecute her.

Last Saturday Mrs. Kenlock had her husband arrested for assault, "esterday H. Brisson, the "red hot" vendor, who has his stand on Second avenue west and Superior street, went up to Mrs. Kenlock's to pay her a neighborly call.

Brisson claims that John Foleno, Dominick Foleno and Mike Cally were waiting in the hallway for him with clubs. He secured from Mrs. Kenlock an empty 32-calibre revolver and sailed in. He did effective execution and left some decided marks on his opponents. A large crowd was attracted and an officer, with much difficulty arrested the whole lot and saw them locked up.

In police court this morning, both Brisson, who is also known as "Reddy" and the Italians, pleaded not guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct. Their trial was set for May 2, Wednesday, at 2 p. m. In default of $15 bail each, all hands except John were committed to jail. His wife bailed him out.

Robert Kenlock was arraigned on the charge of assaulting Nellie Kenlock, his wife. He entered a plea of not guilty and tomorrow afternoon he will be given a chance to prove his innocence. Kenlock was arrested some months ago for beating and biting his wife, but her heart softened and she refused to prosecute.

C. Krennee and John Enland paid $7 each for visiting a house of ill-fame. John Johnson and James Gregg, drunks, received suspended sentences. W. H. Frost, Charles Anderson and Lewis Oleson went up ten days each for over-indulgence in the cup that cheers.

THEY ARE A BAD LOT.

Several Italians Arrested for Assaulting a Red Hot Man.

The Sabbath was broken all to pieces yesterday afternoon at No. 112 First avenue west and as a result, the "hurry up wagon" appeared on the scene and carted four men to jail.

In the tumble down bed house on the alley resides Mrs. Nellie Kenlock, a woman who has a drunken husband and who is compelled to support herself and babe at the wash tub. In the same house, resides a villainous and dirty nest of Daggoes as the eye of man is ever called to look upon. Mrs. Kenlock has had considerable trouble with these specimens of Italian production and it reports are true, she has been compelled to stand some vile insults. Not long ago, she threw some hot water upon "Old John" Foleno, in return for some molestation and he returned for a policeman suggested that mode of protection. REVOLT IN SALVADOR

Once More the Southern Republic is in the Midst of Revolution Against the Government.

The Government Officials Went About Impressing Every One on Whom They Could Lay Their Hands.

There Are Now Under the Republic's Standard Many Whose Sympathies Are with the Rebels.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Herald's La Libertad, Salvador, dispatch says: Once more this republic has a revolution on its hands. The spark of dissension which has been smoldering at Santa Ana was fanned into a flame this morning, and the citizens decided to take effective measures to show their dislike of the prevailing state of affairs.

Particulars are meager, but it is a certainty that it has been premeditated for weeks, and that the leaders were only waiting for an opportunity when they could take the government at the greatest disadvantage. That they succeeded in this is evinced by the fact that, realizing the force of their weakness, the government officials went about impressing everyone on whom they could lay their hands.

No one was spared and there are now under the republic's standard many whose sympathies are with the rebels and who will not do much to help the government when the crisis comes. At a large building for the use of the telegraph company were a large force of men, and the government swooped down on them, putting all in uniform.

The republic has been declared in a state of siege. It is evident that the government apprehend the worst, and that their position is not an enviable one.

Armed Men Still Going into the Mosquito Country.

The president so far has refused to remove Commissioner Lacayo, who is known to be pursuing a policy in the Nicaragua country calculated to incite the people against American residents. Only fear of the American warship San Francisco seems to deter him from going to extremes. The government claims to have routed and destroyed Morazan's band.

BECOMING IMPATIENT

Many of the Democratic Senators Getting Tired of the Delay on the Tariff Bill.

A Paper Circulated by Senator George in Favor of Closure Has Received Several Signatures.

Some Thought It Too Early to Attempt Closure and Others Declined Signing on Principle.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—That the rank and file of the Democratic party in the senate is becoming impatient at the delay in the consideration of the tariff bill was shown yesterday by the circulation of a declaration in favor of closure of debate. The paper was prepared by Senator George and was quietly circulated during the afternoon, being handed only to the most influential senators. It was not signed by all to whom it was presented, some of the senators expressing the opinion that it was too early to attempt a closure and others declining on principle.

The paper recites that it has become apparent that the Republican opponents of the tariff are determined to resort to filibustering to prevent the proper consideration and passage of the bill and commits the signers to a simple declaration in favor of closure. It makes no specification as to how the change shall be brought about, whether through the presiding officer or committee on rules, leaving that point as well as to whether it shall be a modified or an absolute closure to be decided later.

It does not appear that the call will be pressed for the time being, but it is to be handed around quietly as opportunity presents, so as to have the Democratic side prepared to make change if undertaken, and also to have senators committed to it as far as possible.

Senator Harris said that he is not yet prepared to announce a change in the hours for the daily sessions but he might have an announcement in that direction to make before many days.

Y. M. C. A. Resolutions.

The Young Men's Christian association has adopted the following resolutions mourning the death of Tracy R. Fairchild:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom and love, to remove from among us and take unto Himself our dear brother and fellow-laborer, Tracy R. Fairchild; and

Whereas, the Young Men's Christian association of Duluth is keenly sensible of the irreparable loss sustained in the death of Brother Fairchild, who, during the entire life of this association, was ever active, faithful and untiring in his devotion to its spiritual and material welfare; and

Whereas, in his valuable work for the association he has always displayed those sterling Christian attributes, love and charity, towards his fellow-men, being the means of leading souls to Christ, and in the councils of our association his wisdom, experience and thorough knowledge of the work added strength and efficiency to the management, inspiring his co-laborers with the noblest of sacrifices and devotion to the Master's service; therefore be it

Resolved, that in the death of Tracy R. Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the association; that they be given to the daily papers, and a copy thereof transmitted to the family of our deceased brother.

Good for Colorado Farmers.

DENVER, May 1.—The storm of last night and today was of incalculable value to the farmers, having come just in time to save crops and insure a bountiful harvest of wheat. If the remainder of the season should prove to be reasonably favorable, the crops will be good.

It does not appear that the snow fell in varying depths and a sudden thaw may cause serious damage. Lightning did slight damage but no fatalities have been reported. "Storm" snow varied from five inches to two feet.

Cutting Down Its Force.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 1.—In consequence of the dullness in the railroad business 500 Canadian Pacific employees, principally machinists, will be laid off today. Reductions will be made in all departments.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up to Wisconsin and, in consequence had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; soon in touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and relieve the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did it. I have used three 50-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant." For sale by all druggists.

For sale, current bushes 3 years old, extra choice. I am moving part of my orchard and have a surplus. They should be transplanted within a week. D. A. Petre, Woodland avenue.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., May 1.—A storm center has moved from Ma-toba to Northern Wisconsin and a second low pressure area is central in the Rocky Mountain region.

General rains have fallen in the lake region and central valleys. Fair weather is reported this morning in the Canadian Northwest provinces and from the Red River and Missouri valleys westward to the Rocky Mountains; in other portions of the Northwest rain or cloudy weather prevails. The rainfall has exceeded half an inch in Illinois, Southern Wisconsin and at Denver, Col.

In the states the temperatures range from 30 degrees at Havre, Mont., to 55 degrees at Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

Ruinous Taxation.

The Fairmount Sentinel says: "The public debt of St. Paul is $3,000,000, or nearly $70 for each inhabitant. Upon this vast sum the taxpayers pay about $500,000 annually in interest. This is a legacy of the reckless spirit that was prevalent in boom times. What wonder is it that any quantity of St. Paul real estate can be bought for prices less than the cost of the improvements upon it?"

There is a world of truth in what the Sentinel says about the depreciation in the value of real estate being due to excessive taxation. There is nothing which so effectually keeps investors out of a city as high taxes, and excessive taxation is the bane of many of our Western cities today. The boom spirit prompted common causes to make extensive public improvements which have created very high fixed charges for interest, and when the population and business did not increase as rapidly as expected these charges became a heavy burden on the property owners.

Happily Duluth has so far escaped such a calamity, and with the spirit of economy and retrenchment which animates the present common council there is not much danger of the taxation reaching higher figures. Indeed, there is a possibility that the rate of taxation will be materially reduced. Great public improvements have been completed in this city, and in nearly every respect those things which conduce to the public necessities and comforts have been attended to, but the growth of population and business has kept steady pace with the expenditures for these purposes and has lightened for each individual. The example of St. Paul, however, contains a warning which should be heeded.

Duluth has a high standing with Eastern investors and nothing should be done to injure it in the slightest degree. Amid all the cities of the Northwest not one has as good a reputation for present solidity and assurance of continued growth and prosperity as has Duluth. This is a state of things which should be preserved.

The Eight-Hour System.

Claude Meeker, consul at Bradford, England, has contributed an interesting chapter to the history of labor legislation in a report to the department of state upon experiments with the 8-hour system by English employers of labor. He says that though attempted legislation in that direction has been several times defeated, the fight is to be renewed and the 8-hour bill will soon come up before parliament.

At the Sanford Iron works near Manchester, the system was tried for one year at the firm's own instance, to ascertain how far the system of shorter hours of work might be put in force without injury to the mechanical trades. The full complement of men is 1200 and the wages paid for forty-eight hours weekly
were the same as for fifty-three hours under the old system. About twelve trades were represented.

The trial was in a year of exceeding depression, when the prices obtained for the output were the lowest on record, but the invoice value of the goods produced amounted to the average rate of value of the six preceding years. This was regarded as an unfavorable condition for the test. One-third of the men employed were on piece work wages and that system received a thorough trial as well as the weekly wage system.

The production during the trial year
was actually greater, but the profit account of cheap prices was somewhat less,
but the economy in the shorter hours for burning gas and fuel, for wear and tear of tools, machinery, etc., exactly equalized the increased labor cost. On piece work the wages realized were 1.41 per cent less than the standard. The figures in this, however, showed a steady adaptation to the altered conditions and made it evident that as the work preceded the difference would entirely disappear.

The foreman's reports show that the men were more steady at work, more cheerful and less given to insobriety under the eight-hour system. The moral tone was also improved and all seemed brighter and more cheerful.

Such experiments as this one will hasten
the time when the eight-hour system will be the rule everywhere.

Frank Hatton's Death.

The death of Frank Hatton, editor of the Washington Post, which occurred last evening, removes one of the most conspicuous figures in the newspaper business at the capital. His rather sudden demise creates a void in independent journalism that will not soon be filled, because under his editorial management the Washington Post was the most thoroughly independent newspaper in the country. There was no political bias or partisan prejudice noticeable in his comments on public questions, but it discussed every subject with a candor and fearlessness that attracted the reader. Mr. Hatton's loss will be keenly felt by his partner, Beriah Wilkins, who has been associated with him in the management of the Post. When they purchased the paper it was losing money.
They made it the best newspaper in Washington and at the same time placed it on a paying basis.

Mr. Hatton was in the newspaper business nearly all his life starting as an apprentice when but 11 years old and rising steadily to higher positions as he advanced in years. During the war of the rebellion he served in the Ninetyeighth Ohio infantry and was a gallant soldier. He rose to the rank of lieutenant. In 1881 he entered the cabinet of President Arthur as postmaster general, being then but 34 years old—the youngest man except Alexander Hamilton, who ever held a cabinet portfolio. It is said that such an able man should be cut off in the prime of life.

A country weekly says that judging from the amount of space devoted to the municipal election in St. Paul today, the people there must think they are selecting the president of the United States.
This may be the way it appears to the country editor, but if he lived in a city
he would know that it is of vastly more importance to the individual citizen what kind of men are mayor and aldermen than who occupies the White House.

The fire losses of the United States and Canada for the month of March, as estimated by the New York Journal-Bulletin, aggregate $9,147,100. This is as compared with $16,653,350 during March last year and $10,648,000 during March, 1892. The total for the first three months of the year is given as $31,013,100 against $45,510,550 for the corresponding period last year, and $35,126,000 in 1892.

The president of Nicaragua is pursuing a policy that may necessitate a demand by Secretary Gresham for an explanation. He is said to be doing all in his power to incite the natives against the American residents. One of Uncle Sam's warships is on hand, however, so that an open attack on the Americans is not likely to occur.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press has reduced its subscription price to 10 cents per year (including Sunday), or 2 cents a copy. It has always been the best morning newspaper in the Northwest, and now it is the cheapest as well as the best.

The United Press sent out a report yesterday of a cyclone in Kansas City that killed several people. There was not a word of truth in the story. The nearest approach to a cyclone in Kansas City was a severe shower.

Mr. Kinney is the choice.
To the Editor of The Herald:
Please allow me a few lines in your valuable paper to express the opinions of the many voters of the Sixth congressional district in regard to the coming election for congressman. I see it is stated that there was an enthusiastic Republican meeting held in some back office of the Palladium building. I would not be afraid to wager that there was not a baker's dozen there, and I dare say that how about corporations and capitalists running everything for the money that is in it, all to further their plans to get everything into their own hands.

Now, in charging Mr. Kinney with belonging to the capitalists and corporation companies, I notice that most of the men that made the speeches are of that same kind. I would like, Mr. Editor, to ask some of the gentlemen what would Duluth amount to if it were not for our capitalists and corporations? Do they want to drive out every capitalist and corporation? If so you would have to get the green grass growing on Superior street. Let the old ward heeler come out like men and issue a general call for a Republican meeting. Let them come and get a fair expression of the voters of the city, and not sneak off in some back office and lock the doors and then come out the next day and say they were a grand enthusiastic Republican meeting.
This way of doing business will not wash any longer. There is not one plank in the Republican platform that any American citizen need be ashamed of.

Mr. Editor, you have sounded the key note and expressed the sentiments of the majority of the Republican voters of this district in plain English. Sixty districts man as O. D. Kinney. I cannot understand where Mr. Towne has so much more of a hold or claim house in the city of Duluth than I have than a man who has always been a lifelong Republican, an old soldier, who ought to maintain the principles of the Republican party, and who has an orderly and upright record, one who has raised himself up from the very bottom round of the ladder and has become by his careful and judicious management able to live and keep the wolf from the door, after many trials and hardships.
Now, Mr. Editor, as I said before, I think the majority of the voters endorse your sentiments for O. D. Kinney and I think man for the Sixth congressional district of Minnesota. We have no fault to find with Mr. Towne and we cannot help feeling proud of him, and we use his ability, and should be fortunate enough to receive the nomination I will heartily support him. But I think he had better wait a little longer and come forward and let a helping hand to send the man to congress who has carried the old flag through many a battle and who still carries the scars from the effects of those battles; the man who will carry the banner of state just as safely as he did in 1861 to 1865. Now, voters and fellow citizens, do not let us Kinney and respec-tation by sending another Democrat to congress. Let us put up a man who will create harmony in the party, and lead us
on to victory, and who will use his influence to help the poor, the weak, the more needy throughout our land. And when a petition is sent to one of our representatives it will not be hurled back at our feet with sarcastic remarks, but whether it be hungry bellies or full ones,
but the petition will be honored as coming from men that know what they are asking for. Such a man is O. D. Kinney, Hon. O. D. Kinney to be. Yours truly,
A STAUCTION REPUBLICAN,
Duluth, May 1.

This is an athletic age. Everybody wants to be strong. The craze—for it has well high reached that stage—affects both sexes and even childhood. The pugilistic phase of this fad in young America is by no means morally promising. But it is a sign of the times, and with vigor and another to be endowed with muscle. Super muscularity is often induced by physical effort, but it is health and calculated to shorten life.
The vigor which means a regular and efficient discharge of the physical functions, is the first medium which all may easily attain without causing ruptures or breaking blood vessels. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is largely conducive to a gain in vigor of this sort, since it stimulates and assists digestion, promotes regular bilious secretion and keeps the bowels in order. Sleep, that grand recuperator of nervous vigor, is encouraged by it, and it repels malarial, rheumatic and kidney troubles.

CAUSED A BIG FLOOD

Water Main on Superior Street Burst in Front of the City Hall About Noon Today.

Stone Sidewalk Was Badly Torn Up and the Water Burst Out All Over the Street.

Sub-Basements of the City Hall and Police Station Flooded and the Rats Were Driven Out.

There was a sound as of rushing waters at the city hall this morning about 11:30 o'clock. There were rushing waters, too, and they came from a break in the main watermain under the sidewalk in front of the city hall and police station. This is the third time there has been a break at this place.

The water first came bubbling out of the stone sidewalk. One great square was lifted from its bed and the water came gushing out from there and one or two other places in a manner that made one think of a geyser. Next the flood came bursting through along the curb line, the pavement commenced to crack and to bulge up in spots. Even across the street, near Kugler's drug store, streams commenced to break out along the curb line.

The gutter was wholly inadequate to carry off the stream, so rapidly and with such force did it come out. Great floods poured over the sidewalk and went pouring and roaring down the open space between the two city buildings. From the walk, back of the bill boards, to the middle of those buildings, the ground slopes quite steeply. The yellow stream dashed down that with a roar that made an onlooker think of a mill race.

The greater part of the water which poured down there, ran into the basement of the police station. The city hall basement received as much water as could flow under one sash of a closed window in the basement wall. In the gymnasium room in the police station the water was of considerable depth all over the floor, and if it had run a little longer, would have run onto the barn floor. The sub-basements were all filled and the rats were driven out in hordes.

As soon as the break was known, the office of the Duluth Gas and Water company was notified but it was some time before men could get to the scene and shut off the water. One valve was closed at First avenue east and Superior street and another on the same street and at avenue east. Superintendent Craig was at the court house and when he reached the scene of the damage saw the flood of water, the sunken sidewalk and curb stones and the piles of red mud and sand vomited out from down where his rotten main had burst, his usual smile wilted perceptibly. He said that the damage could be repaired this afternoon.

The spectators, of which there were a good many, amused themselves with remarks on the situation. "Well," said one, "I call this retribution on Craig. He has been at his place of business instead of at the court house attempting to frustrate the issue of the water bonds this would not have happened."

"There'll be a raise of rates now to meet the expense of repairing this damage," said another humorist.

Before the water had been shut off, Chief Jackson was on the scene with a fire engine which he promptly set to work pumping the water out of the basements of the city buildings.

Thermometer Took a Jump.
The man who suddenly realized yesterday afternoon that it was getting hot was no fool. The thermometer jumped 30 degrees during the afternoon reaching 70 degrees. The maximum temperature had been hovering around 45 degrees all the month and the sudden spurt skyward took Observer Kenealy quite by surprise.

Nothing Moved Today.
Superintendent Thorne and Master Mechanic White got an engine out of the round house at Superior this morning and switched some cars loaded with flour, but beyond that nothing was done. No attempt was made to run out the passenger train this morning. President O'Donnell of the American Railway union local lodge at Superior says he expects the strike to terminate today.

Will Get Through Today.
This was a quiet day in district court. The argument in the Morris case which was begun yesterday afternoon by Judge Morris, was on before Judge Lewis this morning. It will be finished and the case submitted some time this afternoon. Judge Ensign at noon was still hearing the case of Henrick, Ruonala et al, against Henry Sorbela et al.

Judge Moor left this morning to preside over the spring term of court in Carlton county, held at Carlton.

FIRST ORE CARGOES.
Two Boats to Arrive Tonight From the Lower Lakes For Mesaba Ore.

The steamers German and Saxon will probably arrive from Cleveland tonight to take the first ore cargoes of the season from the Mesaba docks. There are about 4000 tons on the docks now. The rate will probably be 85 cents. The small amount of ore on the dock will not last long, but the Mountain Iron mine will begin to ship Monday unless the rains continue so as to prevent working at the mine.

The large Clement went to Two Harbors Friday to load lumber. The men at Two Harbors offered to work for 23 cents per 1000, and Commodore Inman, at the request of the Iron Range officials, accepted the offer. When the vessel got there it was found that the Duluth longshoremen had gone down and organized a branch union there. Rather than recognize the union in Two Harbors, the officials sent the lumber up to Duluth on their trains and the Clement is loading it at the old elevator dock outside the harbor.

J. H. Mitchell, of Winnipeg, of the firm of Martin, Mitchell & Co., the heavy grain shippers, was in the city yesterday looking after the shipment of a large amount of bonded wheat which has been here. He shipped out 53,000 bushels on the New Orleans yesterday. It will go to Ogdenburg, N. Y., and then to Montreal.

The Northern Steamship company is coaling its boats at Ashtabula on account of the soft coal strike in the East.

The tugs Campbell and Adams were inspected today.

The Bartlett came up light yesterday and was taken to the dry dock.

The Northern Steamship company will overhaul its dock, the old Transfer railway docks. The warehouse will be painted a handsome yellow, trimmed with brown.

The ice has nearly all gone out and what is left is being melted by the rains.

The Otego, of the Smith-Fee company, is to be put in commission this year as a "tramp" boat. She will have no regular run, but will take contracts for stone or lumber carrying or anything she can get.

Maj. Sears' steam launch Tangent was being fitted out today.

AWFUL DEATHS.

Five Hundred Mexican Soldiers Were Caught in Ambush by Indians and Many Were Killed.

When in a Deep Canyon Masses of Rocks and Boulders Were Thrown Upon the Troops.

Horses and Riders Were Crushed Into Shapeless Masses and Two Hundred Killed or Wounded.

A Doctor Going to Attend the Wounded Was Slain by the Redskins in Cruel Style.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 2.—News is received here that the Yaquis have once more been victorious in their warfare with the Mexicans. Once again the wily Indians have ambushed the forces sent against them. A day or two ago a statement was published that two companies of Mexican troops stationed at Ensenada had been ordered to Guaymas, Sonora, on the Gulf of California for immediate duty. At the time it was thought to be an ordinary and unimportant transfer of soldiers, but the report which now comes indirectly from the Mexican officers at Ensenada gives the movement a very sensational aspect.

Ex-Governor Luis E. Torres, who is now general of the northern and western departments of Mexico, it says, has been making another campaign against the Yaquis in South Sonora and Northern Sinaloa. He had an army of over 500 men and the plan was to dispose of the Yaquis question at once and forever. President Diaz selected Gen. Torres for this work, because of his experience and supposed ability to accomplish the desired purpose.

But, like the other commanders who have tried it, according to reports, Torres met the Yaquis and was defeated. The report says a force composed of soldiers taken from different regiments, accompanied by a party of national militia in command of a lieutenant colonel lately arrived from Mexico, were in pursuit of the Yaquis in the Sierra de Bacatel.

On the afternoon of March 5, the trail led the pursuers into a long, deep, narrow ravine in the Sierra de Bacatel. The walls of the canyon were almost precipitous, rising to a height in some places over 200 feet, and covered with brush. The command was halted and skirmishers pushed forward to uncover any possible ambush. The skirmish line led far up as possible without results, and as the trail was clearly defined in the sand at the bottom of the canyon, the colonel in command ordered them forward.

Half the dangerous locality had been traversed with no sign of life, nor motion from the cliffs, and the men were beginning to breathe easier, when suddenly huge masses of rocks and boulders from the cliff nearly 1500 feet above came bounding from wall to wall down upon the men, crushing horses, crushing horses and riders into shapeless masses. Higher and higher rose the war-cries of the well-armed Yaquis, who began firing volley after volley directed into the struggling mass below, where all was confusion.

Horses dashed through the broken column, trampling upon the dead and wounded soldiers; men writhed and screamed under the weight of rocks that had crashed down into the earth; others sank under the pitiless hail of bullets, and others less severely wounded and those still unhurt sought the bushes on either side and watched with cocked rifle for some sign of their blood-thirsty foes.

In such confusion it was impossible for the command of the officers to be heard, but finally the colonel found a wounded bugler with yet life enough to sound a call. In a few moments, although still in range of those deadly rocks and rifles, those of the wounded able to move with assistance, were started back down the canyon, while those who were able to offer resistance came at random into the bushes all the cliffs and had the satisfaction of occasionally seeing a half-naked Yaqui leap convulsively from his hiding place and come whirling down through a thousand feet of space.

As rapidly as possible the remnant of the column found its way back to open ground where the foe had not dared to follow, and after a brief rest they dragged themselves back along the route over which they had marched so cheerfully the day before. The number of killed cannot be accurately stated, but out of the column of 500 men it is said that at least 200 are either killed or wounded. An additional force of 200 militia has been organized in Hermosillo, and the campaign against this party of reds will be vigorously pushed.

Gen. Torres himself and a small party of soldiers retreated to Guaymas, where, according to one version that has reached Ensenada, he has been placed under arrest because of his failure. This is not believed to be true. At any rate, all the Mexican troops of Lower California, Sonora and Sinaloa are to be mobilized at Guaymas and another campaign organized against the Yaquis, but whether Gen. Torres is to lead or not, remains to be seen.

It is said that Don Jacob Corda, a young doctor, after the encounter in the canon, left a place called La Mesa, with a small escort to attend the wounded, and on passing a place called Arenas, fell into an ambush prepared by the same party of Yaquis. According to the report he was slain in a most cruel manner. The Sierra de Bacatel is some two days' journey from Guaymas and is a very rugged, wild country, one of the strongholds of the Yaquis. It is said that only 100 or 200 Yaquis were in the rebellion.

Further details from Guaymas are expected.

pected. The Yaquis are to Mexico what the Apaches are to Arizona—but if anything they are more cruel. They are magnificent specimens of manhood, few being under six feet, and have almost unlimited powers of endurance. They have never been entirely subdued, but in adequate periodical raids from their impenetrable strongholds in the fastnesses of the Sierra Nevada.

RIOT AND DESTRUCTION

Several Thousand Ignorant Unemployed Foreigners Smashed Machinery and Drove Men From Work at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, May 2.—A mob numbering 6000 or 7000 men again assembled in the public square this morning and marched out on a mission of destruction. On Scranton avenue every window was broken at the variety iron works and the entire force of men working ran out. At the Union Nut and Bolt works windows were broken, machinery smashed and the men driven away. Twenty-five men were driven from the Church Furniture works.

At this point the police charged the mob and drove it up the hill on Jennings avenue. Many arrests were made. Among the rioters taken into custody was Tom Moore, a full-fledged anarchist who, at the daily meetings of the unemployed, has constantly urged the unemployed to adopt anarchist methods. He was only landed in a patrol wagon after his head had been laid open by a policeman's club.

After their ranks had been broken up, the larger part of the crowd started across the Abbey street bridge with the police close behind them, reaching the west side they scattered in every direction and the police returned to the stations.

The mob today was composed entirely of unemployed foreigners, mostly Italian and Poles, who have been daily harangued by labor leaders to organize.

Four companies of the Fifth regiment were ordered under arms. The mayor has issued a proclamation warning all persons from congregating in the streets or parks, and prohibiting meetings being held in Monumental square.

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 2.—[Special to The Herald.]—The steamer Peerless arrived at 11 o'clock this morning and was immediately quarantined. A colored waiter named Champion, who shipped at Chicago, was believed to have smallpox. After a thorough investigation the health officer pronounced it smallpox and will have the patient removed to the pest house. The steamer will be thoroughly disinfected before permission is granted to proceed to Duluth.

LEARNED IT TOO LATE.

A White Man Learns of the Indian Gold Mine But Dies.

LANDER, Wyo., May 2.—Cossario Hurtado Gomez, better known as "Mexican Joe," has just died at Fort Washaki. Gomez was a relative of the noted Juarez, and fought with him in the Mexican revolution against the Mexican republic. After the war he came to the United States and for years endeavored to learn the secret of the rich gold mine in Mexico, the location of which is known to only a few Apache Indians.

Finally he married a Indian, learned the secret, but a short time before his death, and intended starting for the treasure in June. Probably no other white men will ever know the secret.

Disastrous Fire at an Electric Light Station in Montreal.

MONTREAL, May 2.—A disastrous fire started in the engine-room of the Royal Electric company's incandescent light station last night. The engineer had not time to shut down his engines before fleeing for his life, and soon after the immense fly-wheel exploded, a portion being hurled through the roof and falling into the street below.

Two workmen are hurt and many others miraculously escaped. Loss $100,000, fully covered by insurance.

COXEY IN QUOD.

The Chief of the Commonwealth Army Was Treated to a Surprise at Court Today.

Placed Under Arrest for Unlawfully Displaying a Banner or Device and Admitted to Jail.

Four Populist Members of Congress and Adjutant General Tarsney of Colorado Appear as Counsel.

The Cases of Coxe, Browne and Jones Were Set for Trial on Friday Morning Next.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Jacob Sleicher Coxe, the chief of the Commonwealth army, is under arrest and the three leaders of the movement which culminated at the capital grounds yesterday will have to answer to the courts for the part they took in yesterday's disturbance. The trial of Carl Browne, Christopher Columbus Jones and Coxe has been postponed until Friday. They will be arraigned on that day before Judge Miller in police court. The charge against them will be violation of the United States statutes.

The arrest of Coxe took place today in the police court on information filed against him last night. The three men have a considerable array of Populist lawyers to defend them, their counsel including Representatives Pence, of Colorado; Baker, of Kansas; Kem, of Nebraska; Boen, of Minnesota, and Adjutant General Tarsney, of Colorado, a brother of Representative Tarsney, of Missouri. Counsel asked that $500 in cash be accepted in lieu of real estate bail for Coxe's appearance, but the judge refused to accept it, and Coxe and Jones were taken to the police station.

There was a crowd of curious people surrounding the district court in expectation of the trial of Browne and Jones, and it was disappointed at the postponement of their cases until next Friday. The crowd likewise was disappointed at failure to gain admittance to the courtroom to view the proceedings, only those persons who could give some good reason for their presence being admitted.

Among the earliest arrivals at the court were Coxe, Browne and Jones. They were escorted by four Populist members of congress, Lafe Pence, of Colorado, Mr. Baker, Halder Boen and W. H. Kem, and Adj. Gen. Tarsney, who entered their services as counsel. Marshal Carl Browne was attired in his spectacular buckskin suit and the party engaged in consultation, until Judge Miller acceded to the bail, when Browne and Jones walked behind the railing into the prisoner's enclosure, accompanied by Mr. Coxe.

Several of our cases were disposed of first in the usual police court style of rapid transit. During these proceedings the group of sympathizers was augmented by the arrival of Chairman Tarsney and Secretary Turner, of the central committee of the People's party, and Dr. T. A. Bland, a Washington Third party man.

Attorney General Maloney, a smooth-faced, blonde-haired young man, appeared as prosecutor of the Coxeites and announced: "I have been informed that a man named J. S. Coxe is in court, and after an investigation last night I have thought myself warranted in filing an information against him. I have made out a warrant, but if he is willing to submit I do not care to have it served upon him."

This was a surprise, and Gen. Coxe spoke up, "I'm here and ready." Then he stepped forward to the bar and Attorney Samuel Hyman said: "First we ask whether all of the informations have been filed that the government intends to make out." "That is not the question," replied the judge.

Then the information charging Jacob S. Coxe with unlawfully displaying a banner or device was read and he replied: "Not guilty." The accused elected to be tried by jury and the hearing of the case was set for Friday morning. When the question of bail came up one of the lawyers for the accused said: "It is a moral certainty that these gentlemen would remain here ten years for trial." "We want legal certainty," replied Judge Miller, and he fixed the amount of the bond in each case at $500. Marillo Ricker, a feminine attorney of this city, came forward to offer bail for Gen. Coxe, but Assistant District Attorney Mulwoney reminded her of a provision of law which forbids attorneys from signing bail bonds. Subsequently Frank Hume, a wholesale grocer, signed the bond for Coxe and Jones.

Fifteen injured. Several fatally. BALTIMORE, May 2.—A special to the Sun from Raleigh, N. C., says: Two large boilers at Robinson & Goodwin's lumber yards at Williamington exploded yesterday. There were fifteen persons in the buildings and all were injured. Isaac Goldman was dead when taken out and four others are dying.

ONE THOUSAND DISCHARGED.

Heavy Cut Made by the Canadian Pacific Owning to Slack Business.

ST. PAUL, May 2.—A Winnipeg special says: One thousand men have been discharged from the Canadian Pacific railroad service between Montreal and Vancouver, owing to slackness of business.

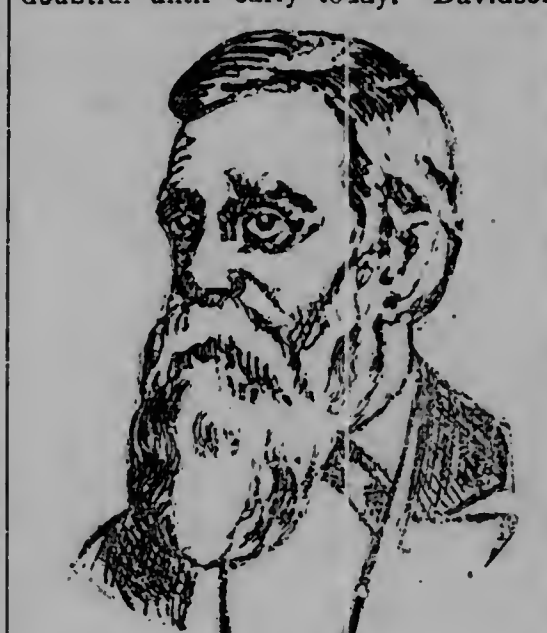

It is reported that the company intends to remove its shops from here to Fort William, and divert the main line via Selkirk, in order to cut off two sides of a triangle, now covered via Winnipeg. Mutters of strike are heard as a result, as the present force must work extra without pay.

One hundred and fifty painters and paperhangers went on strike yesterday against a reduction of wages.

BOB SMITH IS ELECTED.

The Democrats Have Elected Their Candidates for Mayor, Treasurer and Municipal Judges in St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, May 2.—With twelve precincts still to hear from, the returns give Smith (Dem.) for mayor a majority of over 1000. The result appeared still doubtful until early today. Davidson

MAYOR-ELECT SMITH.

(Top) had even a smaller vote than had been before conceded him.

J. J. McCarty (Rep.) is re-elected controller by about 300 plurality. John Wagener (Dem.) has 1000 plurality for treasurer. Municipal Judge Twoby (Dem.) is re-elected and the vote is close on the other judge, Hal (Dem.) being slightly ahead.

The Democrats have five aldermen to six Republicans, and the assembly is still in doubt. Mayor Wright (Rep.) had 3800 plurality two years ago. Later—Fuller returns make the plurality for McCarty (Rep.) for controller over 2000. The board of aldermen will stand six Democrats to five Republicans, while the assembly will probably be solidly Democratic, although one Republican may pull through. The assemblymen are voted for at large, while the aldermen are chosen by wards.

Smith's plurality for mayor will be about 1200 while the vote for Davidson, the Republican who was candidate of the Prohibitionists, Populists, Labor and Socialist parties, will have a total of not more than 1500. The campaign was on purely local issues.

MESABA MINERS STRIKE.

Five Hundred Quit Work at Virginia Mines and Call Out Men at Mountain Iron.

MOUNTAIN IRON, Minn., May 2.—[Special to The Herald.]—Five hundred strikers from Virginia arrived here today and all the laborers in this place joined their ranks. Both the mines and the sawmills are closed in consequence. The laborers demand $1.50 and $1.65 a day, instead of $1.25 which they have been receiving. The leader of the strikers is Ole Elihooper. There has been no violence so far, but there are some unruly spirits in the crowd who may make trouble.

The strike started yesterday at the Franklin mine at Virginia, where the surface men demand $1.50 a day, which was refused. They then went to the Auburn, Norman and Oliver mines and compelled the men working there to quit. The men stripping at the Lone Jack property were also induced to join them, after which they marched to this place. It is likely they will go to the Canton mine next and call out the men there.

BIMETALLIC LEAGUE.

An International Conference Was Opened in London Today That May Have an Important Effect.

Prominent English and Foreign Financiers and Members of Parliament Took Part in the Proceedings.

They Will Urge an International Agreement to Maintain a Ratio Between Gold and Silver.

LONDON, May 2.—The international bimetallic conference, under the auspices of the Bimetallic league, was called to order in the Egyptian hall of the Mansion house today, ex-Mayor Evans presiding. The proceedings opened with an address by the chairman, after which Professor Shield Nicholson read a paper on "The Fall in the General Level of Prices in Relation to Appreciation of Gold and the Divergence in Relative Value of Gold and Silver."

During the afternoon, the Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Conservative leader in the house of commons, will make an address, which will be followed by a paper by Leonard Courtney, M. P., on "The Practicability of Maintaining a Ratio Between Gold and Silver Under an International Bimetallic Agreement."

A banquet will be given this evening to the English and foreign members of the conference. There were 400 delegates present at the opening session today, among whom were Brooks Adams, of Boston, Mass.; Mr. Vanderberg, president of the Bank of the Netherlands, of Amsterdam; Henry Cernuschi, of Paris, president of the French bimetallic league; David Murray, president of the South Australian Bimetallic league; Thomas Salt, late president of the Bankers' Institute, Sir Malcolm Fraser, agent general in London for West Australia; the Rt. Hon. W. Liddell, ex-governor of the Bank of England, and a number of prominent foreign and British financiers, as well as many members of parliament.

The object of the bimetallic league is to urge upon the British government the necessity of co-operating with other leading nations for the establishment of the free coinage of gold and silver at a fixed ratio.

Among the letters of regret was one from Archbishop Walsh, of Dublin. The archbishop said that he was especially glad to see the conference discuss that aspect of the coinage which Ireland was most deeply concerned, namely, the ruinous effects of the present dearth of money upon husbandry and its interests.

Concerning the question generally, the archbishop wrote: "I can only say that the experience since a year ago will but serve to deepen the conviction of all nations that Ireland is most deeply concerned, namely, the ruinous effects of the present dearth of money upon husbandry and its interests."

The governor of the Bank of France, M. Magnin, also sent a letter applauding the aims of the conference and saying: "The silver question imposes itself for solution every day upon the French mind. The whole world requires its solution in its general interests. It has intimately bound up the commercial and industrial prosperity of all nations. I am a resolute partisan of the rehabilitation of silver."

Professor Francis A. Walker wrote applauding the "valuable and timely fight for the restoration of silver to its historical place in the currencies of the world, which the bimetallic league is making."

President Andrews, of Brown university, Providence, R. I., said: "Our cause is making rapid progress and we are certain to succeed."

During the discussion which followed the reading of Professor Nicholson's paper, Dr. Arndt, a member of the Prussian diet, declared that bimetallicism was making progress in Germany and he thought that if an international conference was held now, it would have very different results from the Brussels conference.

The feature of the conference was the speech of Mr. Balfour. He said that many who were suspicious of the double standard and bimetallic system now recognize, in view of great impending dangers, that the best safeguard is to rehabilitate silver as one of the great instruments of the monetary transactions of the world. It was absolutely necessary that the monetary functions of silver should be restored if business was to be carried on upon a solid basis. The difficulties of an international agreement, the speaker insisted, were merely as to the details, and if any question should be settled by an international agreement, surely this one should be so settled.

THE STRIKE IS ENDED.

Settlement of the Great Northern Strike Was Reached by Means of Arbitration Last Night.

By Midnight the Men Had Started to Work and Everything Is Running Once More.

Nearly Everything That the Men Demanded Was Granted and They Are Naturally Feeling Jubilant.

ST. PAUL, May 2.—The settlement of the Great Northern strike was completed at 10:30 last night, and the strikers ordered to resume work. By midnight the men had started to work at a number of points along the line, and today everything is running as well as could be expected after such a long tie-up of all freight and much of the passenger business. In the yards here full crews were at work getting all trains out practically on time and the men were feeling particularly jubilant.

They had considerable reason to feel happy for nearly everything they demanded was granted, the volunteer business men's arbitration board deciding in favor of the restoration of 75 per cent of the last summer reductions. A supplemental statement gave the information that the company had already prepared notices of a restoration of wages for engine laborers and had restored engineers and firemen.

This strike was one of the completest tie-ups in the history of labor troubles, no trains having been run for over two weeks west of Minot, N. D., except a few mail trains on the Montana Central, and nothing but mail trains east of there. One or two freights were started out but did not get far before they were stopped for lack of crews. So far as known, the strikers themselves have committed no violence, and the only arrests were for uncoupling cars, the charge being interference with mail service.

The settlement was made with President Debs as a representative of the employees, rather than his official capacity, but still the American Railway union considers the result a decided victory for that young organization.

One of the prominent members of the American Railway union stated last night that it was the intention of that body to work to the end that the old railroad brotherhoods would bear the same relation to the American Railway union that the legislatures of the several states do to the congress of the United States.

He said further that the American Railway union would never rest satisfied until the constitutions of all the old brotherhoods had stricken from them any provision that prohibited members from belonging to the American Railway union. He declared: "We shall not rest satisfied till we own the cars."

Yesterday the men on other roads were beginning to feel ready to support the Great Northern strikers by tying up other roads, but today everything is peaceful in all directions. Great rejoicing was indulged in all over the Northwest. The official notice of the end of the strike was sent out at 10:30, but the Associated Press had bulletin the fact at 9:15 and at many points the men simply awaited the confirmation of the first report.

Another Bomb Found. LONDON, May 2.—A supposed bomb was found this morning at the entrance of the recruiting office, Spring Gardens, this city. The bomb consisted of a screw-driven cylinder, to which a time-burned fuse was attached. A man, apparently a foreigner, wearing a heavy overcoat, was seen loitering about the spot some time previous to the discovery of the supposed bomb.

Obstinate Case of Catarrh Local Applications Failed—Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen:—I ought to make known my experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla, so that others afflicted may learn where to find a remedy for that serious and obstinate disease, catarrh. It troubled me seriously. I had a dull aching sensation in the top of my head, and the usual discharge from the nose. I became so bad that sometimes I could do nothing but hawk mucus. My lungs were also being rapidly affected, and I had not been for Hood's Sarsaparilla. I would have been long since dead."

A Consumptive's Grave long ago. I have taken about ten bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which have effectually cured me. Before resorting to this medicine I used all the catarrh remedies, inhalants, and local applications. I heard of, and none seemed to FULLY GRATIFIED.

Mr. J. J. O'Brien, a Member of Duluth's Fire Department Gives Expression of His Gratitude.

He Tells of How the Copeland Physicians Cured Him of Skin Disease From Which He Suffered for Many Years.

It was a small expenditure and it went for a good cause and in the proper direction. Five dollars for the complete cure of a skin disease that was of seven years' duration. Isn't that reasonable enough? Recently a gentleman stepped into the Copeland Medical Institute in the Lyceum building and said: "Doctor, I see quite a number of testimonials in the papers from people that you have cured. I want to do a good turn to somebody and I want to add my testimony to the list. I know there are lots of people that suffer as I did and I want them to be cured as I was." When questioned further he said: "I suffered from a skin disease of the upper lip for over seven years, during which time I had it treated almost constantly by various physicians, but nothing seemed to meet the case. My lip was greatly swollen and covered with an eruption that would itch and burn by turns, making it a source of great annoyance. I was never wholly insensible of it, either night or day. The roots of the hair became diseased and the hair would die and fall out. I was in a great distress of mind because I was afraid it would run into a cancer. But those fears have since left for my lip is all healed over and my mustache has come out bright and fresh as ever. After using the treatment two weeks the eruptions and soreness had disappeared and in one month I was completely cured of a trouble that had existed seven years. I think such services deserve commendation." The gentleman's name James J. O'Brien, he is a fireman connected with No. 7 engine house, Duluth, Minn.

Skeptics can go and see him or drop him a line when he will be glad to corroborate the foregoing facts.

The Weather.

the lower lakes. An area of low pressure is central this morning in Nebraska and in connection with a high barometric pressure in weather prevails in the upper lake region, the Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys and Atlantic regions.

over Lakes Michigan and Superior, and has risen slightly in Nebraska and Kansas.

International Bimetallism.
An important conference in the interest of an international agreement for bimetallism opened in London today,
as will be sure by a cablegram published in this issue. The conference is especially notable on account of the prominence of both the English and foreign delegates in financial and political circles. It is a pleasing indication of the probability that the great financial problem may be settled in the near future by an international agreement which will place gold and silver on an equal standing in the currency of all nations, by providing for the free and unlimited coinage of both metals at a fixed ratio.

Among the opening papers read to the assembled delegates was one which dealt with the fall in the general level of prices in relation to the appreciation of gold and the divergence in the relative value of gold and silver, and a prominent member of the British parliament presented an argument showing the practicability of maintaining a ratio between gold and silver under an international bimetallic agreement. This is the only method by which such a ratio can be maintained, and the conference will undoubtedly adopt strong resolutions urging the necessity of co-operating with other leading nations to secure the adoption of such an agreement. This conference, on account of the prominence of the financiers who are in attendance, cannot fail to exert a strong influence with the British government.
The presence of Mr. Balfour, the Conservative leader in the house of commons, who is in active sympathy with the object of the conference, shows that if the Conservatives be returned to power at the next elections they would cooperate with other nations to establish an agreement upon this question.

While the last monetary conference initiated by the United States did not result in an international arrangement, its discussions undoubtedly had a very favorable effect in behalf of bimetallism.
The silver question in India has also been pressed for action by the British government, especially since the repeal of the silver purchase clause of the Sherman law in this country. The repeal of that law was one of the best things that have been done to secure an international bimetallic agreement, as the silver men who so vigorously opposed such action will soon be forced, by the logic of events, to admit.

Building and Loan Associations.
Commissioner of Labor Carroll D.
Wright has submitted his ninth annual report, dealing with building and loan associations in the United States.
Vermont, which has but one association, is the only state not included in the report. The total number of associations in the country is shown to be 583, of which 558 are local and 250
national.

The total number of shareholders is 1,745,725, of which 910,614 are male.
The average number of shareholders is 391. The number of shareholders who are borrowers is 455,441, or 26 1/2 per cent.
There are 1,325,572 shares held, of which 10,381,031 are in local, and the remainder in national organizations.
The average number of shares held per shareholder is seven and one-half. The total net assets are $50,667,593, of which $413,617,288 are in local organizations.
The net assets per shareholder average over $257. The average value of shares is $31 and the total profit $80,641-116, of which $74,102,559 are from the local organizations. The average amount of loans is $1120, with $1133 in the local organizations. The number of homes acquired through the associations is 299-803 in the local and 23,052 in the national, making a total of 314,755. The different methods of distributing profits, paying premiums, withdrawing shares and laws of the different states, are described in the six chapters which constitute the report. The average age of the associations is a little over six years.

The figures show, says the report, that the building and loan associations of the country are entirely modern in situation and have reached their great proportions within the last ten or fifteen years.
This, in connection with the fact that they have net assets of $50,000,000, have made total profits of more than $80,000,000 helped to secure probably over 400,000
homes, and are semi-banking institutions conducted by ordinary men untrained as bankers, showing conclusively the strong hold which building and loan associations have taken upon the public.

Settled by Arbitration.
The settlement of the Great Northern strike by means of arbitration by a committee of the business men of St. Paul and Minneapolis is a happy ending to what promised at one time to become a long and bitter struggle between the men and the latter yielded a few of their demands and an agreement was reached.
The strike was lifted and the men at once resumed work all along the line.

It has been a costly strike for both sides. The men have practically gained a victory, and President Debs of the American Railway union will naturally claim that to his organization belongs the sole credit of having obtained redress of the men's grievances, as the heads of the brotherhoods were generally opposed to a strike, and he is justified to some extent in making this claim. The greater credit, however, is due the Twin City business men who succeeded in inducing both sides to agree to arbitration of their differences.

It may be said in President Hill's favor
that he was steadily in favor of arbitration and repeatedly offered to refer the disputed points to disinterested men and abide by their decision. The strikers responded to this offer and the strike was prolonged. For the time being public sympathy for the men ceased, the people generally believed that the men should have accepted
Mr. Hill's proposition to settle the matter by arbitration. Finally the Twin City business men persuaded the leaders of the strike of the wisdom of settling the matter in this way, and an agreement was soon reached, the men finding that Mr. Hill was willing to concede much more than they had expected.

The settlement of the strike will be a good thing for the whole Northwest because the suspension of traffic over the road has paralyzed business in many sections. Let us hope that hereafter no strike will be inaugurated until all means to reach a settlement by arbitration have been exhausted.

The morning paper says today: "The

this statement may be regarded as an official. It is important because it settles
a long-disputed point.

Neither the Minneapolis nor the Chicago baseball team lost a game yesterday. There must be something the matter to cause such a singular coincidence.

the Republicans in St. Paul do not appear to know the combination.

LITERARY GOSSIP.
Book Reviews, the monthly journal published by Macmillan & Co., will be enlarged with the May number to almost twice its original size. Although it has only just completed its first year, it has won for itself an enviable position among the magazines that deal with current literature, furnishing as it does not only full advance notes of the new books and a complete list of all the books published during the month, but also well-selected critical reviews of the most important of the recent publications. The leading articles for the June number will comprise a paper by F. Marion Crawford called "A View of Modern Mysticism," and an article on Professor E. D. Perry's translation of Dr. Paulsen's "Universities of Germany."

Home and Country, for May contains an article entitled "The Union Soldier—
He Seeks Justice, Not Charity," by Hon.
John A. Pickler, M. C., South Dakota, remarkable for its broad patriotism and timely utterance. The article itself is based on a speech recently delivered by its author in the house of representatives, which called forth from Gen. John C.
Black, a commissioner of pensions and representative at large from Illinois, an eloquent tribute. Gen. Black, among other pleasant things, said:
"I congratulate the gentlemen upon the kindly temper and the exalted standard of thought which he has exhibited, and if the gentleman's speech was all that has gone before I think we might also unanimously vote its adoption as a declaration of kind principle, a realization of that kindly foreboding by Mr. Lincoln when he said that in time to come the kindly impulses of our nature would again touch the chords of memory till they vibrated to the tones of union."

One of the most attractive of Macmillan & Co.'s spring publications is a volume of nature studies by Mrs. James Osborne Wright. Filled with the very spirit of the New England woods and byways, it is a book to make glad the heart of every lover of nature; for, together with a keenness of insight and a scientific precision, it unites the warmest sympathy and reverence for all the domains of that mysterious world of birds and flowers which we really know so little and of which no study can be more engrossing. Mrs. Wright is well known as a photographer, and the book is a large paper edition of her little book which will be illustrated by reproductions of her own pictures of the scenes she puts before us so vividly.

Appendicitis.
Have you got the new disorder?
If you haven't it is in order.
To succumb to it without delay;
Very different from gastritis,
Or the common throat diseases of the day,
It is a little alloy, lying dark as night;
Something like a winter cold,
But has of its own kind more organs some;
Only settles with the weather,
A little more or less, and then it goes;
Having got it, then you're high to kingdom
Come, and down to the kingdom of the dead;
It is a little alloy, lying dark as night;
Lending off to simply nowhere,
As a pocket it is clearly out of sight.
It is prone to stop and grapple
With the seed of eggs or sperm,
Or a soldier button swallowed with your pie;
It begins internal battles
And the doctor's hand is then in the sky.
Once located never does it quit,
You would never be without it,
It is the last enemy society has to fight;
Old heart failure and paralytic
And dropsy has fallen by the way,
And the doctor's hand is then in the sky.
For here comes appendicitis,
With a host of minor troubles on the wing,
So, remember this, and be on your guard,
You'll withstand all drastic dosing,
And earn the appellation, "Old Reliable King."

MAY DAY BALL.
Trades and Labor Assembly Entertainment at the Pavilion Last Evening.

The May day ball of the Federated Trades assembly was held at the Pavilion last night with the result that 300 people in attendance voted it a complete success. At 10 o'clock, Hore's orchestra of thirteen pieces started up in dulcet strains and N. Anderson, master of ceremonies, and lady led nearly a hundred couples in the grand march. One dance then followed, and the dancing continued after 12 o'clock, when all sat down to a sumptuous supper, served by M. C. McCaffrey, manager of the Pavilion.

After that, the dancing went on, and the dance went on, and the joy was unconfined until 1 o'clock this morning.

A number of representatives from the West Superior assembly were present with their ladies and the event was a success, both socially and financially. It is proposed to have the May day ball yearly feature in the life of organized labor in Duluth.

High Precipitation in April.
The feature of the weather bureau report as completed by Observer James Kenney for April is the high precipitation, the greatest record in the office here. It was 3.35 inches during the month. The average for 25 years has been 2.24 inches. The mean temperature for the month was 38 degrees, the warmest day being Monday last, 70 degrees and the coldest April 1, 23 degrees. Prevailing winds were northerly and the total movement was 167 miles. The greatest velocity was 27 miles on April 8. There were 6 cloudless days, 7 partly cloudy and 17 cloudy.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is swollen and the inflow of air is prevented, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; irreparable injury is caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

One Case Left on the April Calendar of the District Court and It Is Being Tried.

C. O. Baldwin Will Ask a New Trial for Marco Matakovich for Misconduct of the Jury.

Mrs. Adele V. Cornany Secures a Divorce From Her Husband—The Nimmo Divorce Granted Today.

Every case on the April term calendar has been cleared off the board with the exception of one case still on before Judge Ensign—Henrick Ruonala against Henry Sorbala. This will probably be finished tomorrow morning, when the term will be held over until Judge Moer gets back from Carlton to hear the motion for a new trial in the man-slaughter case against Marco Matakovich. The term will then be adjourned.

Matakovich stands a pretty fair show of having another hearing. After the jury had retired to deliberate they were left alone for a few moments. C. O. Baldwin, Matakovich's attorney, saw a man talking with several of them, and that incident will be the ground for the motion.

Judge Lewis this morning heard the divorce suit of Adele V. Cornany against Montgomery L. Cornany. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant, and after the introduction of some pretty conclusive evidence Judge Lewis granted Mrs. Cornany a divorce on the ground of cruelty and the custody of the children.

The cases of the H. A. Muckle Manufacturing company against L. B. Cloud et al and Pond & Hasey company against Amos B. Jones et al were called, but no appearance was made for either party and the cases were stricken from the calendar.

The last case on the board was the divorce suit of Charles H. Nimmo against Catherine Nimmo. Mrs. Nimmo made no appearance, and a divorce was granted by default on the ground of adultery. Some sensational testimony was introduced.

The state tax cases were continued to the June term.

ADVOCATE A CUT.
Dr. Goffe's Salary May Be Sliced a Bit by the Aldermen.

Some of the aldermen, it is said, have their economical eye on Health Officer Goffe's salary. He now gets $1300 a year and these city fathers feel that the cut in salaries should extend all along the line. The new pest house will cost $850 and they think that the cost of that can be easily met by reducing the doctor's salary to $1000 a year. That is nearly the same ratio of reduction as applied to the salary of the board of public works. Then, too, these aldermen say that Dr. Goffe has a nice private practice of several thousand a year, that he is rarely found at his city hall office and that he can stand a cut much better than all those officials who have no remunerative occupation on the side.

Death Rate 8.08 For April.
During the month of April the death rate per 1000 was 8.08. During the month not less than 150 burials occurred, the best record ever made in Duluth. The score last month, 141, was a record broken also, but March, it seems, was not in it with April. In the April burials there were six pairs of twins. Forty-eight deaths for the month have been reported.

The Library Report.
The report of the public library for the month of April shows the following:

MISS VIVA CASTLE DYING.
Shot by the Jealous Wife of a Minneapolis Recluse.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 2.—Miss Viva Castle, stepdaughter of ex-Congressman Castle, of Stillwater, and a long time belle in Washington society, is lying at the point of death in this city, a bullet wound in her temple, she having been shot in a room over the Postal cafe by Mrs. Scott Blake, wife of the proprietor.

Mr. Blake turned the revolver against her husband, but he threw up his arm and the bullet struck the wall. The affair was not reported to the police for four hours. Blake was then immediately taken into custody, and Mrs. Blake, who had disappeared, was found at midnight and arrested. The shooting was evidently the result of jealousy.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

PROOF OF SUPERIORITY!
This brand has followers and imitators but as is always the case the genuine is always better than the imitation. Imitation proves the superiority of an article whether it be one thing or another. In this case it's FLOUR. But they have not succeeded in producing the equal of IMPERIAL Made from the choicest Dakota wheat. Nothing like it. Grocers sell it.

AMUSEMENTS.
"Eight Bells."

"Eight Bells" is the best farce comedy that has been here this season. It is of the broad order, but does not depend for its humor on the antics of an overdrawn Irish character or a lot of cheap and vulgar wit. The fun is nearly all of the acrobatic and pantomimic order, and during the side-splitting scenes hardly a word is spoken, but the action is astonishingly rapid. The Byrnes are on the stage nearly all of the time and the audience has no opportunity to be weary.

The scenery deserves high praise and few companies which appear here ever stage their piece so elaborately. The ship scene in the second act is a decided novelty and a very clever idea.

Altogether "Eight Bells" is a performance well worthy of patronage and there ought to be a good house tonight.

There is one thing which Manager Condon should not allow to be repeated this evening and which he ought to have squelched last evening. At the close of the first act a young man secured the attention of the audience and in stentorian tones announced the sale of a book of songs. If the Temple is to be made a circus the lemonade man had better be added at once and the house advertised as such. It is bad enough to allow the sale of the trash in the house, but it becomes intolerable when the peddler is permitted to hawk his wares at the top of his voice. Manager Condon owes it to his patrons to stop this at once.

Deshon Opera Company.
On Monday evening the Deshon Opera company opens an engagement of a week at the Lyceum. The company is headed by Frank Deshon, one of the most versatile comedians on the comic opera stage. He is ably assisted by Lizzie Gonzales, late of Hoyt & Thomas forces; Edward Webb, formerly of Pearl of Pekin Opera company; Gilbert Leacock, late with Goring Opera company; Adolph Mayer, baritone for several seasons with Emma Abbott Opera company; J. R. Oakley, comedian, and Richard Jones. A large and well drilled chorus, with handsome costumes, are special features.

The Turners' Exhibition.
The athletic exhibition to be given at the Temple Friday evening for the benefit of C. H. Allen, the instructor of the Duluth Turn Verein will be an event well worth witnessing. All of the pupils, 200 in number, will take part and the exercises will be interesting and clever. As a special feature two renowned fencers of St. Paul, Herman Hirschy, champion of Minnesota, and Harry C. Maloney, will give an exhibition such as has never before been seen here. The first movements will consist of a combination of the true Parisian school, including the grand salute, which is frequently given in France previous to a duel in order to give the challenged an opportunity to apologize if he desires. The exhibition will close with a short contest showing their skill, grace, and agility.

Wahlund and Johnson.
Yesterday was the birthday of August V. Johnson, of the great athletic team of Wahlund and Johnson, who appear at the Temple tomorrow night. Mr. Johnson was born in Stockholm, Sweden, May 1879. Since childhood he has been noted for his great strength. He studied at his schoolmates in their childish competitions, and at the age of fifteen he entered the employ of the De La Val Cream Separator company as stock clerk, and after many tests of strength, he was voted strongest person amongst the 425 employees. In February, 1892, Mr. Johnson joined fortunes with his present companion and during his brief career in Duluth and Russia made it a point to seek out all athletes, whether amateurs or professionals, challenging them. He has been able so far to equal, but surpass them all at anything they did, while not one has ever equalled his feats.

THE MAY DAY FESTIVAL.
The May day festival at the Bethel last night was not largely attended, but Dr. Salter and his friends had an excellent time just the same. A good program was given, consisting of recitations by Julia Johnson, Mr. Haskerville and Robert Haskins. Music by a clarinet quartet, a violin solo by Mrs. Henn and a vocal solo by Miss Constock. Mrs. d'Antremont gave two readings which were very amusing and were well received by the audience.

After the program refreshments were served.

MILITARY RULE.

The City of Cleveland Was Under Military Protection Last Night Owing to the Riots.

The Entire Civic and Military Forces Were Put Into Operation at Daybreak This Morning.

When the People Awoke All the Streets Leading to the Public Square Held Policemen.

No Small Groups of Men Were Allowed to Assemble and All Moved Along Briskly.

CLEVELAND, May 3.—The city of Cleveland virtually rested under military protection last night. Between 800 and 900 men were sleeping at the various armories with bayoneted sentries watching over them, ready to arouse them at the first sound of alarm. True, the arrangements made by Mayor Blee were entirely precautionary, and no one hoped more than he that precautionary measures alone would be necessary, but they were made with all the care and precision that actual hostilities required.

The very fact that the night passed without a renewal of trouble leads the authorities at the city hall to fear a renewed outbreak today. Every precaution was therefore made to put the entire civic and military forces into operation at daybreak.

"We do not propose to allow the rioters to obtain one moment's start of us," said Director of Police Herbert today, "and every policeman in the city will be ready to move at the first intimation of trouble." Three of the largest motor cars were taken to the public square at daybreak, the motormen being instructed to obey the orders of the director of police.

At 3:30 o'clock a detail of police under Capt. Gates was sent to Newburg, where the large iron mills are located and where disorder was threatened. The police in that district had a meeting late last night and determined to make a raid on the wire mills today. The military were held in readiness to go to the aid of the police, should the force be inadequate to handle the mob.

In the downtown districts and throughout the city generally, quiet prevailed during the night and early morning. The foreigners who compose the disorderly element live in Newburg principally. These socialist agitators have during the past winter promulgated their doctrines and secured large numbers of converts.

Long before the earliest risers had started down town today, the police had taken possession of the public square. They were located at every corner and crosswalk and a squad of officers occupied the speaker's stand. As soon as people bound for work appeared on the streets, the work of the police began and continued all day. No one was allowed to stand in one place for any length of time, but all were kept moving. Little knots of rioters gathered here and there, but were speedily dispersed by the police, who walked to and fro with drawn clubs.

The first report of trouble today was received from the Cleveland Spring Bed company, at Wason and Hamilton streets, stating that a gang of men had attempted to break into the place and drive out the workmen. A patrol wagon loaded with officers was dispatched to the scene, but the crowd had already dispersed and disappeared.

While Superintendent Allen, of the Standard foundry, and a friend were driving to the works, a volley of stones was thrown, which one of the men was badly shattered. A shot was fired from the carriage, but no one injured. The crowd assembled about the works comprised striking molders and their sympathizers.

An incipient riot took place at noon on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh ore docks, where a large number of men were engaged in unloading ore. A crowd of rioters gathered on the docks and tried to drive the workmen away. A fight resulted, in which one or two men were slightly injured. Meanwhile a police call had been sent in, and a patrol wagon loaded with officers soon reached the spot and dispersed the mob. Work was resumed by the ore handlers under police protection.

PREMIER ROSEBERY SPEAKS.
Believes the People Will be Convinced in Favor of Home Rule.

LONDON, May 3.—Lord Rosebery speaking at Manchester last night, said the Liberal party would soon carry the conviction of the English people in favor of home rule. He was not sanguine that the various measures that had already been presented would pass parliament at the present session. This was because of the abuse of procedure in the house of commons in the form of obstruction.

He believed that the time was not far distant when the people would protest against this abuse and demand a strict account of all the time spent by parliament. He advocated revolutionary remedies for parliamentary contestants. He reproached the labor party's representatives in the house of commons for entering parliament imbued with the spirit of political anarchism and ready to direct their forces against either party, and for supporting the Tories as a return for forty years of benefits received at the hands of the Liberals.

Two Hundred Men Quit.
HILLSBORO, Ill., May 3.—The miners in the shafts here at a mass meeting have decided to quit work today in support of the national movement now on. About 200 men will be affected.

TWO ANARCHISTS ON TRIAL.

One Pleaded Guilty, Saying He Wanted to Kill Capitalists.

LONDON, May 3.—The trial of Farnaro and Polti, the Italian anarchists recently arrested in this city, was commenced today at the Old Bailey before Justice Yawkins. The police took great precautions to prevent the possibility of an anarchist outrage. No one was admitted to the public gallery without having been closely scrutinized and searched.

The court was thronged with barristers and solicitors. Polti, who is said to have turned queen's evidence, looked smilingly about the court room and listened with every sign of good humor to the reading of the charge against him.

Farnaro, when asked the usual questions as to his guilt or innocence, replied in Italian: "Guilty. I wanted to kill some capitalists." Polti, in reply to the same questions answered, in English, that he was not guilty. A moment later, Farnaro added, with emphasis: "Yes, I am guilty. I intended to blow up some capitalists and bourgeois."

The Herald's Rio de Janeiro dispatch says: The cabinet has been reorganized and Gen. Constata has been named as minister of agriculture. The new congress convenes tomorrow. In order to avoid a possible civil demonstration in opposition to that proposed by the military companies in honor of President Peixoto on his birthday, the grand banquet arranged has been declined by the president. It may occur some time in the future when the country is in a quieter mood.

TRAFFIC BEING RESUMED.
Great Northern Trains Soon to Run on Schedule Time.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 3.—This morning the Great Northern train for the West left Spokane and business of the road in all branches resumed. Arrangements will be made during the next two days to start a passenger train East in the evening on the schedule time.

The road from St. Paul to Seattle will be clear of obstructions by the time the east-bound passenger train reaches the damaged points. The bridges burned in Montana and in North Dakota are being reconstructed.

Clearing the Tracks.
SEATTLE, Wash., May 3.—Operations have been resumed on the Great Northern coast lines and Cascade division, all the striking employees promptly returning to work at the orders of the American Railway union. It will take two days to repair the tracks, for twenty miles west of the summit of the Cascade mountains there is an accumulation of snow in the rock slides on the track, but the east-bound passenger train leaving tonight is expected to get through without difficulty. An immense quantity of freight has piled up at the saw and shingle mills which have no other outlet than the Great Northern.

More Forgery Discovered.
PARIS, May 3.—The case against Count Elie de Talleyrand-Perigord, who is accused of forgery, has become more serious. Five fresh bills, each for 50,000 francs, have been bearing the forged signature of Max Lebaudy, the young man about town. The princess de Sagan, the count's mother, has offered to indemnify Lebaudy if the count abandons his suit in favor of his brother and consents to be confined in an asylum.

A Populist Measure.
WASHINGTON, May 3.—Representative Bell (Pop.), of Nebraska, has introduced a joint resolution to provide for the appointment of a joint congressional commission "to devise means for the employment of the idle men of the country, restrict immigration, start up our mines, increase the currency and prohibit the issuing of interest-bearing bonds without authority of congress and for other purposes."

Gold Shipments.
NEW YORK, May 3.—Lazard Freres shipped $1,000,000 in gold in the steamship Augusta Victoria today. An additional $250,000 has been engaged for shipment on the Lusitania Saturday.

Cholera in Portugal.

The Troops From Duluth Reached the Village of Virginia at Two O'clock This Afternoon.

They Will Not Interfere in Any Way Until the Sheriff Finds He Is Powerless.

One Thousand Pounds of Fixed Ammunition Shipped to the New Company at Duluth Today.

No Troops Other than Those in Duluth Likely to Be Called Out For Service.

ST. PAUL, May 3.—[Special to The Herald.]—Governor Nelson this morning received a telegram from Adj. Gen. Muehlberg stating that the situation in the Mesaba strike district is critical, but that the troops would be held at Iron Junction as a reserve to the sheriff's posse and would not be allowed to interfere in any way until the sheriff was powerless. The governor says no troops other than those in Duluth will be called out.

In response to a telegram from the adjutant general 1000 rounds of fixed ammunition were shipped to the new company at Duluth today.

HAVE REACHED VIRGINIA.
The Troops Reached There at 2 o'Clock This Afternoon.

VIRGINIA, Minn., May 3.—[Special to The Herald.]—The troops from Duluth, with Sheriff Sharpy and Gen. Muehlberg, reached here at 2 p. m. and are now eating dinner, the adjutant general having decided not to leave them at Iron Junction, believing that the moral effect of their presence here would be good. There has been no disturbance so far, and no prospect of any at present.

QUIET AT MOUNTAIN IRON.
Armed Deputies are Patrolling the Streets Today.

MOUNTAIN IRON, Minn., May 3.—[Special to The Herald.]—It is quiet here at present, and there has been no change in the strike situation at this point. Every precaution is being taken to meet any attack by the strikers from other points on the range and armed deputies are now patrolling the streets of the village.

It is expected that 1200 men will arrive here from Virginia this afternoon, and if the miners resume work here there is certain to be serious trouble.

Earlier news regarding the strikers' actions will be found on page 5.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.
Will be Passed Practically as Reported by Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—[Special to The Herald.]—The river and harbor bill is now under consideration in the house and it is apparent that the measure will be passed substantially as reported by the committee. Representatives Baldwin and Haugen will, of course, offer certain amendments to increase the appropriations for Duluth and Superior, and other waterway improvements in their districts. Other Minnesota congressmen will doubtless present amendments on the floor, but unless they are agreed to by the committee in advance, it is doubtful if any of them will be adopted.

Col. Kiefer's bill for a survey of a route for the proposed Superior-Mississippi canal was favorably reported to the house today by the full committee on railways and canals.

EARLY STATE CONVENTION.
Republicans Will Name Their State Ticket in June.

ST. PAUL, May 3.—[Special to The Herald.]—A meeting of the Republican state central committee has been called for the Windsor hotel St. Paul, at 2 p. m., May 10, to fix the date of the state convention and the basis of representation.

Chairman Bixby favors an early convention and many other prominent Republicans from outside who have been interviewed say the same. The date will probably be about the middle of June.

Jerry Simpson's Condition.
WASHINGTON, May 3.—Jerry Simpson is about holding his own today, and is no worse than he has been for a few days past.

WHAT TO BUY, WHERE TO BUY IT, AND WHEN TO BUY IT.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS.

Edward Caplis Notified by Maj. Baldwin That His Appointment Will Go In Today.

Denies That He Was Offered the Deputy Collectors of Customs If He Would Pull Out.

He Has Won Over Strong Opposition From Several Sources, Democratic and Republican—Other News.

The dispatch in The Herald last evening relating to the West Duluth post-office appointment is confirmed by Ed Caplis who yesterday received a telegram by Maj. Baldwin stating that his name would undoubtedly go to the senate today or tomorrow. When asked regarding the report circulated about town that he had given up the fight for the postoffice in lieu of an appointment as deputy collector, he stated that such a report was unqualifiedly false as he had contemplated no such change. The post-office fight has been a long and bitter one and Mr. Caplis seems to feel that he should hold out to the end as much in vindication of his character and running qualities as for the benefits of the position.

Mr. Caplis has won against great opposition, not only in his own party but even from prominent politicians in the Republican ranks who are members of the G. A. R. He has been Maj. Baldwin's candidate from the start and the latter has stuck to him through thick and thin in the midst of powerful opposition.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or move to look at. Upon the request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did the work. I have used three 50-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant." For sale by all druggists.

Many people fail to realize that the great actors who are seen nightly behind the footlights in the various characters they assume have lives as entirely different from the parts they play as it is possible to conceive of. In the Marborough Art Portfolio of Stage Celebrities "the public is not only given an excellent photograph of each actor and actress as he or she appears on stage, but also a short and thoroughly complete sketch of the artistic career of each, but three coupons and one dime for each part, ten of which are now ready. No. 31 now ready.

Death of W. J. Merchant.

The announcement of the death of W. J. Merchant has been received here from Sharon, Pa., where he was taken by his brother-in-law, Dr. Thoburn, a little over a week ago. Mr. Merchant was employed on The Herald, and a force at the time of being taken sick. When apparently almost recovered he was taken with a severe hemorrhage and he decided to return home as soon as possible. He was taken with another hemorrhage just before leaving. Mr. Merchant made many friends during his residence here who will hear with deep regret of his death. He was a young man of fine possibilities and capable in every way of winning success. Mrs. Thoburn left yesterday for Sharon to attend the funeral.

Business Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running sound, or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; cure cannot be effected by local means, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

MILITIA CALLED OUT.

Telegrams Sent From Virginia Asking for Aid, Five Hundred Strikers Being Congregated There Today.

At Mountain Iron the Men Unanimously Voted to Go to Work If Protection Is Given.

The range strike keeps thickening and unless settled soon it promises to be one that will keep the authorities busy. Yesterday afternoon affairs became so complicated that Sheriff Sharvy telegraphed to Governor Nelson for permission to call out the militia in case it was necessary. Permission was granted and all yesterday afternoon the local militia were in a fever of preparation.

The strike became general yesterday afternoon. Not only the miners, but strippers and men engaged on county roads and in sawmills have been forced to quit by the striking men.

No damage has been done by the strikers as yet, but once started it is impossible to say when the strike will end. This morning to take charge of the men. From the governor did not arrive in time. This was not necessary, however.

There were no new developments last night, so Sharvy concluded to wait till this morning. At 6 o'clock the militia were called out and in a short time the men were at the headquarters in the city hall. Adjutant Muehlberg, of the Third regiment, came this morning to take charge of the men. At 10 o'clock all were ready with blankets and full service accoutrements, and Company A was marched to the mines. The Duluth, Missabe & Northern special train of two cars was made ready and at 10:30 pulled out with the company on board.

Company A, under Capt. Bidwell, is the only one that went. They will survey the field and if necessary the West Duluth companies, H and G, will see for the new Company C is not equipped for service. Company A took out fifty men.

Sharvy accompanied them with Deputies Bates, Klippen, Brink, Ross, Hehl and Davis. Adj. Gen. H. Muehlberg, of St. Paul, also accompanied them. They will arrive there at 2 o'clock.

A message came from Stuart Bates, president of Virginia, this morning asking for help. The miners are congregated in Virginia, about 500 in number, and threaten to loot the stores if their demands are not acceded to. They are getting hungry. Committees were appointed to visit the various mines and see what concessions will be made. Mr. Bates asked that the sheriff come with fifty men would be enough to control them.

The Mountain Iron miners, 200 in number, met last evening and voted to man to go back to work this morning, and asking for protection. They are satisfied and willing to work if allowed to.

Yesterday the magazine at one of the mines was broken into and forty copies of stolen. It is not feared that they will use it unless they get drunk and grow reckless.

The new Company C received a consignment of guns this morning. They had uniforms already, and they are now ready for orders from the sheriff.

Notice.

There will be a special meeting of the shareholders of the National Bank of Commerce, of Duluth, at the bank Tuesday, May 15, 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m., to vote upon a resolution to reduce the number of directors of said bank from nine to seven.

Although the suggestion comes rather late, and the time is short, The Herald would suggest to such of its readers as have not previously taken advantage of its offer, that they can still procure "The Marie Burnham Art Portfolio of Stage Celebrities" upon the attractive terms of one dime and three coupons for each part. This is a beautiful production, and besides giving in each number twenty handsome half-tone photographs, contains interesting biographies that greatly add to the value of the work. There will be fourteen parts in all, the last three numbers being devoted to portraits and biographies of great musical artists.

A lady at Tooleys, La., was very sick with bilious colic when M. C. Tisler, a prominent merchant of the town gave her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says she was well in forty minutes after taking the first dose. For sale by all druggists.

PROOF OF SUPERIORITY!

This brand has followers and imitators but as is always the case the genuine is always better than the imitation. Imitation proves the superiority of an article whether it be one thing or another. In this case it is FLOUR. But they have not succeeded in producing the equal of IMPERIAL Made from the choicest Dakota wheat. Nothing like it. Grocers sell it.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Olivette" will be one of the operas produced during the Frank Deshon Opera company's engagement. Speaking of Deshon the Rochester, N. Y., Herald says: "There is only one Frank Deshon and he is that is now among us. Last night the beautiful opera 'Olivette' as presented by the Deshon company, delighted a large audience at the Lyceum. Frank was at his best; the inimitable, the peer of all comedians who have appeared here. He stands on a par with Francis Wilson; wit and humor seem to flow from him as naturally as water from an artesian well, sparkling, bright and pure, refreshing to the mind of the man of business wearied by his day's labor; resting to the wife who has laid aside household cares for the nonce, and exhilarating to all who give themselves the pleasure of listening to him. There seemed to be no effort, no forcing the humor out; it is spontaneous and contagious."

Wahlund and Johnson. Tonight will be the last opportunity to see the strong men, Wahlund and Johnson, before they leave Duluth. They will give an exhibition of their prodigious strength at the Temple this evening. It will include Wahlund's great feat of lifting eighteen or twenty men at one time. His highest record for lifting is 4674 pounds.

In addition to this exhibition, there will be given a concert by Muhlbaer & Chautauvet's orchestra. Mme. Augusta Ostrom-Renard will sing and Miss Adelaide Sawyer will give dramatic readings. The program which will be given is as follows: March—"Rallentando".....Faure Reading—Selected.....Muhlbaer's Orchestra. Song—"Vesper".....Muhlbaer's Orchestra. Verdi Value solo—"Fris Toi".....Waldteufel Reading—Selected.....Muhlbaer's Orchestra. Selection—"Clow".....Suppe Swedish folk songs.....Ostrom-Renard. Grand Fantasy—"Columbus".....Muhlbaer's Orchestra.

The Turn-Verein Exhibition. The Temple will undoubtedly be crowded tomorrow evening when the entertainment by the pupils of the Duluth Turn-Verein for the benefit of C. H. Al-lebourn, the instructor, will be given. The pupils number 200 and are of all ages and sizes. The advanced class contains a number of excellent athletes and a fine performance may be looked for. The fencing exhibition by Messrs. Hirschy and Mallette will be most interesting and will be carried out according to the Parisian code.

"Eight Bells." "Eight Bells" drew a fair audience last evening and pleased everyone. The juggling of Matthew Byrne was exceptional and John Byrne gave an exhibition of rapid crayon work well seeing.

Death of a Section Hand. The body of Patrick Burns was brought in on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern train last evening. He was a section hand and was run into by a gravel train at Bear Trap tank station, three miles this side of Columbus Junction. He was picked up unconscious and placed on the passenger train when it came along, to be brought to the hospital. He died, however, before he could be taken to the hospital.

St. Louis Club. The St. Louis Club Republican club held a short meeting last evening. The committee on revision of the constitution and by-laws asked for more time, which was given. Joseph Reynolds gave notice of motion to increase the number of officers of the club by adding a member of the county executive committee and to make the club subordinate to the state league.

PROOF OF SUPERIORITY!

This brand has followers and imitators but as is always the case the genuine is always better than the imitation. Imitation proves the superiority of an article whether it be one thing or another. In this case it is FLOUR. But they have not succeeded in producing the equal of IMPERIAL Made from the choicest Dakota wheat. Nothing like it. Grocers sell it.

A gateway of the Columbian fair, the wonderful Peristyle, was one of the most marvelous of all architectural productions. It will not be long before people to hurry on so fast to other and smaller things, and so to forget the unexampled triumphs at Chicago in 1893.

Let us look, then, for a moment at the abstract figures of this famous Peristyle, not so long as Bernini's colonnades at Rome, but vastly more Titanic. It was a line of lofty arches, 500 feet long and 150 feet high, running from the Casino to the Music hall, facing the lake on one side and the Court of Honor, on the other (and what an environment), with broad promenades between its gigantic pillars and upon the high, uplifted roof. Along its top eighty-eight allegorical statues, each in heroic proportions, were led by noble and powerful female figures, their light drapery blowing in the wind. This mighty tableau of statuary, the triumph of the modern over the triumphal feasts given in his honor, after his return to Spain; and the firm and proud expression of the discoverer is perfectly shown as he leans lightly upon his jeweled sword, with head back in heroic pose. The designers were D. C. French and E. C. Potter, two of our foremost Americans in the field of sculpture, and the success of their daring conception was attested by millions of observers.

It is a thrilling description of the planning and construction of such works as the Peristyle and their matchless pictures, which give a perennial charm to the new "Book of the Builders," whose writing has just been finished by Directors Burnham and Millet, who together know more about the fair than any other two men. With its usual vigilant solicitude for the welfare of its subscribers and readers, The Herald has incurred a great outlay to secure the making of a splendid popular edition of this book as a premium for its patrons. It is very important to bear in mind that this edition is not a cheap re-vamping of an old book, condensed and made over to favor the present time demand for premiums. It is appearing in sections, step by step, in advance of the Edition de Luxe of the same work, and is itself very carefully written by Directors Burnham and Millet, who together know more about the fair than any other two men. SETTLING A STRIKE.

Possibility That the Great Coal Miners' Strike in Pennsylvania May Be Settled Very Soon.

Operators Are Meeting to Consider Holding a Conference With the Officers of the Miners.

President McBride and Others Are in Pittsburgh in Anticipation of a Conference Being Held.

PITTSBURGH, May 3.—There is a possibility that the great miners' strike may be settled. A conference is being held at the office of Francis Dobbins, a large operator, at which two authorized delegates from the Hocking Valley district, one from the Brazil, Ind., field, one from Illinois and representatives of the Pittsburgh miners are in attendance.

They are discussing the advisability of holding a conference with the miners' officials with a view of settling the strike. In anticipation of the conference, National President John McBride, of the United Mine Workers union of America, National Secretary McBride, District President Nugent, of Ohio, and National Organizer O'Malley are in the city. President McBride was very mysterious when approached and said he was here on a visit. It was learned nevertheless, that the expected conference has been hatching for several days.

T. Norton, one of the largest producers in Ohio, accompanied Mr. McBride to Pittsburgh. He stated that the Western operators were willing to pay the advance, if the Pittsburgh operators could be induced to do so.

A number of Pittsburgh operators, who have refused to abide by any agreement in the past, are present at the conference, but W. P. Dearmitt, of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, was absent.

He said that his works were in the possession of the strikers, and until they were surrendered he would not talk of settlement. Unless he can be induced to join the conference, a settlement is hardly possible.

NORTHERN PACIFIC INQUIRY.

A Witness Whose Memory is Not in the Best Order.

CHICAGO, May 3.—In the Northern Pacific investigation today Frederick Abbott announced that he was unable to procure the books asked for on Wednesday, orders having been issued to Attorney Morris to look them up. Attorney Pettit stated that he had been told by Edwin H. Abbott, of Boston, would appear before the court of inquiry either in New York or Milwaukee with the books.

Witness Abbott further testified that he was unable to find the check book which he had alluded to Tuesday. The witness had kept accounts with the Western States Construction company, but he was unable to recall anything about them. So far as he knew the company constructed nothing.

Mr. Abbott did not remember having seen a pool or syndicate agreement proposing to furnish funds for the construction of the Chicago terminals.

WORKMEN FORCED TO FLEE.

More Trouble Caused by Strikers in the Coke Region.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., May 3.—The coke strikers made an assault on the Fort Hill plant today and forced the workmen to flee to save their lives. In the melee a number of the men were badly beaten. The plant is now closed down.

The capture of the Morewood dynamiters last night and the attack on Fort Hill has caused the greatest excitement, and the feeling of unrest is more pronounced than at any time since the last coke began.

Mobs are marching through the country and raids are feared at several points. The women made an attack on the Davidson works, but left disgusted when they found but one man at work.

TRAGEDY IN ALABAMA.

Dennis Kirkland Fatally Struck His Father and Was Slain.

OZARK, Ala., May 3.—O. S. Kirkland, a planter, and his son Dennis, quarreled over plantation matters. The son finally went to town but returned during the night very drunk.

He renewed the quarrel with his father, finally drawing a knife and slashing the elder gentleman fatally. In the meantime the latter had drawn a pistol and succeeded in discharging a bullet into the son's breast, killing him instantly.

A Cool Highwayman.

SHONORA, Cal., May 3.—A lone highwayman held up the stage between Sonoma and Nilton last night. He ordered the passengers out of the stage and then in their presence coolly proceeded to blow open the safe with giant powder. In the explosion a valise and scalpin sacking belonging to a lady passenger were blown to pieces and the robber got nothing from the safe. He then ordered the driver and passengers to go on and not look back for five minutes. They obeyed.

Is It a Hoax?

GLOUCESTER, Mass., May 3.—H. E. Porter, of Salem, while fishing off a pier, found a bottle containing the following message: "April 13th, 1892, ship lost on iceberg; no chance of being saved. Please report if picked up." Capt. J. H. Smith, schooner Llewellyn of this city, found the list of merchant vessels of the United States in the register of 1892, there are seventeen schooners named Llewellyn.

Suicide in a Cemetery.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., May 3.—W. C. Wallace, a photographer of this city, found dead on the grave of Miss Annie Buford in the Riverside cemetery to-day. He had succeeded by taking poison. Wallace was married to Miss Buford, who died two months ago.

MENACES TO NAVIGATION.

Startling Record of Derelict Vessels in the Atlantic.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The growing importance of the subject of derelicts, or abandoned vessels in the North Atlantic, the interest manifested by the press and the probability of an extra arrangement with the British government for concerted action in reporting and destroying the menaces to navigation, has caused the publication by Commander C. D. Sigbee, the naval hydrographer of a pamphlet giving a history and much valuable information of these wrecks and derelicts in the North Atlantic from 1887 to 1893.

Some of the figures are startling, showing as they do the great number of the wrecks that are floating in the course of ocean traffic, constituting perils sometimes impossible to avoid. Seven years there were seen as many as 1628 of these derelicts. During the past five years the number has been constantly increased, and while in 1887 they numbered 52, last year they reached the number of 117.

The recorded increase is probably not so much due to the actual increase of derelicts as to the better efficiency of the system adopted in reporting them. Most of these derelicts are sighted in the Gulf stream, off the United States coast, north of 30 degrees and west of 60 degrees, the number gradually decreasing to the eastward along the trans-Atlantic routes, and a number of those that remain aloft the longest time make the circuit of the Sargasso sea.

The average period of drift is about thirty days, so there is an average of nineteen derelicts constantly aloft.

KELLY IS IN STRAITS.

Hope of Securing a Train to Take the Army Out of Des Moines Almost Abandoned.

A Final Appeal Made to Governor Jackson Who Is Trying to Arrange the Matter.

Starvation Stared the Men in the Face and the Labor Demonstration Took a Success.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 3.—Gen. Kelly's army was in desperate straits today. Hope of securing a train except through the governor was abandoned. Starvation stared the men in the face, and the demonstration of the laboring people as a last resort was not a success as numbers. The call issued to all laboring men asking them to meet and march to the capitol with the demand that Governor Jackson secure a train brought unsatisfactory results. When the hour set for the march the state house arrived only forty men were in line, but on the way more were added, and a total of 100 men climbed the long flight of stairs and filed into the governor's reception room.

Gen. Weaver marched at the head of the column and acted as master of ceremonies. Private Secretary Rinehart greeted Gen. Weaver and informed the crowd that the governor would appear shortly. The men seemed ill at ease and not in the least violent as they stood about the velvet carpet. Gen. Weaver, when Governor Jackson appeared, began his address mildly, asserting that his mission was a humane one. He said he and his delegation were there to make no complaint, but merely wanted to know if there was any power in the executive to secure a train for the army.

He said that he was not a laboring man in Des Moines who would countenance any violation of the law, but that all were anxious to prevent a disbandment in Des Moines of the suffering soldiers.

"All we want," said Weaver, "is to feed these, our brethren. Their condition is not the result of their own actions."

The Trades and Labor assembly, followed with the statement that the labor organizations feared a disbandment of the army here and asked that the men be hurried out of the state. The speaker, who would glut the labor market, he said, and do great injury to Des Moines.

M. K. King, a local labor leader, in a short address, requested that the governor "in unmistakable terms" ask the railroad companies for transportation, and Chairman Lowry, of the citizens' committee, followed with a similar appeal. Every effort to secure food had been exhausted, he said, and the men turned to the governor in their extremity.

SENATORS IN CAUCUS.

Democratic Senators Met at Four O'Clock This Afternoon to Consider the Compromise Tariff Bill.

Bill Passed Authorizing Wearing of a Distinctive Army and Navy Badge on Public Occasions.

The Chinese Treaty Was Considered in Executive Session and Action Was Postponed Until Monday.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Republicans started their program when the senate met today. Although it was evident a quorum was not present, no Republican made the point and the senate proceeded immediately with its preliminary routine of business. The house bill authorizing the wearing of a distinctive army and navy badge on public occasions was passed on the motion of Mr. Mitchell, of Wisconsin. Mr. Huntton asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a bill to remit the penalties on the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius. Mr. Chandler objected.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, the house bill to authorize the commissioner of the general land office to issue a patent for MacClements, survey 356, in the Virginia military district in Ohio, was passed.

At this point Mr. Morgan refused to allow morning business to proceed further. He moved in conformity with the special order made ten days ago that the senate go into executive session to consider the Chinese treaty. The motion was agreed to. The executive session lasted less than half an hour.

The doors were reopened at 12 o'clock and on motion of Mr. Harris, the tariff bill was taken up immediately. Mr. Allison suggested that the amendment under consideration to change the date when the bill should go into effect from June 1 to June 30 in the first line of the bill, which has been extensively the subject of discussion for ten days, should be passed over. The date on which the bill should take effect, he said, could be fixed best later.

Mr. Harris agreed to pass over the amendment in order to make progress. Mr. Quay, who was entitled to the floor then yielded to Mr. Chandler.

A caucus of the Democratic senators has been called to meet in the marble room of the senate at 4 o'clock this afternoon to consider the compromise tariff bill.

Action on the Chinese treaty was postponed in executive session until Monday next.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Information was received that the department has ordered a court martial to try Lieut. Maney at Fort Snelling. This takes the case out of the jurisdiction of the department of the Missouri and amounts to a change of venue for the lieutenant.

Capt. Grayson's Army.

OGALLALA, Neb., May 3.—Capt. Grayson's army left this morning, going East. The soldiers were well filled up here and had provisions to last to Sutherland, on the Union Pacific. Several wagons hauled the outfit, most of the men riding. There are ninety men in the company.

Capt. Duff's Wealers.

ASHLAND, Neb., May 3.—Capt. Duff, with his army of thirty men, left here this morning in good condition for Omaha. They had a good night's rest and plenty to eat this morning. Capt. Thompson presented Capt. Duff with $5 and wished him Godspeed in his noble cause.

THE SOUTH DAKOTA CROPS.

Reports From Thirty-Five Counties are Very Favorable.

ST. PAUL, May 3.—A Huron, S. D., special to the Dispatch says: S. W. Glenn, of the United States weather bureau, gives the following concerning crop conditions in South Dakota up to May 1, as shown by reports received from thirty-five counties.

High temperature, much sunshine and ample showers have been the prevailing weather conditions during the week, and were very favorable for all kinds of field work, except, possibly, plowing where the ground was already wet and subsequent showers were heavy.

In localities where that work was last week interrupted by unfavorable weather conditions seeding of wheat, oats and barley has been vigorously pushed, and is about completed. A few localities report that the very early (March) sown wheat and oats is coming up thin and in some instances the ground has been re-seeded. Otherwise the crops have made marked progress and look healthy and vigorous.

UNCLE SAM NOT THROUGH.

Warrants for Great Northern Men Still to Be Served.

ST. PAUL, May 3.—Although the Great Northern strike is settled, the United States authorities are not done with the men who interfered with the passage of mail trains and conspired to retard them.

In the hands of Marshal Bede there are still some fifty warrants for the arrest of the Great Northern men charged with the offenses above named, which will be served. It is thought possible the men may surrender themselves and gain consideration of the court thereby.

Of the twenty-five men arrested, all except two have given bail and gone home. They are bound over to the June term of the United States district court.

Will Quit Working.

CHICAGO, May 3.—According to information received by Otto A. Deier, Danish consul in this city, Peter Anderson, of Denver, Col., who has marched with Coxe's army from Ohio to Washington, is heir to a large fortune. His father, a wealthy land owner in Denmark, died last September, leaving him the estate, but Anderson had not heard of it when he began his weary tramp.

A Boston Failure.

BOSTON, May 3.—The Hollander, Bradshaw-Folsom company, doing business at 615 Washington street, have assigned for the benefit of their creditors. The assets are $25,000 and the liabilities $141,000. The corporation carried on a department store.

Mr. Dana's Story.

The late Richard P. Dana was fond of good stories. There is one he told a short time before his death in reply to a question as to what was the strongest negative he had ever heard.

"I was in Kobe, Japan, many years ago," he said, "and ran short of ready money. I had a draft for $2,000, however, and I went to an English banking house to get it cashed.

"How much will you charge me to cash this draft?" I asked.

"The cashier figured and named the price.

"That is rather high," I suggested and tried to persuade him to reduce his price.

"What are you willing to pay?" he finally asked.

"Nothing if I can avoid it," I replied.

"The cashier looked me over from head to foot, then pushed the draft slowly toward me, remarking, 'Sir, we do nothing for nothing for nobody here.'"

Then and Now.

Men still in middle age can remember the days when architectural development in this country was at a standstill, and no suggestion of the birth of a new architectural order had appeared.

Emerson says it is a long step from the gorilla to the gentleman. Surely we can say the same of the progression of architecture in the last thirty years—from the terrible vulgarity and meaningless decorations of the early sixties to the classic refinement and beauty of the White Palaces at the World's Fair.

All this and much more touching the progress of the world in the last fifty years is unfolded to the fortunate reader of the "Book of the Builders."

And not alone of architecture, but of every other profession, science and craft was this progress clearly demonstrated by the great Exposition at Chicago.

It is because of these instructive features that the "Book of the Builders" must be regarded as one of the greatest educational works of the present decade. It crystallizes the lessons of the Fair, preserving them in permanent form, so that they may be digested and assimilated by the reader. We hope that no one of our readers has failed to grasp the significance of this important publication, and register its determination to secure each section as it appears.

BASEBALL NOW KING.

The Great National Game is Declared at Present on the Top Wave of Popularity.

Nearly Forty Thousand People Saw the First Four Games of the Season in Four Cities.

Statesmen, Diplomats, Society People and Every Day Cranks Have Fairly Gone Wild Over the Game.

The opening of the championship season in the National league settles beyond any shadow of doubt the question whether baseball has regained its former great hold upon the hearts of the American people. It has, I am going further and predict that the enthusiasm which will this year attend the national sport wherever it is played, will exceed anything of the kind ever known in the history of the game.

To close observers this wave of popular "rage" about baseball was seen rolling in last winter, and it increased in size and sweep during the early spring exhibition games. It required but the opening cham-

GREENROOM Gossip.

A play by Willie Edouin called "A Rash Engagement" will be produced shortly at the Strand theater, London.

Mrs. Cora Urquhart Potter and Kyrle Bellows are about to return from the orient, where they have been on a professional tour covering nearly a year. Mrs. Potter will bring home a new historical drama entitled "Charlotte Corday," in which Mr. Bellows will play the role of Marat.

A. M. Palmer contemplates producing next season a play from the German entitled "The Right to Happiness."

Dagmar and De Cella, after a long and very prosperous American season, have sailed for Europe. The former is going to Italy to continue the cultivation of her voice.

"Charles's Uncle," the comedy recently successfully produced in Chicago, was called "The Noble Art" when originally brought out at Terry's theater, London.

The Rosenfeld brothers have engaged for the leading role in "Hedra" at the Fifth Avenue theater, New York, a 15-year-old girl who, under the name of Vasta, made a hit five years ago as a child actress. Her real name is Alice Pierce, and she is the daughter of the actress and singer, Mrs. Pierce.

Clay M. Greene is writing a play in which Wilton Lackaye contemplates starring next season.

H. Gratton Donnelly has finished the libretto for a new opera that will be done at San Francisco and is engaged upon a play for production in New York next season.

Laura Burt, who sails for Europe shortly, will appear in the London production of "In Old Kentucky."

O'Leary Carte wanted to revive "The Mikado" to succeed "Clay" at the Savoy theater, London, but Mr. Gilbert refused to allow this unless the heroine's part was allotted to an artist who was objectionable to Sir Arthur Sullivan and Mr. Carte.

Two of Sardou's plays, "Don Quixote" and "La Patrie," will be presented on a scale of great magnificence at Drury Lane theater, London.

Charles Wittmer, the Wrestler.

Ernest Roeder of New York, William Muldoon's powerful pupil, is at present champion Greco-Roman wrestler of the world, but Charles Wittmer, a young Cincinnati athlete of herculean build, believes that he can win the championship if Roeder will meet him in a finish contest. Roeder has promised to accommodate the Cincinnati in October. He recently attempted to throw Wittmer in 15 minutes and failed.

Wittmer was born in Cincinnati 31 years ago and is an engineer. Ten years ago he began wrestling, and his first professional bout was with the late Matt Soudki. The Jap not only failed to throw Wittmer in 15 minutes, but was himself thrown.

Wittmer wrestled Muldoon twice—once in 15 minutes and once in a 30 minute bout. At different times in his life he has defeated Tom McInerney, August Wagner, Martin Muldoon, T. C. Comstock, Sebastian Miller, Fritz Groenewegen, Jack Callahan, Bert Sheller, A. Woods, Jack Carkeek, Tom Lannon, Lewis, "The Strangler," and August McMillan. Wittmer wrestles at 190 pounds.

Charles Klein's New Play.

Charles Klein's new play, "Willie," recently produced by Charles Dickson, is styled a satirical comedy, but it is so broad as to trespass upon the realm of pure farce comedy. The piece deals with the adventures of Willie Furbelwell, a sporty young man, who, under a contract to marry Sarah Tagstock, a pious sister of the bookmaker, Nathaniel Tagstock, meets his former fiancée, Florence Bignold, with whom he has fallen out on account of his attentions to Emma Sedley, a late Mattie Soule girl, who is all the while engaged to marry Tagstock. With this as a groundwork, Charles Klein has constructed a play crowded so full of complications that the very atmosphere grows thick with them. For making laughter "Willie" is well written. The one regrettable feature is the absence of "A Straight Tip" and "The Private Secretary."

COLORS CHOSEN BY CRACK CYCLISTS.

George F. Taylor will wear a full suit of crimson.

Garnet will be Guy L. Gary's color from cap to shoes.

W. W. Taxis has chosen a black suit, yellow sash and black and yellow cap.

E. C. Bode will ride in black and wear a green sash and green and black cap.

George C. Smith will wear a black suit, white cap and belt and winged foot of black against the white bosom of his shirt.

George Fitzsimmons, the coming south-east crack, will wear a white shirt and blue cap and knickerbockers.

It is shown that the playing rules of the national league require the use of one or the other of these last named two balls in any and all championship games played by club members of the League. Then the national agreement provisions stipulate that any organization receiving protection under that instrument must be covered by the National league playing rules. Therefore Chairman Young holds that the Southern league must use either the Spalding or Reeball ball or surrender its national agreement privileges.

Naturally this dictum filled the souls of the Southern league magnates with feelings of bitter resentment, but there was no way before them but submission. Somebody evidently took a very little and mean advantage of a technicality to sell a few balls and prostituted the honor of the national game and the national agreement to do it. I know A. J. Reeb personally and cannot believe him capable of such narrow minded business.

Whenever the National league or national agreement is brought so low as to be used as an instrument to sell a few dozen balls under compulsion, then the shade of the late William A. Hart will wrap its ghastly shroud around its head and utter sepulchral groans.

O. P. CAYLOR.

PAINT cracks.—It often costs more to prepare a house for repainting than it has been painted in the first place with cheap ready-mixed paints, than it would have to be painted twice with strictly pure white lead, ground in pure linseed oil.

Strictly Pure White Lead forms a permanent base for repainting and never has to be burned or scraped off on account of scaling or cracking. It is always smooth and clean. To be sure, getting strictly pure white lead, putting simply of the following brands: "Southern," "Red Seal," "Collier," "Shipman."

For Colors.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead "Finest Colors," a one-pound can will give you a square yard of surface. Saves time and annoyance in matching shades, and insures the best point that it is possible to put on wood.

Tomorrow, Friday Evening

the pupils of the Duluth Turn-Verein give an Athletic Exhibition at the TEMPLE OPERA for the benefit of their general instructor, C. H. Alleborn. The entertainment promises to be clever; and just now, when such widespread interest is manifested in physical training, the performance will be doubly interesting. A special feature of the evening will be the appearance of the renowned Fencers, Herman Hirschy, champion of Minnesota, and Harry C. Malette, champion of the Northwest, who will give an exhibition in Fencing, the like of which has never been seen here before. Photos of these noted gentlemen, and Duluth Turners, can be seen in our windows. They are perfect specimens of physical manhood and show what can be accomplished in the German school of training.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Address by Staff Capt. Blanche Cox at the Methodist Church.

Staff Capt. Blanche Cox, of the Salvation Army, a woman who is well known for earnest work, not only by Salvationists but by the public, spoke in the well-filled lecture room of the Methodist church last night.

"The world," she said, "calls the whole-hearted Christian a fanatic. The fanatic is rather to be classed among the fanatics of Christ than belong to the body of so-called Christians. All the leaders of Christianity, from Christ down to the humblest soldier in the Salvation Army, have been called fanatics."

The speaker told of the difficulties Salvationists have to overcome in foreign countries. In France the meetings must be held within barricaded doors to keep out the mobs. Sometimes even the gardeners interfere with them.

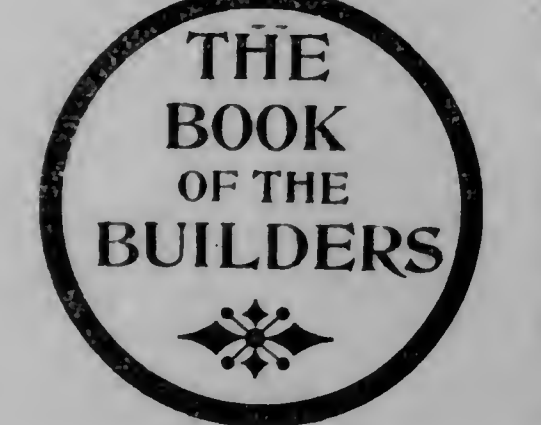

She told of the great devotion manifested in the work as shown by the Swiss Salvationists, the followers of Miss Douth. In contrast to this she showed the half-hearted spirit of the fashionable churches. "The army wages war against sin in twenty-two different languages," she said. "The reason others do not like us is because we are too honest and earnest in our worship. They want to go to heaven by an easy road, but that we are told leads in another direction."

She cited instances of persecution today, telling how a band of seven were mobbed in Syracuse, N. Y., and how a Salvationist was killed by a mob in St. Louis three weeks ago.

The meeting closed, with revival services. An Inquest Held. It was decided to hold an inquest on Patrick Burns, killed on the Mississippi yesterday, and the following were selected as jurors: A. Hirsch, E. L. Fisher, D. J. Hood, John Crowley, Frank Zeller and Frank Merritt. The hearing was held in Stewart's morgue. Nothing was done this morning but to take Dr. Magee's testimony. An adjournment was taken to 1:30 o'clock when the train crew was to appear.

C. A. Stoller, the tea and coffee man, has removed to 27 West Superior street.

CAUGHT AT IT AGAIN

For the Second Time Young Tom McLaughlin Falls Into the Hands of the Police.

He is Altogether Too Free With His Pen and Has Again Been Committing Forgery.

Two Checks Have Already Materialized and More Are Expected—Will Be Prosecuted This Time.

Experience may be a great teacher, but there are some people who will not learn from it. Young Thomas McLaughlin is one of these. He was arrested some weeks ago at St. Paul for forging the Woodward Clothing company's name to a check and getting it cashed. He was brought back and his case was brought before the grand jury. For some reason he was let off, no indictment being found. It was perhaps thought that it would serve as a lesson, but it was the object of clemency it failed of its purpose.

Yesterday afternoon young McLaughlin was again arrested on complaint of Charles Olson of the West End for forgery. Two checks have already materialized and more will probably turn up. One was passed on Wieland Bros, the shoe dealers, amount $18.50 and the other on Olson & Johnson, the amount being $40. Both were signed by French & Bassett and were made out to a fictitious person and the name endorsed on the back. The forgeries were not even cleverly done.

It is quite likely to prove serious with McLaughlin this time. He is a young man only nineteen years of age and is a son of Capt. McLaughlin.

CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT.

Daniel Munro Has Not Paid the Alimony Directed by the Court.

Sometime ago Judge Ensign granted Mary Ann Munro a divorce from Daniel Munro, and directed Daniel to pay his ex-wife $40 per month alimony and $500 attorney's fees. This morning Mrs. Munro filed an affidavit to the effect that the money has not been forthcoming. Judge Ensign signed an order requesting Daniel to appear at the special term next Saturday and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt and misconduct in refusing to obey the order of the court.

The divorce suit of Mary Goewey against F. S. Goewey has been dismissed, the defendant having settled the matter by his death.

The village of Virginia has filed suit in the district court against E. C. Burke and G. L. Strong for an injunction restraining them from moving a two-story frame house belonging to Burke. The village has an ordinance prohibiting the erection or removal of a frame house within the fire limits. Burke's house is now within the fire limits, but not close enough to any other house to be a source of danger. He proposes to move it to another point nearer other houses, and the village objects.

Leonard E. Schmauss, proprietor of a meat shop on Twentieth avenue west, has filed a voluntary assignment to M. M. Gasser.

F. J. Marsh has commenced an action in the district court to replevin the stock of C. H. Nelson, the stationer doing business at 16 Fifth street, who was assigned to C. McAdam a short time ago. In the case of J. G. Howard against the Duluth Driving Park association, Bert Holcomb has filed a complaint in intervention on a transcript of judgment for $219.35 from the municipal court for music rendered by the City band at the driving park meets.

The Polinsky and Oreckovsky Families Involved in Another Quarrel.

In police court this morning Mrs. Goldie Polinsky was arraigned on the charge of maliciously destroying personal property. The complaint was sworn to by G. Oreckovsky, who alleges that Madam Polinsky, with her first broke four panes of glass out of a window sash in the rear of 212 Third street east. The defendant pleaded not guilty and her hearing will come off tomorrow afternoon.

COMPLAIN OF EXCLUSION.

Members of a Finnish Lutheran Church Object to Being Shut Out.

The case of Henrik Ruonala et al. against Henry Sorbela et al., which has been dragging on before Judge Ensign for nearly a week, was finished this morning. The parties are members of the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church of West Duluth. The plaintiffs, who live at Fond du Lac, sued for damages on the ground that they had been excluded from good church by the defendants, who are the West Duluth members. Judge Ensign decided that there was no evidence of such exclusion, and rendered judgment for the defendants.

MARINE NOTES.

Steamer Monarch to Arrive on Monday Next—Northern Queen Will Bring Immigrants.

The steamer Monarch, of Beatty's Sarnia line, will arrive here on Monday for the first time this year. Her cargo will be merchandise and will include about thirty-five car loads of staves for Duluth. A few passengers will also come.

The German and Saxon loaded with ore yesterday. The Saxon's deck was taken out 450 tons consigned to Ashtabula. This ore was the same that remained in the cars and pockets during the winter, now they have been shipped from the mines this season and will not be until the strike is over.

The Northern Queen on her present trip carries a number of Russian immigrants for North Dakota. The Owego made a test of hard coal on steaming this week, and the chief engineer reports very satisfactory results.

A Chicago coal firm owning docks in Detroit, Ashland and Manitowish, is offering to fuel boats at $3.00 for Hocking, and $3.25 for Pittsburgh coal. They are taking advantage of the scarcity at Erie ports.

The month of April was a heavy one on lake underwriters, considering the small amount of tonnage in commission. The W. H. Barnum and Minneapolis sinking with grain in the Straits was the heaviest loss. They were insured for $65,750 on a valuation of $77,000, and their cargoes for $52,687. Aside from those totally lost there was about $35,000 loss in strandings, collisions, fires, etc.

DRAFT FOR ONE CENT.

Uncle Sam Drew on a Former Postmistress for That Amount.

The report of the postoffice for April this year shows a considerable falling off from that of last April. The total receipts were $6151.39 divided as follows: Sales of stamps, etc., $5824.38; box rents, $337; drafts collected, $601. The salaries for the office amounted to $1779.08; free delivery service expense, $1482.55; postal clerks, $485.18; remitted to assistant treasurer, $3004.58. The receipts for April, 1893, were $7202.09.

The item of "draft collected $ or" gives an exhibition of the peculiarly precise business methods of the government. The postoffice at Baker, north of Tower, was discontinued. When the department figured up the accounts of the postmaster it was found that she was 1 cent short. Now any business man would have thrown a penny in the till and thought no more about it, but this great government caused a big draft for 1 cent to be made out to it on to the Duluth office to be collected. The postmistress lives at Tower and signed the receipts and mailed them back.

DULUTH TO THE PACIFIC.

There May be Fairer Lands, But Duluth is the Best.

An interesting letter signed "F. L. H." describing a recent trip from Duluth to San Francisco and return appears in the last issue of the Omaha Enterprise. In opening the writer says:

"From Minnesota almost necessarily implies from Duluth, since the fame of that progressive city has reached the remotest corners of the Union, and its name is more familiar to the public if possible than the state itself. And a trip from the head of Lake Superior to the almost extreme south of California in midwinter affords a change of climate and sensations as varied, as pleasing, as would satisfy even the most fastidious."

After describing the trip to the Pacific coast and back again to Duluth, he writes: "After a little more than five weeks absence I am back again on my old stamping ground, and while nearly all the places I visited presented some particular feature in their favor I was truly glad to be at home again, and with due regard to the superb climate and beautiful scenery, I can truly say there's no place like home. We will try to eliminate the few weeks which must elapse before we will have the beautiful climate and scenery while sub-tropical California is withering in the almost torrid sun. To look ahead is but human, and with the insignificant drawback of a somewhat chilly winter, I can but add, Duluth for the entire twelve months is a very nice place for a permanent residence, and I am willing to accept the consequences of my choice."

Peter Bosch and Charles MacLean, the hospital attendants who are suspected of having contracted smallpox while attending Montgomery, will be removed to the new pest house. They appear to have a very light attack of varioloid, although it is not certain that it is that.

The doctors point to these cases as showing the wonderful effect of vaccination. One of them had never been vaccinated until it was found that Montgomery had smallpox and yet it has proved effective in preventing him from getting smallpox.

Will be Notified. Dr. Goffe will be notified when the quarantined vessel Peers leaves Marquette, Mich., and if it then proceeds to Duluth will see that no one lands until all precautionary measures possible against infection from smallpox have been taken.

ALL NOW QUIET

No Demonstrations Made by the Strikers or Officers at Mountain Iron or Virginia Today.

Two Unsuccessful Attempts to Resume Work at Mountain Iron, Men Being Willing But Afraid.

Work Was Resumed at the Oliver and Drake & Stratton's Properties Near Virginia Under Protection.

Sheriff Sharvy Has Telegraphed for Fifty More Deputies, Not Having Enough to Cover the Territory.

At 10 o'clock this morning all was quiet on the Mesaba range and there had been no violence. The men returned to work at the Mountain Iron mine this morning without being molested. The appearance of the militia has had the effect of quieting the strikers for while they greatly outnumber the soldiers the blue coats and brass buttons have an awe-inspiring effect. At the Franklin mine no men are at work. Up to 11 a. m. no word has been received at the sheriff's office here.

When the troops arrived at Virginia yesterday there was considerable surprise but no demonstration farther than some jeering on the part of the strikers. The rest of the day was spent quietly. The strike committee had declared that no men who wished to work would be interfered with but this was not adhered to. A number of railroad hands were driven away from their work and one section man was clubbed.

In the afternoon Sheriff Sharvy talked with the strike committee and pointed out the law. He informed the committee that all men who wished to work would be protected. Sheriff Sharvy swore in twenty deputies yesterday.

There was a conference with mine owners yesterday by the strikers' committee, but nothing resulted. The men at the Franklin mine are getting 20 cents per ton and this is claimed is not interfered with. They have the sympathy of the people. James Corrigan, the owner, was in Duluth last evening and will go to Virginia today. The men refuse to arbitrate.

The men at the Oliver and Auburn mines want $1.50 and $1.65. They have been getting $1.35 and $1.45.

At 12 o'clock today the men have gone to work at the Oliver mine on Drake & Stratton's stripping contract under protection of the deputies. Sheriff Sharvy has telegraphed for fifty or seventy-five more deputies, his present force being insufficient to spread over the large territory. The men are not making any show of opposition, but are ugly, and outcries can be heard on all sides. The militia has not been called upon as yet and will not be until Sheriff Sharvy has become powerless.

[A special to The Herald from Mountain Iron at 2 p. m. said: The situation is unchanged here. There have been two attempts made to start the mines again, but in vain. The men are willing but are afraid of the other strikers. If the crowd comes from Virginia as reported there will be trouble without a doubt, but it is hardly expected.

John Gulbrandson the contractor, telegraphed for supplies for his camp on the range. Mr. Gulbrandson has a railway contract and had laid in a lot of provisions which the strikers unceremoniously appropriated to their use. It is stated his food supply was cleaned out entirely.

Adj. Gen. Muehlberg returned today from Virginia and left for St. Paul at 1:30 o'clock. He will not return and has placed the control of the militia in Sheriff Sharvy's hands. He says there was nothing new at the time he left, and he does not anticipate any serious trouble. Sheriff Sharvy is managing affairs like a veteran general.

At 2 o'clock today the men were still working at the Oliver mine and had not been molested.

JAMES CORRIGAN HERE.

Owner of the Franklin Mine Says He Cannot Raise Wages.

James Corrigan arrived from Cleveland last evening. He said the scale price at the Franklin is 20 cents per ton and that the best miners are making $1.62 per day. He claims the mine was only started up because the men wanted work at any price and were starving. He says 20 cents per ton is all he can afford to pay and compete with the other mines which are owned by corporations that own the railroad and get their own rates. Then again the Franklin is an underground mine while the others use a steam shovel. This gives them a double advantage. He claims that the Copeck miners who have gone on to the Mesaba range are responsible for the trouble.

A well known mine man referring to Mr. Corrigan's statement that at 20 cents a ton some of his miners were earning $1.62 per day said that at that rate the best a man can average is from 70 cents to $1 per day.

STATEMENT BY A MINER.

Says the Men Were Underpaid, But Were Quite Peaceable.

VIRGINIA, Minn., May 4.—[Special to The Herald.]—It was a very great surprise to the citizens of Virginia to learn yesterday morning that the president of the village of Virginia had telegraphed for help. There had nothing but false rumors been circulated, and there was as much need of military protection as there was of electing a man without muscle, brains or money, as president of any village. The strikers yesterday issued a circular as follows:

"To the Mine Owners, Superintendents, Foremen, Contractors and others:

"We, the men who have come out from our work for more pay would say: That at the present price of provisions and the rate of wages at the present given we cannot live and pay our debts. We have suffered during the long winter that has passed. We are representatives from all European countries, and we join with our American brothers in the cry for more pay. We do not want to stop any work and we would advise all our brethren who can get as laborers, $1.50 a day and miners who can get $1.65 per day to go to work, for whatever company will pay that amount per diem, and we pledge our hearty support to all companies, contractors and others who will advance the pay to the rate given above. By order of the committee,

Now the facts of the case are these: Nearly all the winter the men in this district have been out of work, and had it not been for the credit given them by several stores, more especially Jackson & Co., Pratt & Co., and O. Korby, many families would have been starving.

Then when a little work was to be had men had to work for $1 a day. Winston Iros, started stripping at the Iron King and Norman, and any married men with families in Virginia had to board at their camps. Many of the families are in debt for their winter's provisions.

Men at the Franklin mine could not get $1 a day. Many of them last month did not average that. At the Minnesota Mining company's mines, they paid $1.20 and so they increased the pay at Winston's. At the Franklin the pay for surface men was 80 cents; miners, 90 cents; pump men, engineers and carpenters, $1.25 per day. The men have been getting $1.35 and $1.45.

On the first day of May the Franklin mine men came out and marched to the Auburn, Norman, Oliver and other mines, and the men all came out voluntarily. Yesterday about fifty men went to Mountain Iron and persuaded the men to stop, but it is from the Duluth morning paper that we learn that powder was stolen from any of the mines.

Even the leader of the strike, who has been in this country thirty-two years and fought in the rebellion, came and asked Mr. McPherson, our marshal, to close the saloons. Everyone is peaceable as far as can be ascertained and the appearance of the militia caused the first tremor of uneasiness felt in Virginia. The strikers all have the sympathy of all business men in the village, and the four police officers of the village were sufficiently able to cope with any disturbance. The wages given at present are scarcely what a man with a family can live on. Of course such a large assemblage of miners, there are some whose passions overcome their prudence, but it was totally unnecessary to call out any soldiers and the committee had the men under perfect control. But now that

FIFTEEN SHOT.

The Painter Works of the McClure Coke Company Attacked by Striking Huns This Morning.

Many Shots Were Exchanged and a Number of the Strikers and Women Were Wounded.

Mine Superintendent White Was Brutally Beaten and Kicked and His Recovery is Considered Doubtful.

Bookkeeper Roddy Also Seriously Injured—Mobs Assembling at Various Points and Turbulent Times Feared.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., May 4.—A riot occurred at the Painter works of the McClure Coke company about 6 o'clock today. The company made an effort to start this and other plants of the company Tuesday, and today the women living at the plant determined to drive the "blacklegs" from work. They assembled and with tin pans, clubs, coke forks and brooms marched to the coke yard. Sanford White, mine superintendent; Ewing B. Roddy, bookkeeper, and a lot of deputies were on guard.

A shot was fired to scare the women. In less than a minute the men living in the house rushed to the scene, when White opened fire on the crowd that numbered 100. The affray occurred between blocks of ovens, and at the first fire from White and the deputies three men fell wounded. One was shot through the thigh, one through both legs and the third in the neck. It is believed the latter is hurt fatally.

The women carried off the wounded, and the now infuriated men set upon White and Roddy, whom they seemed to regard as responsible for the shooting. Before a sufficient number of deputies could be massed at this point, Sanford White was completely surrounded. He was brutally beaten over the head, knocked down, kicked and bruised about the body. His recovery is doubtful.

While all this was going on, the deputies who had begun to use their Winchester managed to shoot one woman who was said to be dying. Roddy, the bookkeeper, was thought at first to be badly injured, but he escaped with only slight bruises, and was brought here for treatment.

The doctors of the town were summoned and are now caring for the wounded. White's wounds were dressed and he was sent to the miners' hospital in Connellyville. It has just been learned that a big Hun had a white man down and was standing over him with an ax, when he was knocked down by James Tarr, one of the store clerks.

It is now believed that at least fifteen were shot. There is great excitement throughout the entire region. The strikers are becoming desperate and mobs are assembling at various points to raid the plants now in operation. The operators and leaders of the strike predict turbulent times within the next few days.

Later—The riot at the Painter works resulted in the wounding of ten strikers and serious injury to Superintendent White and E. B. Roddy, the bookkeeper of the company. White and Roddy were terribly beaten by the mob and the latter is in a critical condition. Two of the strikers will die. The plant started up at 3 o'clock with about one half the complement of men. Two hours later the strikers began to assemble near the works and some of the men became frightened and went home, but most of them remained.

About 6 o'clock a committee was sent into the mines to request the men to come out, and upon their refusal the mob, headed by a score or more of women, attacked the plant. White and Roddy, assisted by a dozen of deputies, stood guard, and when the mob came up with a rush White fired point blank into their ranks. A Hungarian woman fell with a bullet in her thigh. Maddened by this the mob, which numbered 200, closed in on the deputies, who, driven into close quarters and blinded by the shower of missiles, were unable to use their Winchesters.

After emptying their revolvers, they fled and the mob surrounded White and Roddy. A burly Hun attacked the latter with a hatchet, felling him to the ground, and was about to deal the death blow when James Tarr knocked the Hun down with a club. White was dragged into the engine house to escape the fury of the strikers. By this time the deputies rallied, and three volleys were fired in quick succession, forcing the mob to retreat. A number of strikers were carried from the battlefield, and it is believed they were killed.

Dr. W. H. Cole, the company physician, stated that fifteen strikers went down in the three charges. One woman was carried off the ground after the first charge, and when the mob finally retreated

Two Good Rules

First: Make your money honestly.

There never was any happiness obtained by the aid of gains ill-gotten. Every dollar earned by honest toil buys a hundred cents worth of happiness in every market on earth. A hundred thousand dollars wrongfully possessed, cannot buy a cent's worth of heartfelt pleasure anywhere.

Second: Spend your money carefully.

While you are earning it by something which you probably don't want, somebody else is equally busy making something you do want. Don't be worsted by the trade until you find the best place to spend it. Hold the dollar so tightly that the Eagle screams and the GODDESS OF LIBERTY expostulates.

JENKINS IS ROASTED.

Report of the Majority of the Committee Who Investigated Judge Jenkins' Northern Pacific Decision.

The Committee Does Not Deem it Advisable to Impeach Him But Roasts Him Severely.

The Opinion is Expressed That Judges Entertain Too Broad Ideas of Their Contempt Powers.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Representative Boatner, of Louisiana, chairman of the special committee of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives, appointed to investigate the Northern Pacific decision of Judge Jenkins, today submitted in brief from a majority of the investigation committee a report to the full judiciary committee.

After reciting the well-known fact and circumstances leading up to the granting of the two orders of the injunction by Judge Jenkins, the report proceeds as follows:

Notwithstanding the suggestion by the employees that they desired to confer, the orders were immediately obtained without awaiting the results of a conference or being in possession of any definite information of the intention of the employees with respect to the schedules upon which they solicited a conference. The original order received on Dec. 10, had a two-fold aspect. It reduced existing wages and enjoined and prohibited those who were to receive them, if they remained in the service of the company, from quitting the service with or without notice so as to cripple the property or injure the operations of the road.

On being advised that if so ordered or advised by the officers of the organization to which they belonged the men would quit the service in a body, and that under the construction placed upon the existing order (the injunction) by those who had obtained it, they would thereby commit a contempt of court so doing, the officers of the company immediately asked for and the judge granted the second order of injunction on Dec. 23. The object of this was to ensure to the company the compulsory services of the employees in its employ, because if under the first order of injunction the men could not quit without being guilty of contempt and would do so unless ordered by the officers of their organization, and if these officers were prohibited from advising the strike, it was perfectly evident that the officers so enjoined could not discharge their duty as officers of their office, and the men could not quit when prohibited from so doing by the court and not authorized to do so by the organizations by whose rules and regulations they were governed.

This was the object sought to be obtained; that the order was drawn to effectuate it and it was signed by the judge with that intent, the language of the order and concomitant circumstances left no room for doubt. Your committee has no hesitation in declaring that the orders rendered were a gross abuse of the power of the court; were supported by neither reason nor authority; were beyond the jurisdiction of the judge and were therefore void. The second or supplementary writ was more reprehensible than the first, because the judge was advised before he rendered it of the exact objects and purposes sought to be accomplished. There was no suggestion in either of these letters of any fear from illegal acts of the fear from suspension of traffic of an attending damage to the road and inconvenience to the public were the sole reasons for the action which the judge took.

Your committee also finds that no measures looking to a strike had been inaugurated nor does any seem to have been in contemplation, nor does it appear that any of the persons named or referred to in the writs of injunction have remained in the service of the company against their will. It does appear, however, that while they regarded the writ void, they believed that so long as it was in force they were bound to obey it under penalty of punishment for contempt if they violated it and this consideration might have been more effective than they are aware of in inducing them to remain in the service of the receivers.

Your committee does not concur in the opinion of the judge that the decisions rendered in the Toledo cases, page 54, federal reports, by Judges Taft and Ricks, at all support his contention in the case under consideration. On the contrary both of the cases clearly recognize the principle that courts of equity cannot enforce the specific performance of the contract for personal service by writs of injunction and other processes, but that in such cases the remedy is at law by an action for damages. They also clearly recognize the right of the laboring people as a means of selling their labor at higher price, of coercing employers to accede to their demands. In determining the lawfulness of a proceeding of this kind, the judges justly take the law as sustaining the employee, and inconvenience to the general public cannot be considered.

If employees have the lawful right to combine in a strike for the purpose of forcing compliance with their demands or securing the highest wages and best terms possible, that right cannot be remedied by the fact that its exercise is levied on the interest of others. Its principle applies, of course, only to those strikes which exist in the withdrawal of service from the employer, and not to the strikers have abandoned and are prevented from doing so by violence, intimidation, threats, or other unlawful means, these acts are not only unlawful but in most instances would constitute violations of the criminal laws and be punishable as such.

The conclusion, therefore, of the judge that the employees of the Northern Pacific Railroad company might be forced by writs of injunction to protect that company from loss and the public from inconvenience by remaining in its service at a rate of wages, to which they had not given their assent, is one in which we cannot concur, and which in our judgment is supported by none of the decisions which he cites.

Your committee find nothing in the testimony or any corrupt intention on the part of the judge to render these orders. It is altogether possible that he is sincere in the conviction that he properly exercised the equity jurisdiction of his court in preventing losses and damages which would have resulted from a lawful strike against the Northern Pacific Railroad company. This view of the case prevents us from recommending any proceedings looking to his impeachment, but in order that there may be no further excuse for the rendition of any such orders or decrees and that the courts of equity of the United States may not be deceived as to the extent of their powers in enforcing contracts for personal services by legal process, we recommend the enactment of a statute which will prevent them from doing so.

We also feel constrained to call attention to the abuses which have grown up under the powers assumed by the judges of the courts of the United States as appoint receivers for railroad corporations. These orders being rendered in court under proceedings initiated nominally for the purpose of effecting foreclosures, but really for the purpose of averting pursuit of creditors and the enforcement of lawful obligations, are considered intemperate and subject to appeal. If, however, an appeal is granted, it does not have the effect of suspending the execution of the decree and the road passes into the hands of a receiver who operates it, at least pending the appeal, and this action of the judge is entirely the province of any court whatever by the owner and creditors of the property.

The powers exercised by the courts through the receivers are purely of the nature of a receivership, and the construction not ascertained or limited by statute and therefore dangerous. Your committee is of the opinion that the cases for which a receiver may be ordered in the courts of the United States should be declared by statute. The anomaly has been presented for years that a receiver may be appointed and the business of common carrier being carried on by the United States, through the judicial lines of the government, and the receiver is possessing at once the powers pertaining to other judicial officers and combining with the powers of the president and directors of corporations united in one and the same person.

The committee is also of the opinion that the powers asserted by the judges of the United States courts to punish for contempt is dangerous and should be limited by law. In the case reported—federal report in re Higgins—Judge Pardee declared that his power to punish for contempt was unlimited, both as to the amount of the fine and duration of imprisonment. In his judgment he could decide without appeal what constituted a contempt, who might be punished and the extent of punishment to be inflicted. In that case he held a number of violations of the criminal laws of the state of Texas likewise to be contempt of his court.

Under his construction, an assault and battery and any other violence or unfairness committed by an employee of a railway company in the hands of a receiver would be considered a contempt of his court. If this principle be a correct one (and the decisions seem to be cited by other courts) and were approved it would be extremely convenient to substitute it for the criminal laws of the states. The exercise of police powers and the protection of life and property by those agencies would be relieved by the authority of a United States judge which instituted proceedings for contempt. Limitations contained in the constitution, viz.: Providing for trials by jury, being confronted by witnesses, being represented by counsel, etc., etc., would likewise be relieved.

Without taking issue with the judges as to whether they have correctly or incorrectly stated the law of the important subject, your committee is of the opinion that the protection of property rights should be left in the hands of executive officers, and that violations of the same should be punished by proceedings defined and provided by law, and that in order to prevent the abuse of authority by the judiciary, the power to punish for contempt should be defined and limited by law.

Will Tax Bicycles. WHITINSVILLE, Mass. May 4.—The assessors of the town of Northbridge have decided to tax bicycles. They estimate that there are 300 bicycles in town valued at $55,000. Wheelmen expect the money to be used in improving the roads and will not object.

REVOLT IN SANTA ANA.

The Rebels Surprised the Barracks But Prompt Measures Were Taken to Suppress the Revolution.

Insurgents Now Surrounded by Ten Thousand Troops and a Large Train of Camp Followers.

Two Battles Between the Government Troops and the Rebels, and the Former Were Victorious.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Herald's San Salvador dispatch gives the following statement by President Ezeta: Santa Ana is in insurrection. The rebels have surprised the barracks. Prompt measures have been taken by the government to suppress the revolution, and the insurgents are now surrounded by 10,000 troops and a large train of camp followers. As a result the insurrection will be suppressed within three days. The rebels are robbing and murdering defenseless people and also committing other crimes.

The government troops expect to attack the rebels' headquarters, from which they are distant about two leagues. The whole country is on the side of the government and it is certain the rebels will be defeated. The government troops certainly show great enthusiasm as they take the field.

Alfredo Schlesinger, a Hungarian landed proprietor, has been assassinated by the rebels. The government has more soldiers, arms and other resources than it really needs.

The Herald's La Libertad dispatch says: A battle took place yesterday between the government troops and the rebels in Santa Ana. General Antonio Ezeta, commanding the government forces, was victorious.

Another body of President Ezeta's troops, under General Ezeta, has defeated the revolutionists at La Cruz and are now marching toward Santa Ana.

MINISTER AND WIFE

They Heartily Endorse Some Great Modern Truths

WHICH ARE IMPORTANT.

Why People Wear Out Their Lives and Become Miserable When There is No Reason for Doing So.

Wearing out! That is just what a great many people are doing. They know something is wrong, and yet cannot tell what is the matter.

Did you ever think what a large proportion of the American people is sick, or at least, if not exactly sick, not well? Something is the matter all the time.

How many people of your personal acquaintance are constantly complaining of being "so tired," having "such a headache," of "not feeling just right," and a thousand and one other things, until it almost seems as if the world had become one huge hospital filled with incurables.

What is the cause of all this? Certainly it is not a natural condition, but, on the contrary, is one that should cause much anxiety and alarm.

The American people are proverbially in a hurry—work in a hurry and sleep in a hurry, overworking and overstraining their bodies, until it is they do not feel well and strong.

One of the results of the American way of "rushing" things is the impairment of the digestive system, and indigestion is a terribly common ailment among all classes of people. Thousands of men and women cannot assimilate their food, and the whole body feels as if it were being eaten from within.

It was formerly the custom to prescribe cod liver oil and other nauseating preparations for indigestion, but doctors are now admitting that it is unreasonable to expect the stomach to digest these sickening remedies when it cannot stand the most delicate foods.

Medicated wines and bitters have also failed, because they only inflame the coating of the stomach, and make matters worse. Drugs and medicines have been proved to be equally useless.

The only way to cure indigestion and restore the stomach to a healthy condition is to give nourishment without the use of any medicine, so as to give the stomach a rest. This is a common sense principle, and it has given rise to one of the greatest discoveries of modern times—namely, Paskola, the digested food.

Paskola is that it is extremely pleasant to take and it is a common sense principle, and it has given rise to one of the greatest discoveries of modern times—namely, Paskola, the digested food.

Read this frank and truthful letter from a minister of the Gospel: WORTH CENTRE, N. Y., April 14, 1894.

GENTLEMEN: In reply to yours of April 12th, 1894, I can truly say it is a pleasure to give to the world a testimony of the good results of Paskola. I have done wonders for myself and wife. We have taken $150 worth, less than the price of one visit from our physician, and yet has done for us what no doctor's prescriptions or patent medicines have ever done.

For twenty-five years I have suffered under miseries by a disordered stomach, and for years I have had to abstain from meats, but after one day's use of Paskola have eaten meat or any other food my appetite craved with no ill results. In regard to my wife, I hardly know how to write. It certainly appears like a miracle. Months passed with her with no appetite and so reduced in flesh and strength that she was unable to do anything short of a speedy death. But Providence, in the shape of a little pamphlet tucked under the string of a package from a neighbor, brought me to know of Paskola. I have faith to believe that I had that Paskola it would help me.

The next mail carried an order for a bottle. The second day brought the bottle, and she took the first dose. That was four weeks ago. Today she can eat a hearty meal of anything she craves, and she has not done for months. I regret we did not weigh ourselves before we began to take Paskola; but the truth is I had no great faith in it, so many things had failed. But you have our lasting gratitude.

You can make such use of this testimonial as you wish. I do not send it to obtain a supply free, but because I have the good of my fellow men at heart. I have induced a few people already to give Paskola a trial. When they shall have given it a trial, I will obtain their names and send them a supply free.

Hoping under God this endorsement may benefit some, we remain, yours truly, BEN. A. F. BEDE AND WIFE.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS.

Fight Between Jack Curtis and Jack Ryan, of Omaha, Will Probably Come Off Sunday.

Beth Men are in Active Training and Their Friends Will Do Some Tall Betting.

Somebody is at the Bottom of a Scheme to Discontinue the Postoffice at West Duluth.

If the articles of agreement are complied with the fight between Jack Curtis, of West Duluth, and Jack Ryan, of Omaha, will come off next Sunday. Both men have been in active training for a month past and are said to be in perfect condition. The purse of $200 is not large but the friends of the contestants are enthusiastic and it is expected that the betting will become quite lively as the event approaches. Bobby Morrison and "Scotty," two West Duluth featherweights, are on the same program for a round go. The little fellows have been industriously training for some time and their meeting promises to be no less interesting than the main event.

Scheme for Discontinuance.
It is reported that a petition will shortly be circulated to have the postoffice here discontinued and the free delivery system established. It is learned that information has been secured as to the proper method of procedure to accomplish the change. The department will be asked to retain a branch money order and stamp office at this point.

Discovered a Foetus.
Last evening some boys who reported at police headquarters that they had discovered a foetus in a cigar box on the hill near the gravel pit. The officers found the remains in a cigar box on top of the ground. The officers think from appearances that the box was left there during the winter and probably covered with a snow at bedtime.

West Duluth Brief.
John Clyde states that the strike at New Duluth was greatly exaggerated in the paper, that there were only a few men who refused to work at the price and that he paid them off and let them go. He says that he can get all the men he wants for $1 per day.

The fire department was called out this morning to extinguish a small blaze in the Fifth division. One of the teams got stuck on the way and had some difficulty getting out of the hole.

George Hall captured a nice string of trout at Knife river yesterday.

Leslie Bridges has returned from the South with his wife, who has been visiting in Michigan during his absence.

Officer McKenzie, the tall policeman, will hereafter do duty on Superior street.

The junior class of the high school visited several West Duluth industries yesterday afternoon in a body.

There were about twenty five in the party.

The health department is making a vigorous effort to clean up the town in spite of the continued bad weather, and it is expected that the work will be finished up in about another week.

J. A. Sutton has leased the store in Duluth formerly occupied by the Simon Clark Grocery company and will put in a stock of groceries. He will continue to reside in West Duluth.

Engineer P. J. Hussey goes to St. Paul Saturday to examine the engine of the board of locomotive engineers to be held in that city on May 9.

He will be accompanied by Mrs. Hussey, who will visit for several days.

John Melin, ex-assessor of West Duluth, and family left yesterday for Atkin, where Mr. Melin will start a laundry.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said, "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Under the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did it. I have used three 50-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant." For sale by all druggists.

A SURGEON'S KNIFE
gives you a feeling of horror and dread. There is no longer necessity for its use in many diseases formerly regarded as incurable without cutting.

The Triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that RUPTURE or hernia is now rendered harmless without pain. Chummy trusses can be thrown away. They never cure hernia, but only cause inflammation, strangulation and death. TUMORS (Ovarian, Fibroid, Uterine) and many others, are now removed without the peril of cutting operations. PILE TUMORS, however large, are now removed without pain or resort to the knife. STONE in the bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized, washed out and perfectly removed without cutting. STRICTURE of Urinary Passage is now removed without cutting in hundreds of cases. U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., is lowest in Manitoba and highest in the Dakotas.

sissippi valley, Kansas and Arkansas; generally fair elsewhere.

Let Well Enough Alone.
Maj. Baldwin is still apparently puzzled what to do with the bill which he introduced in the house touching the public lands in the so-called gold region in the Rainy Lake district. He has again applied to the chamber of commerce for further information regarding the matter and for a recommendation as to the proper course to be pursued.
There was considerable discussion of this subject at a recent meeting of the chamber, and at the close of the meeting
it was learned that Maj. Baldwin had decided to withdraw the bill and introduce another applying the general mining laws to this state. Since that time he appears to have again changed his mind and has not done anything to sidetrack his original bill, which was passed by the house and is now before the senate.
The Herald recently published the contents of an opinion by Monroe Nichols, ex-register of the land office, which was furnished by request of the committee of the chamber of commerce.
It showed very plainly that the original bill fathered by Maj. Baldwin was of a pernicious character and should not become a law. In today's issue will be found a letter which N. B. Thayer, a land attorney of wide experience, has addressed to the same body, protesting against the extension of the mining laws to this state or any legislation whatever in the direction indicated by Maj. Baldwin's position.
Mr. Thayer points out that the extension of the mining laws of this state would stop all further surveys of land,
and as homestead entries can only be made upon surveyed lands, it will be readily perceived that such a move would have a disastrous effect upon the settlement and development of the great region tributary to Duluth. This is a matter of great importance and it should be carefully considered by the chamber at its next meeting. If the result of Maj.
Baldwin's proposed legislation would be as indicated, the chamber should enter an emphatic protest against it.
The Herald is inclined to the opinion that there is no necessity for applying the mining laws to any portion of Minnesota and that the land laws are well enough as they stand, without any amendment whatever.

Perfect Harmony Necessary.
The papers throughout the Sixth district are now discussing the report that there is to be a bitter fight in St. Louis county between two Republicans seeking the congressional nomination, and their comments are in the strain that The Herald has been prophesying. They say, in effect, that if there is a fight in Duluth the nomination will go to a man outside of St. Louis county.
The Elk River Star-News, the leading paper in Sherburne county, says: "If Duluth keeps up the 'harmony' now existing there among Republicans regarding the congressional candidate until convention time they are very likely to see the candidate selected from some other part of the district, same as he was two years ago.
At present there is a bitter contest between the friends of Kinney and Towne as to which shall be presented to the convention, and the longer it is continued the more bad blood will be engendered. * * * It is a Duluth quarrel and we believe in letting them settle it among themselves if possible. If they bring their local quarrels to the convention the probabilities are favorable for the selection of a candidate from some other county."

The above represents the sentiment in the southern part of the district. Coming to the northern section, we find a similar opinion expressed by the Grand Rapids Magnet. After alluding to the understanding for a long time that Mr.
Kinney would be a candidate, and that if so, Mr. Towne would not, the Magnet says: "Mr. Towne does not seem inclined to give way at the present time, hence the conflict between the two gentlemen. This is an unfortunate state of affairs. The Sixth district is perfectly willing to give Duluth the congressman, but in order to do so it must be shown that perfect harmony exists in the Republican ranks of St. Louis county."

Two years ago there was not "perfect harmony" among the St. Louis Republicans. There was a bitter fight at the primaries and convention in this county.
Every one knows the result. Some of Mr. Towne's friends say that if Mr. Kinney can carry the St. Louis county primaries against Mr. Towne, it seems strange that The Herald and others should urge Mr. Towne to retire. These gentlemen overlook the main point,
which is that whoever wins after a bitter fight in this county can hardly hope to get the nomination in the district convention. There must be perfect harmony here.

The Rehabilitation of Silver.
Washington advises say that the agitation in Europe, and notably in England, in favor of the rehabilitation of silver as a money metal is being observed with the greatest satisfaction by the administration, for it is regarded as strong confirmation of the principle to which President Cleveland has so steadfastly adhered throughout thick and thin, and sometimes at the risk of his own popularity with his party.
The president has contended that a true and stable equality of gold and silver should be brought about and maintained only by agreement between the great financial nations of the world.
With this conviction he has been obliged to resolutely oppose all attempts at individual action by the United States.
When the extreme silver men have declared that there was and could be no hope of consummating the desired international agreement, the president has replied that a firm and steadfast adherence to the line of policy initiated by the repeal of the silver purchase sections of the Sherman act must inevitably bring about the desired result.
One of the purposes in view then was to relieve the United States from the loss and danger to which it was subjected by the efforts to maintain, unaided by any of the great financial powers, the integrity as a money metal of a vast silver circulation. Europe had prospered under the old conditions and was well satisfied to allow the United States to bear the burden. The president's theory was that by suspending further efforts in that direction, the United States would cause the European nations to feel the need of a larger circulating medium and to share at last with us the hardships of monetary stringency.
Therefore, the movements now in progress in England and Germany and France are regarded by the administration people as evidence of the successful working of the president's policy. Great importance is not attached to the attempt initiated by Mexico to secure another conference, though it is not true that the president has refused to join in the movement, for as a matter of fact the Mexican government has not yet made any tangible proposition and has confined its efforts to sounding other governments to learn how a formal invitation would be received. And, notwithstanding the rosy promise held out by the European agitation, our government is not yet satisfied that a satisfactory international agreement can be reached at present, or even in the near future.
The pressure has not yet become so severe as to warrant the belief on our part that such nations as Great Britain and Germany are ready to abandon their long cherished convictions and take up the double standard. Probably some kind of an agreement might be reached now, but according to the view taken in financial quarters in this country, it probably would not realize our desire to put silver on a perfect equality with gold and it is thought would postpone indefinitely that restoration.
Therefore it is probable that our government will pursue a conservative course, declining to take the initiative again, in view of the fruitless conferences already held, and bide its time untill the European powers, and particularly Great Britain, are prepared to invite the United States to join in a conference which shall have before it some distinct proposition looking to the rehabilitation of silver and with sufficient power lodged in the members to insure a practicable outcome.

The sheriff of New York is unhappy.
The legislature has enacted that the fees of the office shall hereafter be paid into the city treasury, and that the sheriff must content himself with the paltry salary of $20,000 a year. In good years
the fees have sometimes exceeded $60,000.
The sheriffs of New York, says the Boston Transcript, have heretofore been like the drummer who didn't care a cent
for his salary so long as he had his traveling expenses.

MEN WERE DOWNCAST

The Discouraging Outlook for Kelly's Industrial Shows Its Effect on the Men at Des Moines.

No Songs Over Their Campfires Today and No Shouting of "On to Washington!" Heard.

The General Impression is That Kelly Will be Starved Out and Forced to March.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 4.—The effect of the discouraging outlook for Kelly's industrial shows made itself manifest in the army, and the men today were downcast and disheartened. There were no songs over their campfires; no shouting of "On to Washington," and no cheers of officers and visitors. The prime cause of the general depression was the continued scarcity of provisions. When breakfast time came the commissary officer reported 1000 loaves of bread on hand but scarcely enough meat and coffee to supply the officers' mess.

Kelly murmured a few weird Western oaths and then drew on his famed treasury for money to buy coffee and meat. The arrival of the purchased provender served partially to dispel the gloom, but the uncertainty as to dinner prevented a pronounced bull movement in the spirits of the "troops."

Governor Jackson again spent the day endeavoring to secure cheap rates to the river, but was not at all confident of success. To carry the men to the Mississippi at full fare would cost about $500, an amount far beyond the fondest hopes of the soldiers. The railroad companies entering Des Moines have positively stated that nothing less than full fare would be accepted.

The route to the river via the Des Moines & Kansas City Narrow Gauge and the Keokuk & Western was the only one seriously considered today. The route is the only possible railroad exit for Mr. Kelly, and should pending negotiations fail a march across the country or disembarkment must follow.

It is the general impression here that Kelly will be starved out and forced to march, and that his army will dwindle to a corporal's guard before the river is reached.

A Big Scheme.

TACOMA, May 4.—L. C. Dillman, a prominent business man of Spokane, is at this time maturing a scheme whereby he proposes to make a big stroke towards developing Central Washington and at the same time offer work to all the unemployed laborers in the state. The scheme is to dig three big irrigating ditches and pay the employees their board, clothing and other expenses. The balance of their wages in interest-bearing bonds secured by lands along the ditches.

Chinese Registration.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Not until after midnight last night was the work of registering Chinese in San Francisco finished. The total number of certificates issued from Jan. 2 to April 17, when, because of the rush of applicants, the actual issuance of certificates was stopped, was 43,002; and from April 17 to 12 p. m. last night about 4000 applications were received.

Joined the Salvation Army.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—The announcement by Mrs. Ballington Booth at the Midland congress of the Salvation army that Bishop D. S. Tuttle, of the Missouri diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, has joined the army, has created considerable excitement. The bishop has not joined the army proper, but only that branch known as the "Salvation Army Auxiliary league."

Floated Valueless Stocks.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—William Whalen, of St. Peter's mine fame, has been convicted here of obtaining money by false pretenses in that he floated by untrue representations stock in absolutely valueless mines. The sentence imposed is four years in the state prison. During his crooked work in this city Whalen secured nearly $300,000 from gullible investors.

Did Not Steal the Train.

TACOMA, May 4.—Latest reports from the scene of disturbance on the Northern Pacific railroad are that the Comptroller did not exactly steal the train, but simply swarmed aboard in such numbers that the train men could do nothing with them. United States marshals have gone to take charge.

Stromboli Broken Down.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The great Austrian horse, Stromboli, has broken down in his work at the Bay district track. The racing qualities of Stromboli had been leased by W. B. MacDonough. He was entered in the handicap and was being given preparatory work.

But He Still Lives.

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., May 4.—Citizens and railroad men gathered last night at 9 o'clock and showed their bitter feeling against United States Marshal Cronan, for his action here during the Great Northern strike, by first hanging and then burning him in effigy. Between 200 and 300 men were present.

Flood in Arkansas.

FULTON, Ark., May 4.—The Red river is encroaching rapidly upon the city and the rising waters now threaten to flood the entire place. The water has reached the business portion of the town and is running under the postoffice and many mercantile houses.

Mrs. Potter Palmer to Be Honored.

CHICAGO, May 4.—It is reported that Mayor Hopkins will appoint Mrs. Potter Palmer a member of the city board of education from Aug. 1 to succeed Mrs. Flower whose term then expires. Mrs. Palmer will soon visit Japan.

WILL PROVE A FAILURE.

Two Coal Operators do Not Expect the Strike to be Settled.

PITTSBURGH, May 4.—Henry Floersheim and Richard Dunton, representing two of the largest railroad and river coal companies in this district, gave it as their opinion today that the conference called for May 15 at Cleveland to settle the great coal strike would prove a failure.

Mr. Floersheim said that the Pittsburgh & Chicago and New York & Cleveland Coal companies, which were largely responsible for rate cutting, had not been consulted in regard to yesterday's meeting. The conference, he said, was not representative and he was inclined to think that it was arranged by the miner's officials for the sole purpose of stimulating the strikers and to keep them out. The operators as a rule were not willing to pay the scale asked, and if the strike was for uniformity, it could not be declared off until every operator had agreed to maintain the uniform rate.

DAMPENED THEIR SPIRITS.

The Coxeyite Movement at the Coast Given a Check.

ST. PAUL, May 4.—Advises received at the Northern Pacific general office in this city don't agree with the statements from the coast as to the Coxeyite movement in that section. It appears that the prompt action of the Northern Pacific, in accomplishing the arrest of the Butte contingent of this army a few days ago at Forsyth, has thrown a wet blanket over the several detachments that commenced to form at other points on the Northern Pacific in the Northwest.

The management of that road today denied that any train had been seized in the state of Washington, and said that complete arrangements had been made to prevent the success of any possible attempt of the sort.

HIS NECK WAS BROKEN.

Jake Brown Hanged for Killing a Prison Official.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 4.—Jake Brown, alias John Coleman, colored, was hanged here today at 10:30 a. m. for the murder of Frank Mackin, a foreman in one of the penitentiary corridors. Coleman came from Memphis, and during his fourth term in the Missouri prison on Aug. 3, 1892, stabbed Mackin ten times, killing him. Death to the murderer came by a broken neck.

All Work Suspended.

TACOMA, May 4.—All work at the extensive mines of the Northern Pacific Coal company at Roslyn has been suspended indefinitely by order of General Manager Kingley.

SCHWAB TO MAKE A SPEECH.

The Pardoned Anarchist Still as Bitter as Before Imprisonment.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Michael Schwab, whom Governor Altgeld pardoned from the state penitentiary where he had been sent for participation in the Haymarket riot, eight years ago, will speak at a mass meeting of "reformers" at Sheboygan, Wis., on Sunday next. He said today, concerning the character of his speech: "I shall feel at liberty to express my sentiments, whatever they are, and I shall be governed, of course, by the inspiration of the occasion. I have formulated a skeleton for my address, but the greater part of my talk will be impromptu and if my auditors are sympathetic I shall warm up to my subject."

Schwab is an editorial writer on the Arbeiter Zeitung, filling the position he held when arrested. His editorials are more than ever teeming with inflammatory sentiments and unqualified menace to the monetary interests of the country.

His term in prison has in no way decreased the vigor of his anarchistic beliefs, and there is a pronounced rancor and bitterness in his writings.

THE OUTRAGE AT LIEGE.

Dr. Renson Terribly Wounded and His Injuries May Be Fatal.

LIEGE, May 4.—Thirteen anarchists have been arrested for connection with the explosion of dynamite at the residence of Dr. Renson in the Rue de la Paix.

It is now believed that the infernal machine which exploded was intended for a severe judge named Renson, who lived in a different part of the street.

Dr. Renson is terribly wounded. There are several deep holes in his chest, and his leg is broken. It is feared that he cannot recover. Mme. Renson, Dr. Rodart, and a person who was passing the house at the time of the explosion, were also wounded.

Was Only a Hoax.

LONDON, May 4.—The supposed infernal machine which was found last night close to the government powder magazine in Hyde park in this city, turns out to be another "hoax." The infernal machine was nothing more than a meat tin containing a clock case and filled with soot.

Burned to Death.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 4.—Mrs. Margery McIntyre, aged 73 years, was burned to death in the Glenn house which was destroyed early today.

Trouble in Bohemia.

VIENNA, May 4.—A sanguinary encounter between workmen and gendarmes is reported from Schollach, Bohemia, the trouble growing out of the May day festivities. One workman was killed and a number injured on both sides. Troops have been sent to assist the gendarmes.

The Court Filings.

The American Exchange National Bank of Chicago has filed suit against Alfred Merritt for $2570.85 on a promissory note.

An order has been filed denying a motion for a new trial in the case of Charles Older against J. W. Schellenburger.

C. J. Scott Very Ill.

Charles J. Scott, who is ill at St. Luke's hospital with typhoid fever, is in a very critical condition and there is grave doubt as to the outcome. He has had several hemorrhages and unless they can be checked very soon he will not recover. His brother, T. P. Scott, of Montreal, assistant treasurer of the Grand Trunk railway, has been sent for and will be here tomorrow.

Mrs. Lease Coming.

Mrs. Mary Lease, the noted Kansas woman, is to deliver a lecture in this city at the Temple on May 24. That she will draw a large audience goes without saying, for she is probably the most talked about woman in the United States today.

Will be Completed Sunday.

The pest house will be fully completed by Sunday night. It is thought that it will do for occupancy by tomorrow night. The inside is being ceiled with lumber that has been in the dry sheds six years and the whole structure will be dried out with stoves.

SURPRISED BY AN ORDER.

Great Northern Employees at St. Cloud Somewhat Staggered.

ST. CLOUD, May 4.—An order has been received here from General Manager Case of the Great Northern, that no employees arrested for maliciously injuring the company's property, abandoning trains between stations, and willfully impeding lives of passengers on the company's trains, or assisting in delaying the mails during the late strike could go to work until their cases were thoroughly investigated, but that the balance of the men could return to work without prejudice.

The men accused here were somewhat staggered when the order was bulletined. It had been that under the agreement all the old men were to be taken back without prejudice.

"The Marie Burroughs Art Portfolio of Stages" not only carries out the promise of excellence conveyed by its earlier numbers, but improves in excellence as it grows older. Part XI is a specially beautiful number, with fine portraits of E. H. Sothern, M'Le Rhea, I. K. Emmett, Jane Hading, William Warren, Agnes Booth, Eleonora Duse and other favorites. In fact, the remaining three parts, Nos. XII, XIII and XIV, a special attraction will be presented. These numbers will be devoted to the celebrities of opera, and music, with portraits of the greatest artists of the lyric stage.

The Northern Pacific Inquiry. NEW YORK, May 4.—Brayton Ives said today that the Northern Pacific investigation would be resumed here next Tuesday. The resignation of James H. Hoyt, one of the receivers' counsel, is due, Mr. Ives says, to the fact that his brother, Colgate Hoyt is together with Messrs. Colby, Abbott and Villard, chiefly interested in the result of the investigation.

H. N. Bontelle, who it was alleged had gone abroad in order to avoid giving testimony at the investigation, started for Chicago today.

Unlucky. With a sweet smile she took his hat and cane. "Dearest," she cooed when they were seated in the gloaming, "I have something to tell you."

Summoning all his fortitude, he bade her speak. "Dearest," she proceeded, a delicate flush overspreading her cheek, "papa has at last consented to our marriage."

He was too deeply moved to express himself for about 45 minutes. When at last he found his voice, the latter thrilled with emotion.

"That?" A gentle pressure of the hand told him she was listening. "Is what I get by monkeying with an opal ring?"

His eyes rested upon the fateful jewel with a fascination of horror.—Detroit Tribune.

To comprehend the full significance of the World's Columbian Exposition, we have to go back for half a century and try to realize the conditions and environment of that time.

It was the year 1842. The Antarctic Continent had just been discovered and its existence announced to the world. Within half a dozen years the states of Arkansas and Michigan had been admitted to the Union. The question of the Northeastern boundary between the United States and Canada in the State of Maine was agitating the public mind. Some years were yet to elapse before the first cloud should rise on the Southwestern border, which was to terminate in the Mexican war; and California and Utah, New Mexico and Arizona were still Mexican provinces.

At the seat of government in Washington, the grandfather of President Benjamin Harrison had just completed his brief term as President of the United States. The Seminole War was under way; Fremont was exploring the Rocky Mountains; and the present Prince of Wales had attained the age of one year.

The telegraph was not yet in use. It was only twelve years before that Peter Cooper had sent over the rails the first locomotive driven by steam in this country. The railroad was to that time what the telephone and phonograph are to our time—new, strange and mysterious inventions, at which men looked in wonder and amazement.

The entire State of Ohio contained only 31 miles of railroad; but for every mile of railroad it had a score of miles of canal, and the slow canal-boat was virtually the fast railroad train of that time.

Two or three hundred miles to the westward over the prairie, remote and unaccessible, cut off from all communication with the outside world except by the slowest of slow transportation, stood a little settlement of fewer than 5,000 inhabitants, struggling to establish itself on the borders of that wild western wilderness, where the Indian and the buffalo roamed in undisturbed possession. It is hard to conceive of Chicago as it existed then.

Only fifty years later the World's Columbian Exposition was held on this same spot. The struggling settlement had grown into the great metropolis, with a population of over one million. The Exposition was simply the unwritten history of these fifty years; the "Book of the Builders" is the living Chronicle of that history.

It is a book which no one can read without feelings of pride and enthusiasm for the "Land of the Free." To read this great book is to place your finger on the pulse of American Progress for the last half century; to grasp its every movement; to know the development of the Sciences, Arts and Crafts; to record each new invention, every research and discovery, in that time.

It is impossible that such a book should fail to lift you up to a higher and richer conception of modern life. To secure this most important work of the year ought to be your first thought and care. The method is simple; the price is insignificant.

BENSON USED HIS GUN

He Shot in the Air and a Few People Were Startled But no One Hurt.

The Three Young Fellows He Was Pursuing Refused to be Frightened and Got Away.

They are Wanted for Breaking Into a Superior Street Plumbing Shop and Stealing Some Tools.

About 11 o'clock last night people in the vicinity of First street and Third avenue west were startled at hearing three shots fired in quick succession.

Those who were anywhere near saw three young fellows go down the street running like the wind and Bob Benson after them, shooting in the air. They were a little too fleet for Benson, however, and got away.

The trio he was after bear the names of Farrell, Lannagan and Chappel, and they are wanted for breaking into a plumbing shop on East Superior street night before last and stealing some tools.

Benson attempted to arrest them on First street.

They broke and ran, however, near Second avenue west and First street, whereupon Benson pulled his gun and shot three times, but without the result of stopping them. They now are supposed to be out of the state.

Yesterday, Detective Jensen arrested R. Jackson, J. Shea, Oscar Ward and John McCann for breaking into the same plumbing shop.

The whole outfit is composed of young mechanics not of age, but they are as tough as need be for all practical purposes.

A PROMINENT EDUCATOR.

Miss Elizabeth Harrison Will Speak Before the Teachers Tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning the regular monthly teachers' meeting will be held at the Central High school. Miss Elizabeth Harrison, founder of the Chicago Kindergarten college will be present and give her lecture, "When and Where to Censure Children; to What Instinct are We Appealing?" Of Miss Harrison, Supt. Denfield says:

"She is among the foremost thinkers on educational topics and has met with universal success wherever she has gone. She is a most enthusiastic, wide awake, intelligent woman, and every teacher, from the high school through all the grades, ought to hear her lecture tomorrow, as it bristles with points applicable to all educational work and is suggestive of ways for the management of pupils in every grade."

Each principal will be expected to see that his or her teachers are present, and all in the city who are not teachers will be privileged to attend. A sum of money has to be put up to secure Miss Harrison's presence, and as a result a small admittance will be charged.

THE POPULAR CRY.

"Why in Thunder Aren't Those Street Sprinklers Running Now?"

Pedestrians were much inconvenienced this morning by collisions with one another on the streets.

This was caused by the clouds of dust that blinded the eyes of all who were so reckless as to come from under cover. Mingled with deep curses and other interjections came the agonizing cry, "Why in thunder don't those street sprinklers run?"

Charged With Incurability.

The police yesterday put in custody a 14-year-old boy named Benton Bellinger, a charge of incurability having been placed against him by his mother, who says that her son has outgrown maternal control. Judge Powell this morning decided to commit the young transgressor to the reform school.

Two More Cars Added.

The up hill service of the Duluth Street railway was increased this week.

RAINY LAKE GOLD RUSH.

Already There Are Signs of the Approaching Movement.

Preparations are now being made for the rush to the Rainy Lake gold fields, which will undoubtedly start next week. Hayes & Lloyd have been awarded the contract for carrying the mail between Tower and Rainy Lake City and they will run a mail and passenger service daily via Crane and Rainy lakes. A party of fifty has chartered a private car which will run direct from Duluth to

Rat Portage on Tuesday in time to take the first boat of the season for Rainy

Lake City. In the party will be Capt. West, recently of Deadwood, S. D.,

where he erected the first stamp mill. He goes to take charge of the stamp mill at Rainy Lake City. He saw some specimens of the quartz from the Little American mine and expressed surprise at its rich quality. He said if it would average one-quarter as rich, it would be a great bonanza to the owners.

Whitney Wall, the special agent of the treasury department, is en route to Port Arthur and from there will proceed to Rainy Lake City to look after any violations of the customs regulations. Lake Vermilion, by way of the Canadian, and then travel by the shorter route via Tower will be possible. The Iron Range road will quote through passenger and eight rats from Duluth to Rainy Lake City. A St. Vincent dispatch says that W. H.

Neal, of that place, who is a practical miner, was in Hallowell two weeks ago and met F. K. Falcon, who had been prospecting in the Lake of the Woods region and who supposed he had struck coal. Neal, Falcon, and Howe left at once for the location, which is Buffalo point is seventy miles east of St. Vincent.

The Dixon on her Sunday morning trip will carry a load of Rainy lake pilgrims. The passengers expect to make Rat Portage by way of the Canadian Pacific in time to take the boat from Rat Portage on Tuesday.

The county commissioners in their meeting this afternoon will consider the advisability of making an additional appropriation for the improvement of the stage road from Vermilion lake to Crane lake.

The Duluth railroads and wholesale houses are already beginning to feel the increase in business consequent on the opening of the season, and it will not be long before the people at large wake up to the fact that there is north of here an almost wholly undeveloped country of magnificent possibilities, whose resources in minerals, pluck farming and timber lands are attracting the attention of the people in other parts of the country to a large degree.

WAS A STAR DAY.

Twenty-five Arrests in All By the Police During Yesterday.

There were twenty-five arrests in all by the police force yesterday. The most of these were drunks and vagrants and the effect was visible in police court this morning. James Kelly, William Hill, Pat Onre, George Stewart, William

White, H. Roe, David Bruce and John Gibson were pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy, received suspended sentences. George Schultz went up five days for a similar offense. Phillip and John Smith pleaded not guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct, as also did Gottlieb Krause, charged by E. E. Kelly, with selling liquor on Sunday. Gottlieb put up $10 bail and his trial will come off at 2 p. m. May 7.

James Kelly and John Ryan received ten days for drunkenness, while Mike Broderick, an old timer, was fairly buried beneath a sentence of sixty days.

THE WRONG WOMAN.

Comical Experience of a Man Who Kissed His Wife Good Bye.

A Duluth man who is somewhat near-sighted had a peculiar incident occur to him the other day. His wife was going away for a visit and he was accompanying her to the train. They were a bit late, and in the hurry he forgot his glasses. They got to the train and his wife stepped aboard immediately, thinking that it was time for the train to go. When he saw that it did not start, he thought he would kiss his wife good bye, an office he had omitted before that on account of his hurry. So he stepped aboard the train.

When he got within the door he saw his wife a few seats ahead of him. The bell began to ring, and he hastily ran up to his wife and saying, "Well, good bye, dear," attempted to imprint a salute on her cheek.

The next moment he was startled by a terrified scream as his supposed wife sprang up. He saw a horrified virgin of 40, who violently waved her umbrella as she said, "How dare you, sir!" It was probably the first time such a thing had happened to her.

The near-sighted man saw that he had made a mistake and attempted to apologize, but the sight of the laughing passengers, not the least amused of whom was his wife, was too much for him. He fled.

Smith Has Accepted.

W. T. Smith has accepted W. M. Thompson's challenge in yesterday's Herald and the race will come off tomorrow afternoon on London Road for a purse of $200 a side.

Notice.

I wish to announce to the ladies that the Turkish and Russian baths at 415

West Michigan street will be open every Monday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.,

When They Reached Mountain Iron He Had

Left--Company H of West Duluth

Now on Duty.

MOUNTAIN IRON, Minn., May 5.—

[Special to The Herald].—The first

bloodshed in connection with the miners'

strike occurred late yesterday. Sam

Mattson, a Finlander, who had been making considerable trouble at the camp

of the Mountain Iron company, being shot by Marshal Al Free, of this place.

Mattson had been threatening the men

at the camp all day and finally Superintendent Cohoe ordered him to leave the place. He refused and Marshal Free swore out a warrant for his arrest and attempted to serve it. Mattson was with a crowd of other Finlanders when Free

told him. The marshal touched him on the shoulder, stating he was under arrest, when Mattson pulled a revolver and fired. Free had jumped to one side and the shot went wide of its mark. Free

then drew his revolver and fired, hitting

Mattson in the abdomen and causing fatal injuries.

The shooting created great excitement

among the men of Mattson's nationality

and a threat of lynching Free were freely

made, but he paid no attention to them and proceeded with his work of placing men on duty to preserve order. Later

the news of the affair reached the strikers

at Virginia, and created great excitement

among them. Some of the more aggressively of the mob proposed to march to Mountain Iron and lynch Free. Then it was deemed wise that he should retreat to the jail for protection, until the troops could arrive. At Virginia, Minn.,

soon as Sheriff Sharvy found that a mob

of 400 strikers was starting for Virginia

he sent a detachment of military and deputies by train to Mountain Iron.

Threats were being made at Virginia

that the mob would tear up the track to prevent the train moving, but the train got out before they had time to do this.

It arrived here about 8 p. m. A large crowd was congregated around the jail

where Free was confined for safety and was making all sorts of threats. The jailer and his assistants were well

jeered and hooted a little at the sight of the militia but made no outbreak. Capt.

Bidwell, with thirteen members of Company A, forced the crowd to separate and marched to the jail door. Free came out and was taken direct to the train which started at once for Duluth.

Sheriff Sharvy having deemed it inadvisable to send him out of the place until the excitement passed away.

from Virginia arrived, swearing vengeance

upon the marshal for shooting

Mattson. They were wild with rage at being cheated out of their revenge and went about the streets hooting and yelling for nearly an hour. Then finding that they could accomplish nothing here

they started back for Virginia, and Mountain Iron settled down to its customary quiet condition. The citizens were alarmed, however, that the mob

might return and commit some depredations and very few indulged in sleep

last night.

Later—Sam Mattson died at 5 o'clock this morning. The bullet entered the left part of the backbone at the tenth

rib, slanting to the right and passing through the lungs and stomach. Twenty minutes after Free left the mob was here to lynch him and had dynamite to blow open the jail. They raised quite a turmoil and camped about two miles from town, shooting at intervals all night.

At 6 o'clock this morning Company H arrived and are camping at the mines.

The following was put on the door of a prominent mining man last night: "Leave town within twenty-four hours with all your effects and don't return. If you don't comply you will be lynched."

There are muttering threats against

Village President J. W. Lant and Recorder Hal Richardson for the part they took in getting Free away, and it is impossible to tell what the outcome of the trouble will be, as there are plenty of desperate men around.

The coroner's inquest was a star chamber affair. The first ballot was two for acquittal and four against. The second was a tie. The third was justifiable homicide.

Everything is quiet. No verdict was given out.

COMPANY H TO THE FRONT.

Left the Union Depot at One O'Clock This Morning.

At 6:25 o'clock last night Company H of West Duluth received word that its services were needed on the range, and the boys at once made preparations to start. They remained at the army until 11:30 and then came to the Union depot at Duluth. There were fifty-four men under command of Capt. Hoberg and made a very creditable appearance. The company was met at the depot by Maj. Braden, who had instructions to take them to the junction and wait there until daylight, when they would proceed to Mountain Iron.

Twenty rounds of ammunition were given each man at the depot and an extra 1000 rounds was put on the train. The men were loaded into two cars and started on the trip at 1:15 a. m., carrying two days' rations with them.

STORY OF THE SHOOTING.

Al Free Relates the Circumstances of His Firing at Mattson.

When General Manager Philbin's special came in with Village Marshal Al Free last night there was a crowd awaiting a sight of him in the union depot. But just before the train got in Free jumped off and made his way up toward above the depot. From the time he left the train until he went to bed he was not seen by any one except Under Sheriff Victor Dash, who had come with the train to meet him.

Free waited on the Spalding house corner until Deputy Dash came, when he gave himself up to await the result of the coroner's inquest, and he is now under the sheriff's orders, although he is not confined in a cell.

He was seen at the court house this morning by a Herald man, and told the story of the trouble.

"I don't know the man's name," he said. "The name on the warrant was John Doe. He has only been there about two weeks. Yesterday morning he was leading in all the deviltry, and was driving the men out of the company's camp with a knife. He threatened to kill them if they didn't wish to make it publicly, as it would make a disturbance."

"After I had finished gathering up the men, I went to the captain of the work, I went to the captain of the mine and asked him if he still wished the man arrested. He said that he did, and gave me two weeks' notice. I then went to the man and told him that he was to be arrested. He was identified, and I turned to the officer and said: 'I have a warrant for you. You are my prisoner.'"

"I put my hand on him and he resisted. I scuffled with him and in the scuffle I took him out on the sidewalk. Here we both stood and I pulled a revolver and said: 'Me kill you, me kill you.'"

"As he spoke he fired. I jumped to the right and the bullet missed me. I fired him, but missed him. He started to run and I followed him. He turned as he ran and let me have it again. I fired and hit him. He ran into an empty house and shut the door. I gave my gun to Mr. Harvey, bookkeeper at the Mountain Iron mine, and stepping back, ran at the door. It opened and he came out. He said that he was hurt, so I sent for Dr. Brown.

"I took him to the hospital and dressed the wound, when I left the hospital and went to the mine. I reported to Sheriff Sharvy, who ordered me to stay in Mountain Iron till he sent for me. I remained until the militia came, and they escorted me to the train. All this happened between 3 and 4 o'clock."

"I saw no demonstration of a threatening nature toward me, but a friend told me that a gang of Finlanders were coming from Virginia to lynch me."

"They are a stubborn set of men up there, and the militia is the only thing that is keeping them back. They are waiting for me to go."

STRUCK BY AN ENGINE.

A Delivery Wagon Worsted in an Encounter—The Driver's Leg Broken.

About 7:30 o'clock this morning the delivery wagon of the Minnesota Packing and Provision company was struck by a switch engine. The wagon was loaded with meat for delivery and Wallace W. Carpenter, a rather old man who has worked for the company a long time, was driving. The wagon was drawn by a fine team of horses, but as the wagon was coming out from under the viaduct approach near the Union depot St. Paul & Duluth Engine 61 came along at a pretty good speed and struck it amidships.

In about one second there was a scene of wreck and carnage. The four wheels were torn from the wagon and smashed to kindling wood, the box alone being uninjured. The harnesses were literally torn from the horses, but they were unhurt and began kicking about as though nothing had happened.

Poor Carpenter did not fare so well. He was dragged about fifty feet and when he was brought back it was found that his left leg was broken in two places above the knee. Whether he was to blame or not is not determined. He is spoken of as a very careful man. He has a wife and family and lives on West Seventh street. He was immediately taken to his home in the ambulance.

TEN MILLION STEAL.

Attorney Pettit Claims the Ives Faction of the Northern Pacific Have Proven Their Charges.

The Chicago Terminal Property Cost Eight Millions and Sold to the Company for Eighteen.

Says the Men Implicated Have Been Scooting Like Rats Out of a Sinking Ship.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The Northern Pacific investigation was not resumed in Chicago today but it will be taken up in New York next Wednesday. Attorney Pettit representing the Ives faction, said today he was satisfied with the investigation so far as it has progressed, and added: "We have proved everything that we have set out to prove. I said at the beginning of the affair that it was a ten-million-dollar steal and I now prove that we have proved it to be a million more than that. In other words, the property cost less than $5,000,000, according to the testimony of the men who sold the ground, the man who had charge of the construction and the man who kept the books. The price paid by the road for that same property we have established to be $18,850,000."

"The fact is that the men implicated in the affair," continued Mr. Pettit, "have been scooting like rats out of a sinking ship. One of the big fellows started early, like the lame captain at the first sound of trouble. Two others followed later, and another is making his property over to his wife as fast as the law will allow."

"Before we get through we expect to prove who got this little margin of $13,000,000 and how they got it. The position taken by poor Oakes is like that of the label on the bottle—on the outside, where he

The General Mining Laws.
In discussing the question of applying the general mining laws to Minnesota, The Herald yesterday accepted as correct
the statement of Land Attorney Thayer that this would stop further surveys of government lands and as homestead entries can only be made on surveyed lands a blow would be struck at the settlement of the northern part of the state.

It has been learned that Mr. Thayer is entirely misinformed on this point and that his conclusions are entirely incorrect. The mining laws do not prevent further surveys and their application to Minnesota would not interfere with settlers obtaining lands under the general land laws as at present. The only difference would be that when patents were issued to homesteaders a clause would be inserted reserving to the government the right to all minerals. The only states to which the mining laws do not apply are Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, but there is just as much facility in other states to make entries under the general laws as there is in these three states.
This being the case, all objections to applying the mining laws to Minnesota must fall to the ground.

Maj. Baldwin's bill on this subject, which has passed the house and is now held up in the senate, is very unsatisfactory because it would require a prospector to prove that he had a paying gold property before he could obtain title. Maj. Baldwin should introduce a bill providing simply for extending the general mining laws to Minnesota, only this and nothing more. Many men have taken up claims on the Canadian portion of the Rainy Lake district because favorable mining laws are in force there and titles are easily secured. It is estimated that the Ontario government has received $80,000 from this source during the winter. Each location where gold in paying quantities is found will be followed by an expenditure of $15,000 to $30,000 for developing purposes.

All this money might have been expended in Minnesota, had the mining laws been in force in this state, but these men have gone to the other side of the international boundary would not consider for a moment the idea of taking locations on the Minnesota side because of the difficulty in getting title and the probability of innumerable contests in the land office. It is very important that the general mining laws should be applied to this state as soon as possible,
because there is no inducement for gold prospectors to do anything under the existing state of affairs. The Herald regrets that it was misled on this subject
yesterday, and hastens to set the matter right before the public, and especially the chamber of commerce, whose opinion Maj. Baldwin has requested.

Facts About Mr. Kinney.
Some of Mr. Towne's supporters are trying to make capital against Mr. Kinney by claiming that he does not live in Duluth and that he represents the interests of the iron ranges. The interests of the iron ranges, and such a style of campaign cannot be effective. There may be some people, however, who may be misled by these claims and induced to oppose Mr. Kinney on that account.

Mr. Kinney has resided in the state of Minnesota over twelve years, having settled here over since, in July until three years ago, when he removed to Duluth, making this city his permanent residence. Mr. Towne can hardly claim that he is as old a resident of Minnesota or that he has been in Duluth much longer than Mr. Kinney.

The statement that Mr. Kinney has interests on the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges and is therefore well qualified to represent those mining sections in regard to legislation affecting iron ore is something in his favor. Duluth certainly has no reason to object to any man because he is interested in mining

ABSOLUTELY PURE

properties. The development of the two iron ranges is one of the greatest benefits which Duluth enjoys. The business men of Duluth can testify to this fact.
The wholesale houses that furnish supplies to the mining camps and sell goods to the store keepers in Tower, Ely, Mountain Iron, Virginia, Biwabik and other towns in the iron districts will give abundant testimony of the great benefits which the city of Duluth has derived and will continue to derive from the iron ore industry.

Duluth was shamefully misrepresented in congress by Maj. Baldwin in regard to the duty on iron ore, and would it not be the proper thing to send to the next congress a Duluth man like Mr.
Kinney who is thoroughly posted on the iron ore question and ready and able to stand up and defend the interests of that industry in the halls of congress?

A decision which has attracted wide attention in the fire insurance interest was rendered in Philadelphia a few days ago by Judge Biddle declaring unconstitutional the act of the Pennsylvania legislature of 1870 which makes it a misdemeanor for any person, partnership or association other than corporations to issue policies of fire insurance, grants to a body of men any particular trade or business. If the power exists, the legislature could grant to one corporation the exclusive right to sell dry goods, inflicting penalties upon any one who interfered with it. The Lloyds look upon the decision with much favor.

Philadelphia is proposing to spend $8,000,000 during the next twelve years on the streets and make Philadelphia the best paved city in the world. It will be money well invested. If Duluth could afford to pave every street and avenue in the city it would produce great and lasting results, but of course it is impossible at the present time.

The Ontario legislature has granted a subsidy of $3000 per mile, for thirty-five miles, to the Ontario & Rainy River railway. This will ensure the construction of the road from Port Arthur to valuable iron deposits and will likewise be the beginning of a new route to the gold fields.

In another column will be found a column devoted to temperance news. It is solely under the control of Mrs. E.
H. Cole, of West Duluth, representing the St. Louis County Women's Christian Temperance union, and all items of news intended for this department should be addressed to her.

Ex-President Harrison now declares that he will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1896. This is a sensible resolve, as there are many stronger Republicans than Benjamin Harrison, despite his many good qualities.

There is a revolution in San Salvador,
and already widely different reports are coming from each side of the struggle.
The government says the rebels are beaten already and the rebels declare they are gaining. You can take your choice.

Mrs. Lease was in Kansas City the other day and informed a reporter that fashion must be obeyed and she was in the hands of her dressmaker. This indicates that Mr. Lease's p-s are still safe.

David Belasco has brought suit for $65,000 for services rendered in making Mrs. Leslie Carter an actress.
These who have been her try to "act" will be apt to consider that Mr. Belasco sets a rather high value on his services.

Amos Cummings, who is a leading Tammany congressman, writes to the Herald:

New York Sun to say "the greatest accomplishment achieved by any man in the Fifty-third congress is by Thomas B. Reed."

Col. Breckinridge had a royal reception at Lexington, Ky., last night. Five hundred men cheered him and insisted on shaking his hand. They were even ready to forgive him for being found out.

Strange, is it not, that not a single name is now being mentioned with the Democratic nomination for president two years hence? Perhaps they intend to make it unanimous.

It is impracticable in Boston.
Boston Journal: The very latest fashion in uncovering the head, as a salute,
has reached Boston by way of New York.
It consists in lifting the hat from the head and then suddenly thrusting it straight out before you at arm's length.
On Broadway no other style of salutation is recognized as good form, but in the crowded and narrow streets of Boston it is most difficult of achievement. It is not unusual for a man who attempts it to not only smash his hat, but to waste ten minutes in apologizing to the people who were too near him when he executed the salute. It has to be done with such a jerk to be effective that one stands a good chance of giving the person in front of him a notion that he has been sandbagged, and it is difficult to explain away an impression like that.

No Surrender of Samoa.
Philadelphia Record: Australia's plan
to become sole administrator of Samoa, regulating American and German interests to the background, is foredoomed to failure for the reason that the mutual consent essential to the scheme is not likely to be forthcoming. An active opposition to it has already asserted itself
in Germany, and it will be apt to kindle equally swift resentment in this country
if it were more seriously regarded.

Early Convention Not Wanted.
St. Cloud Journal-Press: Yesterday arrived in St. Cloud a prominent Duluth politician. He is an emissary of
C. A. Towne, the brilliant young attorney, who is ambitious to write M. C.
after his name. This gentleman called upon C. S. Benson, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, to learn when the convention would be held. Mr. Benson informed him that the date had not yet been decided. He thought, and as far as he was concerned didn't care when it was held.
Princeton Union: We fail to perceive any necessity for calling the convention for months yet. Anyhow, the call should not be issued until after the state convention has been held. Make haste slowly, gentlemen.

An Able Man.
Wadena Journal: O. D. Kinney, of Duluth, has formally announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman from this district. Mr. Kinney is an able man and an excellent speaker.

The Jury Disagreed.
A judge and jury spent all yesterday afternoon in an attempt to find if Mrs.
Goldie Polinsky was guilty of smashing
a decorative vase over the head of a woman belonging to C. Oreckovsky, the members of the jury wrestled with the case until 10 o'clock p. m. and then reported their inability to agree. They were discharged and the assistant city
attorney will attempt a second prosecution.

John Christie's Leg Broken.
Night before last, John Christie, the senior member of the printing firm of Christie & Collier, was so rash as to go over to West Superior. He is now repenting at his leisure for while over-tired, he got tangled up in a defective sidewalk and when his assistant city
attorney will attempt a second prosecution.

Norway's Independence Day.
May 17 is Norway's independence day,
and will be observed by the Norwegians of Duluth. Exercises will be held at the pavilion. C. A. Towne will speak and also John Rustgard. The Normanna Singing club and the Scandinavian choral union will sing. Afterward there will be a grand ball.

Many persons possess relatives or dearly beloved friends living far from the centers of civilization, to whom a theatrical performance is a thing of great interest. Only three persons who brought a work like "The Marie Burroughs Art Portfolio of Stage Celebrities" would be. With what enjoyment would they pour over the beautiful tinted pages
and study with rapt attention the faces there portrayed. What a fund of information the carefully written biographical sketches would prove, and what could be more appropriate as a present than this most charmingly artistic collection, which is offered at a price within the purse of all? Only three copies and one dime for each part, eleven of which are now ready.

FIELD DAY EXERCISES.

High School Boys Will Contest at the Driving Park.

Next Saturday is the field day of the Duluth high school. This is the first the school has had and unusual interest attaches to it. Twenty-five or thirty boys have been in active training for several weeks and have reached a high degree of athletic perfection. The results of the contests will determine who will go to Minneapolis on May 25 and contest for Duluth in the field day exercises there. The first and second winners in each of the contests will be entitled to enter at Minneapolis in the same events in which they win. Besides this they will receive a couple of medals.

The exercises will be held at the Woodland Driving park and will begin at 2 o'clock. There will be sixteen events as follows: One hundred-yard dash, 220-yard dash, one-half mile run, mile run, 220-yard hurdle race, 120-yard hurdle race, throwing of hammer, putting the shot, pole vault, hammer, shot, hop, step and jump, standing broad jump, running high jump, quarter mile bicycle race, two mile bicycle race.

In all of the contests there are a number of favorites and the contests will be close. In the 100-yard dash there are entered Watrous, Meining, Taylor, Brearly and Cook. Watrous and Meining are the favorites and it will be nip and tuck between them. In the 220 yard race the entries will be about the same with Walter Lloyd in addition. The half mile and mile races will be close. Lloyd, Morrison, Smith, Draper and Brearly will start. Lloyd is picked as the winner and Draper will crowd him. Lloyd is a strongly built, wiry young fellow and has great staying powers. Holliday, Bull, Lafans and Brearly will enter in the half mile race and too.

In the hurdle races Watrous, Meining, Taylor and Mitchell will enter. Sutherland, Peyton, Appelbagen, Mitchell and Hughes will throw the hammer and the shot. For the pole vault, skip and jump, Watrous, Meining, Taylor and Maloney are the leading contestants. They cover about forty feet.

In the bicycle races Hughes, Brearly, Hutchinson, Cash and Watrous are to be the flyers. The pole vault will be a sharp contest and there will be a number of entries, among them Gearhart, Appelbagen, Watrous, Mitchell and Hughes.

The officers in charge have been selected from some of the older athletic men of the city. N. S. Murphy will be the starter; Dr. Lynam, referee; Howard F. Abbott, time keeper; W. K. Edson and Martin Watrous, judges of the finish; C. P. Murphy, judge of walking contest.

The field day exercises are attracting attention and there is great interest among the friends of the contestants. There will undoubtedly be a large crowd at the driving park, and it will be interesting to see possible that a 100-yard dash may be arranged for between N. S. Murphy and some other local sprinters.

DULUTH HEIGHTS ROW.

C. H. Price Hauled Up for Assaulting a Neighbor, J. H. Parker.

In police court this morning the leading role fell to C. H. Price, but it will not be finally played until next Monday afternoon. There are two charges against Price, one for assault in the third degree and another for threatening a breach of the peace.

It appears that the defendant resides Duluth Heights, and next door to a neighbor named J. H. Parker. The two had some trouble about a fence running between their buildings. Harsh words were exchanged from time to time and at last matters came to such a focus one night when Price reached for his hip pocket, pulled what seemed to be a revolver and started for Parker.

The latter ran but was overhauled and struck on the hand, with the weapon which proved to be a pair of pincers and not a revolver. At the time another neighbor attempted to defend Parker by striking at Price with an ax, but a wire fence stood in the way and instead of dying then and there, Price lived to appear in police court today. He put up $15 bail and was released.

William Sinclair for using immoral and indecent language, paid $1 and costs. Harney O'Brien and Matt Johnson went up ten days for drunkenness. James Costello and Victor Helmer, guilty of similar offenses received suspended sentences.

James Mahoney, John Grievon, C. H. Brockway, John Connors, James McGinnis got ten days each for vagrancy. Van Parker pleaded not guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct. He will be tried Monday.

CONTRACTS NOT LET. Street Sprinkling Has Not Yet Been Provided For.

The street sprinklers are not running for the reason that the matter is in the hands of the council. Even when that body takes action, the contract must be advertised for ten days, so that it will be a couple of weeks before the boards are running by contract. The ward of public works will, if the dust of yesterday body takes action, be put to running and pay for the work by the day, until the council's provisions go into effect.

The Quarantine. The raised at the pest house in Brookline division was lifted last evening and the four nurses were released. All their clothes were burned and they were thoroughly disinfected and fitted out with new clothes. The house was thoroughly fumigated.

IN THE SUNNY SOUTH.

E. P. Alexander Tells What He Saw in the Southern States on His Recent Trip.

The Feeling Toward Governor Tillman and Over the Liquor Dispensary Law in South Carolina.

Hard Times in the South Owing to the Panic Coming at Such an Unexpected Time.

Last week E. P. Alexander returned from a trip taken to the Sunny Southland. In a recent conversation with a Herald reporter, Duluth's hustling citizen said:

"I left here Feb. 8 and went direct to Atlanta, the capital of Georgia. Outside of New Orleans, that is the city of the South. A population of 100,000 is claimed and it is practically a new city, for when Sherman started on his historic march to the sea, he did not leave much of Atlanta standing. The people are enterprising and quite a little Northern capital has gone in there, also quite a good many Northern people. Atlanta has a large number of fine residences. Outside of New Orleans, I don't know of a city that has so many, according to its size. It is an important railroad center, and the leading wholesale and distributing point in that part of the United States. The manufacturing interests are heavy and bound to increase. Among others, they have rolling mills, large cracker factories and large farm implement factories. From Atlanta, I went to Augusta, a city of 30,000 people. This is not only a great cotton market but leads all other Georgia cities in the manufacture of cotton fabrics.

"From Augusta I went to Charleston, South Carolina. This is the chief ocean port of the state and distinctly a commercial city. It has a population of 60,000 but was set back considerably by the earthquakes they had there a few years ago. The place is improving and quite a little money is going in there from the North. On the other hand, quite a little Charleston money is invested here in Duluth. Immense phosphate beds are found in that locality and they are a source of profit and employment.

"I spent a large part of the time I was gone on North and South islands, near Georgetown, sixty miles above Charleston. There I basked in the ocean, bathed in the surf, raised blisters on my hands pulling the oar and shot ducks until I was tired. My only complaint was that the shooting there is unexcelled.

"I also was at Darlington during the 'whiskey rebellion.' I think that state dispensary law was the best solution of the liquor problem that has yet been offered. It shuts up the bars and does away with treating--one of the most objectionable features connected with the liquor business as ordinarily conducted. The provisions of this law forbid the sale of less than one or more than five gallons of liquor. It also was not permitted to drink it on the premises and the dispensaries closed at 6 o'clock. Since I left the South, the law, as you know, has been declared unconstitutional. It had the endorsement of all thinking men, however.

"This measure was the product of Governor Tillman's head. He is intensely hated by certain elements down there and that probably caused much of the opposition to this law.

"For a long time accusations have been made by the masses that no one not a born aristocrat--and there are aristocrats there--could secure a state office. The law called aristocracy probably has had a sort of corner on the loaves and fishes and a charge that a ring has run matters political probably would not be all wrong. Well, during the last state campaign, there was an uprising. The issue was made 'Democracy vs. Aristocracy.' Tillman is a well known man himself, yet he chose the side of the so-called 'democracy.' The farmers and common people united on him and he was elected by an overwhelming majority. A relative of mine ran against him and was beaten out of his boots.

"When it came to the enforcement of the new liquor law, the governor sent out his agents. His opponents at once dubbed them spies and a most bitter feeling grew up. Several of the most influential papers are very much responsible for arousing this bitterness. Those South Carolina people are hot headed and are always getting into hot water. At Darlington the day of the trouble, they got started and the biggest kind of a riot followed. Anything in the line of a gun was seized and a hunt made for the Tillman 'spies.' They took to the swamps and many escaped. If they had not, they would have been lynched then and there.

"As fast as the governor called out the militia, the officers and men would resign. Finally some of the rural companies were found that would stand by the governor, but by that time, the 'hot blood' of the people had cooled. Little wisers counsels prevailed and further trouble was averted. In my mind, that militia, instead of being privileged to resign, should have been court martialled.

"South Carolina is now without any liquor laws. Any one can sell. Tillman says that he will not call a special session of the legislature to take any action either.

"All this trouble has hurt that state fearfully. No one would invest where the very best people oppose the laws and where they endorse and engage in riots.

"Times are very hard down in that country. People were not prepared for a panic. In the rice districts things are in bad shape. Laborers were better off when in slavery than they are now, for then they had food and clothes. Now one planter who has 400 employees, all working for their board. The gales and floods last August and then again in October, did great damage and many planters are bankrupt. Many people are leaving. The reason why there was so little preparation for a panic and hard times was this: Everybody was raising cotton and paying almost no attention to food-stuffs. When the bottom went out of that business and the panic came, no food supplies were stored up at all. In the north here we had bountiful harvests and while times have been hard, we have had plenty of cheap foodstuffs.

"While the people are against him, to a great extent, on the silver question, most of them down there are with Cleveland. No one has any use for Dave Hill. He killed himself with that people when he made his Southern tour before Cleveland was nominated. They dislike him personally and politically.

"The tide of tourists to the South was not so great this winter as usual and now has pretty generally set back to the northward."

For the Multitude.

Many great blessings of the world can only be had by the few, but here is one of the benefit of all, and absolutely free of charge. Nothing is of more importance to us than our health. It has, until recently, been impossible for the poor, to obtain the best medical advice except at great expense. But now comes a wonderful one of our greatest and most successful specialists, curing nervous and chronic diseases and offers to every one, far and near, the privilege of consulting him by letter, without charge. This is no idle dream, but a well known Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

You who have sought in vain to learn what you are suffering from, or to obtain help, write him a description of your complaint, and he will return you a letter stating exactly what your disease is, and thoroughly describing each symptom, so that you can clearly understand just what is the matter. And all this is entirely free of expense to you. The doctor gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters, and is having wonderful success in treating disease through his system of letter correspondence, using as he does, nothing but harmless vegetable remedies in his practice. Write the doctor at once all about your complaint. It is the surest way to regain your health.

THE LITERARY ARENA.

Governor Tillman Makes a Defense of His Conduct During the South Carolina Liquor Riots.

Art Plays a Conspicuous Part in the Century For May and Fiction Well Represented.

A Glance at the Bright and Interesting Contents of Several of the Leading Magazines.

The North American Review for May opens with two timely articles on "The Way to Regulate Liquor Selling." The first by Governor Tillman, of South Carolina, is in the nature of a defense of his conduct during the recent liquor riots in that state, and is entitled "Our Whiskey Rebellion." The second, which deals with "Successful Public-House Reform," is by the Rt. Rev. Francis John Jayne, bishop of Chester, who is well known in England as one of the leading advocates of the Gothenburg system.

A paper is contributed by Representative Bland on "The Hopes of Free Silver," which possesses a special value in view of the recent veto of the seigniorage bill. Sir Charles W. Dilke, M. P., furnishes a valuable criticism of "Lord Rosebery's Administration," and the necessity for "A National Health Bureau" is ably advocated by Surgeon General Sternberg. Two important articles on the organs known as the "Penny Press" and "The Penny Press," by A. P. A. written respectively by George Parsons Lathrop and Bishop Doane, of Albany, are bracketed together under the title of "Hostility to Roman Catholics." "The New Woman" forms the subject of a vigorous article from the pen of Ouida, while Sarah Grand discusses "The Man of the Moment" in a trenchant paper.

Nathan Straus provides a most suggestive paper on "Helping People to Help Themselves," and Adolphus Colomb, of the Royal navy, contributes a valuable article on "England in the Mediterranean." Under the caption of "The Unknown Life of Christ," Dr. Edward Everett Hale reviews a new book that is attracting considerable attention abroad; the subject of "Anarchy and the Napoleon," is treated in a most interesting manner by Karl Blind, one of the leading writers of the "Flashlights," by a writer whose identity is withheld. The name of "Lester Raynor," and which deals with the methods of an ambitious woman in New York society; and "Their Exits and Entrances," a bit of comedy, by George A. Hibbard.

Under the title of "The White Crown and Other Stories," Hawthorne, Milford, will shortly publish a promising summer book by Herbert D. Ward. "The Story of Dan," a story of Irish peasant life, which will soon be issued by the Riverside Press.

Any one who wishes to have an intelligent understanding of nature, or to a knowledge of the achievements and possibilities of scientific discovery and scientific method, will find in "The Popular Science Monthly." The May number opens with another of Dr. Andrew D. White's new chapters, dealing with "Theological and Scientific Theories of the Evolution in Animated Matter," in which the persistent efforts of theologians to discredit this great truth set forth in an illustrated article on "The Guests of the Mayflower," describing this charming plant and its insect visitors, by Professor Clarence M. Weed, also in "Up the Chimney," which is a delightful sketch of bird-life by the late Frank Bolles, while there is a reminiscence of winter in "Frost-forgotten on Mount." The latter article, contributed by Mrs. Helen R. Edson, who has wintered on this lone summit, and shows by the aid of snowshoes the strange deposits of ice and snow that form there on all exposed objects.

The paper on "The Ice Age and Its Works," by Valdeir K. is continued with an account of the "Erosion of Lake Basins." Professor C. Hanford Henderson has a stimulating article on "Cause and Effect in Education," a matter which he maintains has been neglected. There are two articles telling how science has produced value in two formerly wasted products. Under the title "Economic Uses of Non-Edible Fish," Robert F. Walsh tells with illustrations how an oil and a fertilizer are made from menhaden, or "cotton bunnies," while Frederic G. Mather sets forth the manifold uses of cotton seed oil, and describes its preparation. "Peculiar Sound Effects," by A. A. Knudson, is a simple account of every day phenomena that many will be glad to have explained.

Professor E. P. Evans writes on "Religious Belief as a Basis of Moral Obligation," throwing much light upon the ethics of ancient peoples. The Sleep of Molochs, in other words their inheritance or activation, is very readily described by Charles T. Simpson. An account of "Ancient and Medieval Chemistry," by the French chemist, M. Berthelot, and a sketch of the celebrated agricultural experimenter, Sir Joseph Henry Gilbert, with portrait, complete the body of the magazine. In addition to the ever-present conflict of theology (not religion) with science, and the timely topic, "A Dangerous Class," are some interesting new ones. D. D. Appleton & Company, fifty cents a number, $5 a year.

Dr. S. F. Scott, Blue Ridge, Harrison county, Mo., says: "For whooping cough, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent." By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous complications. There is no danger in giving the remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. Twenty-five and 50-cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

May Day's Troutling," by H. P. Beach; "The Club Cup," by W. E. Baldwin; "Combining Rowing and Sailing Boats," by Capt. A. J. Kenney; "A Memory of Mountain Trout," by R. L. Warner; "Touring in Europe on Next to Nothing," by J. P. Wenden; "The Michigan National Guard," by Capt. C. B. Hall, and the usual editorials, poems, records, etc.

In the Century for May art plays a conspicuous part. The magazine introduces to American readers one of the most admired of contemporary French painters, Dagnan-Bouveret, William A. Coffin's article being, it is thought, the first article on him which has appeared in the magazines. The accompanying illustrations show substantial grounds for Dagnan's popularity. The frontispiece of the number is an engraving by Henry Wolf of the portrait "La Bernoise" exhibited at the World's fair. Other examples reproduced are "The Pastor," "Horses at the Watering Trough," "The Conscript," "The Consecrated Bread," "The Blessing," "Vaccination" and the Salon picture of last year, "In the Forest."

There is also a portrait of the painter, of whose important works no fewer than seven are owned in America. In the series of Old Dutch masters, Timothy Cole, the engraver, contributes an example of the celebrated painter, Cuyper, from the Louvre, a landscape of much delicacy, with figures and cattle. Another branch of the designer's art is treated in a paper by Brander Matthews, "Bookbindings of the Past," of which a number of sumptuous examples are given. Mr. Matthews's paper is addressed to the general reader as well as to the book-fancier. In the American artists series there is an example of the work of Frederick W. Freer, "A Lady in Black."

The seven pieces of fiction in the May Century have much variety. Mark Twain's serial of "Pudd'nhead Wilson" is continued with increasing interest. There is a dramatic scene, a sketch of a man who returns from the slavery into which he had sold her, and the plot of the story culminates in the murder of the title of "Hostility to Roman Catholics." The discovery of the murderer remains to be told. Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote's novel of mining life, "Cœur d'Alene," comes to an exciting conclusion. "The Man of the Moment" is the first chapter of a short and sprightly novelette entitled "A Loan of Hall-Orphans," the starting point being the devotion of a certain lady to the amelioration of half-orphan and destitute cats.

There are four complete stories: "Whisper of Freedom," by Cornelia Wood Pratt, the story of a minister who abandons his charge and family; "Mr. Pate's Only Infirmary," by Richard Malcolm Johnston, a sketch of a Georgia character and of a trait of old age; a sketch of New York society entitled "Flashlights," by a writer whose identity is withheld; and "Lester Raynor," and which deals with the methods of an ambitious woman in New York society; and "Their Exits and Entrances," a bit of comedy, by George A. Hibbard.

Under the title of "The White Crown and Other Stories," Hawthorne, Milford, will shortly publish a promising summer book by Herbert D. Ward. "The Story of Dan," a story of Irish peasant life, which will soon be issued by the Riverside Press.

THE GREAT PROBLEM.

Spreading a Ponderous Glass and Iron Roof Over a Thirty-Acre Field Was Difficult.

The Manufactures Building at the World's Fair Was the Largest Ever Constructed by Man.

Means by Which a Full and Intelligent Description of the Work May Be Obtained.

When Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, saw the Manufactures building at the World's fair, he exclaimed, with prairie rhetoric, "It is an exhalation! Yesterday it was not; today it is, and tomorrow it will have passed away! I can see how you can fence it, but to roof it almost surpasses human conception."

It was indeed an unprecedented problem, to spread a ponderous glass and iron roof over a thirty-acre field, or an area two-thirds as large as Boston common, four times the area of New York's Madison Square, and seven times as large as Philadelphia's Independence Square. Consider, also, the loftiness of that incomparable nave, the crown of whose arch is 211 feet above the ground, or within nine feet of the height of Bangor Hill monument, and almost exactly the height of Baltimore's stately monument to President Washington. Indeed, there are not many church spires in America which reach this immense altitude, and the roof line in question does not reach it by the uplift of a lone cross or spire, but is continued in that dizzy height for the astonishing distance of a third of a mile.

The Roman Coliseum seated 87,000 persons, when in the full excitement of a battle between "star" gladiators; and the Manufactures building could seat 30,000. Yet even Roman architectural genius shrank from placing a permanent roof over its great variety show, and only ventured upon an awning of light canvas. The Chicago structure, however, although erected for very transient use, received a glass and iron roof of immense weight and solidity, which overarched an area large enough to hold half a dozen Coliseums. That roof was in itself almost a miracle. Forget statistics and consider facts, and see. It was supported by twenty-seven vast iron trusses or girders, each weighing more than 20,000 tons, and spanning 30 feet. The enormous weight of either of these would have crushed into powder any ordinary floor or foundation. It was based upon a mighty interlocked mass of logs and iron, resting upon thirty-five deep-driven piles. At their bases the iron arms were fourteen feet thick, and where they clasped hands at the apex they were ten feet thick.

This was the largest building ever constructed by human hands. Let this always be remembered. It has a paramount distinction.

EUROPEANS HAVE TRIED for thousands of years to construct buildings imposing from their very mass, but have never even approached the comprehensive of this temple of peaceful arts. Nor is it notable only for mere bigness. As to space, Nevada thought, and doubt, that the new of New England; but what does it signify? The Manufactures building was perfectly adapted for its purpose, in space, light, communications and secure construction. It had two faults as regarded diverse points of view. The luckless sight who attempted to see all its contents in a day or a week, usually tottered out of its portals in a state of collapse, with dimmed eyes and congested brain. It was all too great for human comprehension. Never in the history of industrial art have such limitless treasures of inventive genius been concentrated before. It was the richest foid of a mile ever set forth, and almost too great for the observer, the vast spaces of the building were yet inadequate for the display of the world's industries, drawn into one order. It would almost have been necessary to have roofed in the Sangamon prairie to have held all the proffered exhibits.

The conception of this matchless palace of industry, and the careful selection of its contents, are described with adequate knowledge and entrancing interest in the wonderful new "Book of the Builders," the last and noblest word about the World's fair, written by D. H. Burnham and F. D. Millet, its masterly directors. The Herald's specially prepared popular edition of this unique and unparalleled work contains a satisfactory and fascinating account of this and all other notable features of the fair, illuminated with great numbers of the choicest pictures. We have far surpassed the world with our exposition, and it will be both pleasant and profitable to remember this fact, and to gain a full and intelligent understanding of the methods and meanings of this victory of the centuries.

A Few Iron Ore Statistics. CLEVELAND, O., May 5.—A statement prepared by the Marine Review shows an aggregate of 2,888,370 gross tons of ore on Lake Erie docks May 1, as compared with 2,095,797 tons on the same date a year ago. The increase is not, however, of great importance, as all Bessemer ore is sold and there is no market for it had at any price while a year ago the market was glutted. A heavy production of pig iron will follow a settlement of the strikes that have caused the shut-down of the furnaces. The consumption of ore from Lake Erie docks during the year ending May 1, 1894, was 4,870,485 gross tons against 6,102,125 gross tons during the year ending May 1, 1893.

WEEK OF COMIC OPERA

Frank Deshon's Opera Company Will Fill a Six Day's Engagement at the Lyceum Theater.

Roland Reed in His New Play "Innocent as a Lamb" at the Temple Friday Evening.

A. Y. Pearson's Company to Produce Rider Haggard's "She" Next Saturday—Mrs. Mary Lease Coming.

On Monday evening the Deshon Opera company will open a week's engagement at the Lyceum, appearing in comic operas at popular prices. There will be a change of bill each night and two matinees will be given, on Wednesday and Saturday. Among the operas which will be put on are "Girolo," "Olivette," "L'Inferno," "Boccaccio," "Mikado" and others. The company has been drawing larger houses on the Pacific coast than any other organization.

Of "Olivette" as sung by the Deshon company the Indianapolis Sentinel says: "Olivette" at the Opera house last night was a decided success. Everyone that was there was more than delighted. We have had opera companies here charging $1 that could not compare with this organization. Miss Gonzales as Olivette was charming. She is full of vivacity and has a great many ways like the French actresses. The orchestra was splendid as the countess and her costumes were fine. J. R. Oakley made a capital De Merimac. He has a powerful bass voice and was heard to good advantage. But the great hit of the evening was Frank Deshon as Coquelicot. He is the best operatic comedian that has ever visited Indianapolis. The Erie, Pa., Dispatch says of "Boccaccio": "Frank Deshon met with a hearty reception when he appeared as Lambertuccio, the grocer, and he did not give the audience a chance to get the wrinkles out of their faces from the time of his appearance until the grand finale. Frank Deshon has the advantage over many, that his wit is pure comedy, and not the job lot, knock and drag off kind on which many comedians depend for popularity. Last evening Mr. Deshon simply renewed his triumph of four years ago. The chorus is very strong and rendered the difficult music in a very acceptable manner, and the march in the last act is new and was beautifully executed."

HAGGARD'S "SHE." It Will Be Produced at the Temple by A. Y. Pearson's Company.

"She," A. Y. Pearson's big production, will be at the Temple next Saturday. The famous romance of Rider Haggard is too well known to need much outline of plot, but it may be said that the book is closely followed, and, although at times it is somewhat weird, there is a clever vein of comedy interwoven through the whole which not only pleases, but relieves the monotony. For scenery and scenic effects the author's ideas have been thoroughly studied and carefully supplied. The last act, where Ayesha steps into the mysterious fire and is reduced from a beautiful woman to the hideous condition of a mummy produces a sensation to be long remembered.

Ethel Raynes, who plays the part of She, is an actress of sterling qualities, of fine physique and handsome face. She is well calculated to portray the character of the heartless queen. Miss Maud Durand as Ustane, does equally well. The rest of the cast, including Edwin Brown, as Kalkrates, Fred Sumnerfield, as Holly, and William Lee, as the Good Father, are all up to the standard, and are strong in their respective roles, which greatly help to make "She" the success it is.

ROLAND REED. He Will Appear at the Temple Next Friday Evening.

The distinguished comedian, Roland Reed, will make his appearance in this city after an absence of over two years, at the Temple opera house next Friday evening. The occasion will be marked by the first production, he is to produce, "Innocent as a Lamb," which is probably one of the best and most entertaining plays the popular comedian has yet had. It enables him to take a great advantage in the role of an eccentric stock broker Tobias Pilkington. The piece is the joint work of Glen MacDonough and Roland Reed. The character of Pilkington, who is passionately fond of the game of whist, but whose wife abhors cards and he has to satisfy his liking for the game, without his wife's knowledge. He starts for Boston, but really goes to Paterson, N. J., when he meets with an accident that gives rise to some of the most laughable complications and situations ever laughed over. Mr. Reed brings with him an excellent company which includes Miss Isadora Kush, Miss Maud Monroe, Miss Fanchon Campbell, Mrs. Mary Myer, Miss Eleanor Carey, Harry A. Smith, H. Rees Dwyer, Sheridan Tupper, William C. Andrews, Earle Brown, Julian Reed, James Douglass.

Mrs. Lease Coming. Mrs. Lease of Kansas, who is to lecture at the Temple May 24, is known to nearly every woman in America. Those who have not heard of her are not readers of the public prints. What first brought her into prominence was her vigorous espousal of the woman's suffrage question. She has been requested to take a trip across the "Irish" and make a tour of England under the auspices of the Woman's Suffrage society of London, an organization resulting from the visits of Lady Somerset to this country. Mrs. Lease will probably accept.

THEATRICALS IN LONDON. Gossip of the Stage in England and the Prominent Performers.

(Copyrighted, 1894, by the Associated Press.) LONDON, May 5.—The growth of London is bringing the suburban theaters into prominence. The Grand theater, at Islington, for instance, was lately visited by royalty, and Henry Irving yesterday laid the foundation stone for a handsome new theater at Brixton, another suburb of London. In addition, Mr. Irving promised to perform there. Mr. Irving dilated upon the increasing need of places of recreation for the masses. His remarks upon this subject were vigorously applauded.

The duke and duchess of Connaught were present at a performance of the "Maquerelles" at the St. James theater. "King Kodak," which was produced here on Monday, is classed by the critics as being "a disconnected play of the American variety sort," but the critics are unable to deny that it contains good songs and that it is well staged and acted. "King Kodak" promises to be popular.

Mrs. Alexander's "Her Dearest," which was produced at a matinee, has proved to be a poor play. Daly's theater has been crowded throughout the week with enthusiastic audiences. "As You Like It" being the attraction. Mlle. Yvette Guilbert, the French singer, who has long been a great attraction in Paris, is to give an invitation matinee at the Savoy hotel on Monday next to the British critics and theater managers. Mlle. Guilbert says that there is nothing new in her songs or performance. She is visiting London on a holiday trip only, but she has been engaged to appear before several private parties. The French singer has received many English and American offers, but will not accept anything but an offer of the very highest terms, especially to cross the Atlantic, as her income in Paris, she claims, is 250,000 francs per year.

The prince and princess of Wales, the duke and duchess of Connaught, the duke and duchess of York and the duke and duchess of Teck paid a private visit to the Royal Academy yesterday. Sir Frederick Leighton escorted the royal visitors to the galleries.

The performance of Verdi's "Falstaff" in Paris has been suspended owing to the illness of M. Maurel.

James J. Corbett is becoming quite a favorite with that portion of London society which is disposed to "lion hunt." He received during the week invitations to dine with or take supper with various aristocratic clubs on Sunday.

The future arrangements at the aquarium, where the May fair is now in full swing, includes a pet dog show on the 24th, 25th and 26th inst., and a show of colliers on June 5 and the two following days. A coaching exhibition is to be held from June 15 to July 17, the patrons including the duke of Wellington, the duke of Marlborough, the earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot, Lord Charles Beresford, James Gordon Bennett, A. G. Cassatt (president of the Philadelphia Four-in-Hand club), Axel Georgy, (United States vice consul at Stockholm), and Fairman Rogers (New York Four-in-Hand club).

Mr. and Mrs. Clements Scott gave a delightful supper party at the Inn of Court hotel, in commemoration of the anniversary of their wedding, which took place in San Francisco just a year ago. The guests were only twelve in number and included Henry Irving, J. L. Toole, Mrs. Carr, Oscar Reinger, Mr. and Mrs. John Le Sage, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hatton and Mrs. Morgan (Edwin Booth's niece). The following appropriate lines were printed at the head of the menu: "One faith has ever bound us and one reason divided our walks."

Mr. Toole proposed Mr. and Mrs. Scott's health and Mr. Scott, in reply, said his only regret was that the friends assembled around him had not been able to be present at the wedding. In the revival of "Money," which is to follow "Mrs. Lessingham" at the Garrick,

Mrs. Bancroft will play Lady Franklin and John Haru will take the part of Sir John Vesey. Forbes Robertson will be the Evelyn.

Considerable curiosity is felt regarding the theatrical arrangements for the present season. He announced some time ago that he intended to give a matinee of "Red Hall" by Mrs. Oscar Reinger, in aid of the society of British dramatic aid, but so far no arrangements have been made for the performance.

"A Modern Eve" by Malcolm Salaman, the dramatic critic of the Sunday Times, and author of that charming series of sketches "Woman, Through a Man's Eye-glass," was also to have been produced early in the season, but it has now been postponed until the end of May at the earliest. The chief woman's parts in "A Modern Eve," when it finally sees light, will be played by Mrs. P. B. Tree, Miss Lottie Venne and Mrs. Dion Boucicault.

The annual ball in aid of the Hungarian association of benevolent societies, the one invariably of the smartest society functions of the year, will take place on May 31. It will, as usual, be under the patronage of the duke and duchess of Teck. The cardinals of Hungary is always performed on these occasions by prominent Hungarian residents of London.

IT IS DOING A GREAT WORK. The Duluth Home, Which Needs the Hearty Co-operation of the Citizens.

It is difficult in these humanitarian days to realize that only a few centuries have passed since the newly-born child first began to have a claim upon the parent or the state for life and protection. "In the most high and palmy state of the world as well as in ancient Greece, the center of culture and refinement, the unwelcome child might be immediately put to death or left to perish from exposure and neglect, and until Christianity had held sway for seven centuries that men saw in the infant child a child of God, possessing the rights of humanity and entitled to the care which should bring it to its full growth and independence. Now every country has its system of founding hospitals, its homes for the homeless and destitute, and America is not behind in this great work. Unlike other countries, we depend more upon individual efforts and private gifts than upon state institutions with great advantage, since undoubtedly the child, since under these conditions he is likely to receive more of the personal attention which he craves and which is necessary for the right beginning of his life. In Duluth we have an institution which represents in tangible form the idea which has been slowly growing for twelve centuries—an institution which has sprung from the best impulses of our best citizens, and which is destined to grow in full and sturdy independence. City is destined to grow. For a long time it did not receive the attention which was its due; but during the past year only the minds of the people as a whole are beginning to turn to the people as only an institution of this worth can do. It needs cry out aloud to us, since in it we see to a great extent the idea which has been slowly growing for twelve centuries—an institution which has sprung from the best impulses of our best citizens, and which is destined to grow in full and sturdy independence. THE WORLD OF LABOR.

The Only Events Among Organized Labor the Past Week Were of a Social Nature.

The May Day Ball of the Federated Trades Assembly at the Pavilion Was Successful.

Electrical Workers' Union Conferred With the Hartman Company as to Linemen's Wages and Arranged Matters.

The only events in the field of organized labor the past week have been of a social nature. Tuesday evening the Federated Trades assembly gave a May day ball and it was a success from the word go. The pavilion was the place chosen for the merry-making. The street railway generously donated the use of the building, and the incline cars were kept running until 9 o'clock in the morning. Nearly 500 people were in attendance and it is needless to say that joy was unconfined. There were no special decorations of the hall but the street car employees' union displayed its beautiful red and blue banner where all could see. The dancing began at 10 o'clock. Harbo's orchestra of thirteen pieces covered up with the sweet strains, and the grand march commenced, led by N. Anderson, master of ceremonies. Of course Fisher promoted and dance followed until a prompt succession of it shortly after midnight when an appetizing supper was served by M. C. McCaffrey, manager of the pavilion. After that was over, the torchbearers' pleasures were continued until 1 o'clock, a. m.

Morris Griffin, president of the assembly, was the general head of the entertainment. He was assisted by committees composed as follows: Arrangement: N. Anderson, master of ceremonies; E. J. Malor, Lou Cohler, Louis Meyer and M. F. Flatie. Floor: Nels Anderson, Charles Culler, Louis Meyer, Thomas McAllume, Charles Leyzer, Robert Hager, Tim Timland, Frank Maloney, Charles Ryland and E. J. Malor. Reception: John Hollihan, Wayland Curtis, Richard Thayer, and Morris Griffin.

The event was a success both socially and financially and not only had the result of bringing closely together the members of the assembly and popularizing that body with union men and citizens of the city, but, undoubtedly, May day balls will be a permanent feature of the social life in the Federated Trades assembly. When the electrical workers essayed to hold their regular meeting this week, they found that the carpenters had torn to pieces their tower in the chamber of commerce, as the result of the changes being made there. Not only that, but the furniture belonging to the union was much the worse for careless handling on the part of some of the workmen. All hands repaired to Mr. Hartman's office where a committee was appointed to seek out the culprits. The committee in the O'Brien & Knowlton block was secured and on Wednesday evening the union held a meeting there and spent most of the hour in discussing the cuts imposed by the Hartman General Electric company upon the wages of its lieutenants. A committee was appointed to wait upon representatives of that company, with the result that everything was adjusted to the entire satisfaction of all parties concerned.

THE TRAGEDY OF LIFE.

Civilization is Swiftly Approaching the Climax.

(Special Correspondence.) There are many topics of living interest before the people today. But not one thrills deeper or presents a sadder, more significant phase of the great industrial problem than the situation among the miners and coke burners of Pennsylvania. There life is deep and tragic; the meaning of the terrible struggle is read by others in a hundred different ways, and not until someone has lived under the wall papers in letters of fire will the simple truth be recognized. In the meantime only a blind fury and fear united with a cruel greed animates those who have to deal with the disturbing elements there. This is but one scene in the great humanitarian struggle, after all. The same heartbreaks through every great center where human efforts and human interests touch. That strange army of peace which has taken up a march like of which the world never saw before, the ring of saber and clash of bayonets in South Carolina, in Colorado, in the Indian Territory, are all related, all boiling up from the same fire and fountain. Ordinary readers may not think so. To them everything that occurs is unexpected and surprising and after a little is easily explained as just happening so, or as the result of some folly or presumption of this or that person in office or in politics. Thus the great army of the unemployed exists because of the Wilson bill, or somebody else's bill, or Cleveland's uncertain policy.

The trouble in South Carolina was because the governor was too zealous an advocate of law; that in Colorado because the governor couldn't be bluffed by a political ring; in the Indian Territory because the people were timid and the Indians naturally turbulent, and in like manner the trouble in the coke regions is explained by saying its because there is too much tariff on there isn't enough, or the miners are foreigners and ignorant, wild and lawless. It takes something of a philosopher to see that one principle lies at the bottom of all these disturbances, one innate desire or aspiration in each every one of these disturbing elements. The conventional or shallow person sees no remedy for an army of homeless unemployed but wholesale arrests or a "driving out of town" at the muzzles of guns, as they did in Oakland, Cal.; for rebellious people stand out for personal liberty, but plenty of hard drilled, nonsympa-thetic soldiers; for restless miners, one crazy cowboy and eager regulars, well armed and equipped, and for desperate, maddened, hungry strikers, but "power enough to completely subjugate them." Yet these can only succeed in smothering the fire, which must break out all the more fiercely some time. They do not touch the causes, whatever of deceitful calm they may bring about.

The true story of the troubles in Pennsylvania is one of such horror as is seldom told and never realized unless it is lived. The strikers are foreigners who have been imported at different times to take the place of striking American workmen, and of these it is said, "Under the 1802-3 schedule the men could barely live; under that of 1894 they starved."

Common in the Chicago Times thus describes what he has seen: "I have witnessed scenes of pitiful want, of brutal treatment, of ignorant ferocity, beside which the wildest stories of slavery in the south were tame and insipid. I have seen men working 10 hours, their only reward being crusts of stale bread. I have seen them driven from place to place like dumb, driven cattle at the muzzles of vineheaters. I have seen them driven with their wives and babies from their rude shanties into the stony, these huddling together with mate misery in their eyes. I have seen tender children thrown into jail and left for a whole day wailing with hunger and thirst and fear. I have seen them hunted like wild animals and driven like runaway slaves to prison, all because they were not content to work like slaves for 50 and 75 cents a day, paid at the track stores, for the glory of Carnegie and 'protection to American labor.'"

Yet in view of all this misery there are no prominent unions, and various who have nothing to say except that "these savage huns must be completely subjugated." The struggle for a little amelioration of their condition, in their eyes, is only justifiable as long as it is carried on in such a way as to be utterly ineffectual. If one single move brings a shiver of terror to their tyrannical masters' hearts, they cry out in holy horror at the "ferocious violence of these ignorant foreigners." Two years ago I would have written, "What American would quiver in panic such slavery?" Today, quivers in the thousands are homeless and hungry after years of toil; that American workmen have submitted to ignoble fighting against them, that American workmen generally can be made to submit to anything by patting their backs and calling them "patriotic, orderly and law abiding." I cannot pen the question. I can only say, "What self respecting human being ought to submit to such conditions quietly?"

While every appeal to the fears, superstitions, conscientiousness, of workmen is held to keep them quiet and placate all sorts of abuses the employer and officials upon whom they call are leaving no means untried to protect themselves and their interests and to perpetuate their cruel, brutal tyranny. They are planning a huge gunboat to be used as an armory. General Greenleaf says of it:

"In this event of an outbreak along the Allegheny, Monongahela or Ohio river this boat in the hands of a division of naval militia would take the place of several regiments of infantry and would be of incalculable value." Three batteries have also been furnished with breech-loading field rifle guns and equipped with steel gun carriages, limber and caissons, and two muzzled leading ordnance pieces in place of the old guns. All these formidable preparations for carrying out the purposes of the employers has without comment. But should some poor, obscure person go among the strikers and suggest that a few dynamite bombs would be of "incalculable value" to smash the world probably be called a fiend incarnate.

The one sure cure for the trouble here, as with all of the disturbances throughout the country, is—justice. The one aspiration that prompts people to disinterested turbulence is more personal liberty. Liberty means to live under decent human conditions such as the earth unmonopolized easily furnishes all its inhabitants, to have access to natural resources, to be free to produce and enjoy one's productions, to call no man "master." Justice and freedom instead of soldiers, prisons and improved armories! What an innovation! How soon will our great nation dare try it?

ABUNDANCE AND POVERTY.

The Cure For This Paradoxical Condition Is Reduction of the Hours of Labor.

(Special Correspondence.) The fact of the coexistence of hunger and extreme poverty with overproduction in a land of civilization and Christianity, such as ours is, presents a condition and a paradox which are revolting and inexcusable. When a man suffers hunger because of an excess of food, suffers cold because of an excessive supply of clothing and of coal, suffers the want of a home because there is an over-supply of houses, suffers all sorts of miseries because of an over-crowding of all the necessities and comforts of life, it is an unmistakable proof that there is something very wrong with the dispensation of social life. There is some evil power which stands between God's temporal blessings and those for whom they are intended. Our Almighty Provider has supplied the wants of our nation in a most magnificent and sumptuous manner, but the perverseness of man, his systems and his rulings have converted the fullness of these blessings into a curse for the multitude. And yet we often talk of the glorious and wonderful achievements of our advanced civilization while these conditions are brought about by some of the very elements of our progress and enlightenment, which are the universal use of machinery and inventions.

leviating the general distress, convert the Rocky mountains into bread, the Alleghenies and the Adirondacks into meat and the great lakes into milk and honey, yet would we have poor and have them more numerous and miserable than ever, inasmuch as those exhausted stores of blessings would be taken possession of by the few, and the multitude would have no means to buy them, as the poor man's capital, which is his labor, would become, by means of its superfluity, almost worthless and a "drag on the market." Politicians and pseudo reformers would still be going about advocating the application of the only of quick remedies and ignoring what is the only true and effective one. This only true and proper remedy is the giving to labor its due value by making it more scarce, through curtailing the hours thereof, by universal consent and co-operation, for so long as the workman can, at any time command due value in exchange for his labor he need not care who owns the money, the goods or the land, for he is possessed of the means of acquiring for himself a decent house and respectable living and a fair share of the comforts of life by means of the labor of his own hands. This is the remedy, the sure and never failing cure—it will do no harm to anybody, but will give prosperity to all—curtail the hours of labor throughout the country and throughout the world. Trades Unions in Hyde Park.

Popular demonstration in Hyde park have always a spectacular interest. A procession through the streets, a huge gathering of sympathizers and sightseers in the park, rattling rhetoric from a dozen platforms, perfect order and absolute good humor—these are the almost favorable characteristics of successfully organized "protests" on a large scale at the great breathing center of London. The ostensible object of the meeting on Sunday was the denunciation by the trades unions of the action of the house of lords in regard to the proposed "Lobby Bill," but comparatively little was said on this subject in the park. The chief theme of Mr. John Burns and his colleagues was the alleged necessity of "ending" the lords' obnoxious. Resolutions to this effect were carried without dissent, for one peculiarity of the park is that harmony always prevails, and the opposition, whatever their numbers may be, keep their opinions for other occasions. Does any delight to bark and bite for his own nature, in the park square, or places of that kind, but in Hyde park they are all of the same mind. The trades unions had a capital field day and whether they established their case or not they managed their meeting with most of picturesque effect. — Pall Mall Budget.

Some Interesting Figures.

Here are some figures apt to create thought: Annual production of wealth in the United States is about $10,000,000,000, or a little less than $1,000 per head of our population, which would give to the average family of five $5,000 per year, but according to the United States census the average income of the American workman is $300, no family—less than $300 per year.

THE ONLY SALVATION.

The Sure and Simple Way For the Workers to Secure Their Demands.

President McBride of the United Mine Workers, in his address to the delegates of that body who assembled recently in Columbus, O., took occasion to "recommend a general movement for higher wages and advised independent political action." In that he is logical, reasonable and just. There is no other course open to the wageworker for a betterment of his condition than through independent political action. That is the only method open to check the tendency to a lower wage level, toward which there is an almost irresistible inclination now in this country. We will soon be confronted by conditions as equally insufferable as those which prevail in many parts of Europe today. The English workmen have been able to make some progress toward betterment of their condition during the past few years under more unfavorable conditions than prevail in this country. They have now some six or eight representatives in parliament, to whom they pay a salary of money collected from the workmen in the districts they represent.

In this country, where each congressman is paid his salary by the government, the workmen have not a single representative to voice their sentiments or advocate their rights. They expect their interests to be looked after by men who serve other masters, and to whom they owe their elections. The average congressman has not yet developed the faculty of successfully serving two masters, and we do not believe he ever will. Therefore if the wageworker ever hopes to accomplish anything they must select men from their own ranks to look after their affairs in congress. If the average workman was intelligent enough to vote properly, he would have no difficulty in relieving the congested labor market in a short time. The eight hour day could be made a permanent success in a short time. Every employee of the municipal, state and national government could be working eight hours in two years.

The attack should be first made in the cities. The first and most important step in that direction would be the denunciation of all political bosses who now hold power in the different large municipalities. That done the movement would receive such an impetus nothing would impede its progress to the accomplishment of its object. Independent political action has done much good in London under the influence of the able leadership of John Burns, who has almost single handed forced the adoption of a law making eight hours a day's work and doing away with all contract work, thereby saving the city large sums of money. An equally successful and honest effort, backed by the united force of labor, can do the same in this country just as soon as we can learn to have a sufficient amount of confidence in one another. The longer the inauguration of the struggle is postponed the more difficult will be its accomplishment.

All the advanced leaders in the cause of wage earners realize the necessity of independent political action and are urging the rank and file to take hold and popularize the movement. The average workman still hugs his fetish to his bosom and refuses to yield his vote though he knows it has lost all its potency for good, if it ever possessed any. The old party names are associated with early manhood and friends dearly loved, and it requires almost as much of an effort on the part of the average man to divest himself of its power and teachings as it does for him to change his religious views. His present welfare and the future comforts of himself and all his friends demand the acceptance of the new covenant, and the loud and increasing murmurs of restlessness and discontent are only preliminary signs of the sundry and the dies which have bound the workmen to the past.

The experiences of the past year have done more to awaken the thoughts of the average thoughtful man than was dreamed of in his philosophy. The sweet and soothing sounds of the beautiful siren—the daily paper—are fast losing their power, and while he has in many cases silently suffered he has also had time to do some real hard thinking, the result of stubborn facts which have unflinchingly knocked by against his head. Many of them, let us hope, have made permanent and lasting impressions, which will lead him out of the land of bondage and teach him in future to guard all his party allegiances.—Pittsburg Commonwealth and Glassworker.

How's This For Conspiracy?

The Chicago Record in an editorial on the subject of the lockout ordered by the Boss Builders' association of Chicago, says: Judge Jenkins says that a combination of employers to gain a certain end by a strike is a conspiracy to effect injury. What, then, does he call such a combination of employers? How about a conspiracy on the other side? If a strike against a reduction of wages may be suppressed by means of an injunction, why may not a lockout be met with the same instrument of the law? If concerted action for a strike is an unlawful "conspiracy," it would be interesting to learn how Judge Jenkins regards concerted action for a lockout.

The time for the final solution of these questions has indeed come when two judges of concurrent jurisdiction render all old party allegiances, as contradictory as those of Judges Caldwell and Jenkins. The sooner the supreme court decides the matter the better. Whatever the ultimate decision may be, however, the principle may as well be laid down right now that no equity can be found in any ruling which protects the rights of the employer while it gives the employee no means of guarding his own.

An association is now being formed in New York city which has for its object the protection of the interests of ex-walking delegates and men who have served their union a long time, and who have been victimized in consequence.

A TEMPERANCE COLUMN

A Department Conducted by Mrs. E. H. Cole, of West Duluth, for the County W. C. T. Union.

We hope to be able, with the help of the temperance people and temperance organizations of Duluth, and W. C. T. Union of St. Louis county, to make this department a feature of The Herald, in the future; and would request all items of interest, notices, etc., be sent while fresh for insertion; also short, entertaining or instructive papers upon the different departments of temperance work, would be acceptable. These should not occupy more than 40 or 50 lines of space. Do not write about prohibition as a party measure, but keep the principles of temperance before the people, and the party will take care of itself. But we especially desire local and county items, and news of general interest.

Mrs. E. H. COLE.

The subject at last week's meeting of the Duluth County W. C. T. U. was "Scientific Temperance Instruction," the subject was divided under three heads: the citizen's duty; the teacher's work, and the parent's responsibility. Mrs. Woodbridge read a letter from Mrs. Hunt, of Boston, the national superintendent. Miss Earhart gave experimental illustrations. Mrs. Dennett and Mrs. Smith served refreshments.

The West Duluth W. C. T. U. will give an experience social in their hall on Grand avenue on Thursday, May 10, from 3 to 5 p. m. All their friends are cordially invited to attend. The subject, "Women as Breadwinners" will be under discussion in which Mrs. Bessie L. Scoville of Duluth will lead with a short address to be followed by Mrs. Dennett, Mrs. Stewart and other ladies. Music will be interspersed and a practical application of the subject will be illustrated by the varied experiences of the members of the union in earning each $1 to be applied on the payment of their chairs. That the sum thus obtained may be somewhat augmented ice cream and cake will be served for which a charge of 15 cents per dish will be made.

The West Duluth W. C. T. U. discussed "Temperance Institutions" at their regular meeting last Thursday evening.

Next Tuesday the temperance meeting at the Bethel will be addressed by Mrs. Ostergren.

The following was prepared by a committee of the county W. C. T. U. and adopted at a meeting of the union.

The memory of the just is blessed. On April 27, 1894, our esteemed friend and brother, Cassius C. Merritt, departed this life and joined the hosts of the redeemed in heaven. By his death the silver cord is broken which bound together a loving family. The church has lost a worthy and consistent member; the Temperance union an honorary brother and zealous worker. While we bow in submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, we deeply sympathize with our sister and family, and his aged mother, in their bereavement, and commend them to the great Source of all comfort, the Friend of the widow and fatherless, in whose service our departed brother was a faithful servant. May the example of him who, "though dead yet speaketh," prompt us to truer and nobler work for the Master.

Paducah is the second largest dark tobacco market in the world, Louisville being the largest. But the fight is narrowing down to Clarksville, Tenn., and Paducah, for they are in the heart of the dark tobacco country. Most of this tobacco at present goes abroad after being stemmed here. Large stemmings here reduce the weed to its minimum weight, and it then goes to the factories and consumers of the old world. Quite a quantity of it comes back in the shape of cigars. We buy it because it is English, and many of our fastidious young men like it to smoke in their briar pipes. They enjoy it much more because it has the London brand on it, though it is not really so good as its own estimation, as it is "rigged" from Kentucky and before it is sent, is flavoured with various drugs, paints, oils and varnishes.

The American cut plug tobacco, when properly cured and before it has been flavoured, is the best and least injurious tobacco for smoking of which I know.

Paducah has been conservative, as the south generally has since the war, and for that reason the panic of the past year has had less chance to puff inflated business than would have been the case.

Very beautiful hard wood of all kinds is grown in the vicinity of Paducah, and every year here where these four big rivers come together vast quantities of useful and ornamental woods are prepared for the market. Three and a half millions of spindles and bobbins for the cotton industry are turned out each year.

The first hotel ever built in Paducah was built of logs, and guests washed their faces in the kitchen, using soft soap and wiping their feet on a straw mat.

Now a beautiful hotel run by Colonel Reed is one of the ornaments of Paducah.

Colonel Reed is a leading spirit in the city's onward march, having been mayor several times, with his portrait in an annual "write up" of the city. He not only made us happy, but introduced us in Paducah society without hesitation.

This shows that the old spirit of chivalry is not dead in Kentucky, even though Colonel Reed himself has retired after being betrayed, having left the honor of Kentucky in other hands.

Any young woman who sought the overthrow of Colonel Reed would find him ever standing up for the right. Rather than go down forever with the silver-tongued orator to a life of shame he would get out of the carriage and walk home through the mud.

Paducah has good schools, good newspapers, good streets and a good service. Occasionally one sees a few Berkshire hogs strutting down the street, but they do not bite unless provoked, and human life is as safe in Paducah today as it is in the hands of the New York police.

Coming out of Paducah we passed through a small town where we knew off a mail sack and caught another one without stopping. It was a small town, consisting of a set of scales and a Mugwump hog. There was also a little store containing two clay pipes and a stick of candy. Over this was the sign Ward Bros. & Son.

I have been trying for five weeks to figure out who this son is. Is he a son of the firm, or where does he come in? Mr. Smith, too, had worked at it of evenings, but he is still at a loss to know. Will the reader figure this out and write me at No. 45 Park place, New York? The first one giving a correct answer will receive a promissory note that was taken from a good man that fall and liable to be paid any time.

We stopped at a very nice hotel yesterday called the Ruddy House. On the bottom of the menu were these words: "Do not feed the waiter. We pay them enough to insure good service, and guests will confer a favor by giving them nothing more, as it interferes with the service."

It would be a fine thing if all hotels would indorse this. In many places now a decent attendance is only obtained by tipping the waiter, and it is thoroughly un-American in every respect. May we not hope that some day every man who runs a hotel or other business will make such arrangements with his help that we need not while traveling here be all the time feeling for a quarter to give an underpaid employee?

Of course in this matter poor Mr. Pullman is not considered. He would pay his porters if able to do so, but with only a little over $2,000,000 a year net income in his pocket, he is not likely to pay off his household help, to say nothing of porters on the cars.

Mr. Pullman for years has been struggling along, buying new pillowcases and nickel cups for his cars, and though he has been able to pay his help, the poor employees enough so that the public in buying a bed would not have to buy a big buck chambermaid also has never yet been able to do it. George, give us a service that is paid for, please, and you can stand up and sing in church without shame.

A week ago I stood at the corner of the Grand Pacific hotel, Chicago, scrutinizing the Board of Trade building, which is, according to the architects, peeling off in places and falling on a pardoned anarchist once in awhile. Then a voice was seen approaching from a distance. It said: "Oh, sir, could you, for the love of heaven, give me a quarter? I am starving. It has been over six weeks since food has passed my lips."

I looked up indignantly to how a man looked after that kind of treatment. I never went that long without food myself, but I kept long by boarding at the Phenix hotel in Hopkinsville, Ky.

I was a little startled, for I at once recognized the man.

It was a cab driver who used to drive from the Port Wayne depot. With a glad smile I seized his hand.

"Did you not at one time drive a cab between the depot and hotels?" I asked.

"Yes, from the Port Wayne depot," he cried eagerly, licking his chops.

"Well, I thought I knew you!" I exclaimed, reaching for my pocketbook and writing a line for him on a blank leaf. "Here is a receipt in full for that half dollar you chiseled out of me during the World's fair. It is not much, but it will help."

With these words I went on down town, happy in the thought that I had done a good act and glad also that I have a good memory for faces.

We got talking about mean men then, and every evening we forgot that we were in the green room before the curtain rang up on our "copy."

Hackett of Auburn, Me., was telling of a man there, who had the same name as his father, who was in the same business in another town. He had to do a weekly market report and used to open the envelope by steaming it. Then, copying the report, he would put it back in the envelope, stick it together, strike out a word address excepting the name and forward it to his father, saving the sum of 2 cents each week, which was divided between the two at the end of each month.

Then Mr. Smith told of a neighbor of his whose son died, and the grief-stricken father went to town to pick up a misfit coffin. He got one at half price that had been returned some years ago to the undertaker. It was rather short, but the old man took it, hoping that he could get his son into it before the body became too big to go.

He was delayed, however, by muddy roads, and when he got home he found that it would be impossible to put his son in the coffin.

This hotel was erected in 1831 regardless of cost, the ground alone, which stood costing over $12. As it began to put on more airs in 1832, the Indians were not allowed to eat at the first table unless they came from Virginia.

For breakfast, the menu was tea and eggs. Lunch consisted of bear meat and rhubarb pie. Fresh rhubarb was sent in each week by a Louisville pharmacist.
